

Whitmore Has All the Requisites to Be an Outstanding Mayor

GOP May One Day Beckon Him Back for Spot on State Ticket

Newton's municipal problems will be in extremely capable hands with Howard Whitmore, Jr., at the head of the city government.

There never was any real doubt as to Whitmore's election, if anything approaching a normal number of voters went to the polls, but political writers have learned by hard experience not to count the votes in any election before they are cast.

Whitmore has demonstrated that he has the training, the background and the character to make an excellent Mayor of his home city and probably an outstanding one.

It's somewhat ironical that he now must resign from the chairmanship of the House ways and means committee in the State Legislature, a position toward which he worked as a legislator and into which he was suddenly thrust by the death of another member.

100 Protest Increase in Lot Minimums at Public Hearing

The proposed increase in minimum lot size requirements, designed to slow down the rapid pace of local housing developments, drew the fire of more than 100 Newton residents and builders last week at a public hearing in City Hall.

In answer to fears voiced by many of the protestors, Ernest G. Angevine, chairman of the aldermen's Claims and Rules Committee, assured those attending that lot subdivisions already established would not be affected by the new limitations, when and if they become law.

Edward C. Proctor of 78 Glen avenue, Newton Centre, who appeared as spokesman for a group of prominent Newton housing developers, claimed the change would result in a great hardship for the builders and would severely damage the city, since proper development is in Newton's interest.

Mr. Proctor cited records of the Assessing Department to show there has been no rush of cheap home building in the city. Of 328 houses erected recently in portions of Wards 3 and 5, the average assessment was $16,760.

He pointed out that an assessment of $8700 per house was estimated to cover the expenses incurred by the city in servicing each home.

Districts which are most likely to be affected, Mr. Proctor continued, have already been largely developed and have assumed their "form and character." He stated that if the purpose of the zoning law amendment is — PROTEST — (Continued on Page 10)

To Create 8th Newton Ward; Needs Legislative Approval

Despite an accusation that the plan was "ducking politics," a re-organization of Newton into eight wards was voted 16-2 Monday by the aldermen following two years of study by the Ward Lines Committee.

The aldermen instructed City Solicitor Matt B. Jones to draw up a bill for the redistribution of the voting balance. The bill must be approved by the state legislature before any action can be taken. Ward 8 will be composed of Precincts 1, 4, 7 and part of 6 from Ward 5.

Alderman V. Stoddard Bigelow attacked the proposal presented by Alderman Hersh Sharf, chairman of the Ward Lines Committee, as "going about this the wrong way." He suggested that a redistribution of voters would be a better plan.

Alderman Sharf explained the city must act now or else Newton would be saddled with the present unequal wards for another 10 years. He said his committee had conducted hearings in every section of the city and had found virtually no objection to the 8-ward, 24-aldermen plan.

Regarding the floor, Alderman Bigelow charged the plan was "ducking politics" and intimidated the board did not dare to change the ward lines.

Under the proposal, there will also be an additional school committee member, so that the eighth ward will be represented. The four main aldermanic committees will have from six to eight members at the discretion of the board.

Voting against allowing the city solicitor to draw up the bill was Alderman Earle D. Wood as well as Mr. Bigelow.

The new ward schedule, as originally outlined by Mr. Sharf, follows: Ward 1. A. Add Silver Lake area Precinct 3 of Ward 2, and extend boundary to Crafts to California street to Wyoming street to Charles River.

B. Add part of Precinct 1, Ward 6, bounded by Centre street, Commonwealth avenue and Morton street.

Original number of voters in Ward 1, approximately 4000. Added 1400, New Total, 5400.

Ward 2. A. Deduct Section added to Ward 1, Original number of voters in Ward 2, approximately 4000.

Store Window New Classroom For 2 Grades

Children from two Newton schools will learn their three R's next week in a store window at the Chestnut Hill shopping center in an effort to demonstrate today's educational methods to Newton residents who have almost forgotten their own school days.

Because so many Newton non-parents find little time to visit their community school, first graders from the Lincoln-Elliott School and sixth graders from the Emerson School will share their learning activities with these people on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

This will be an opportunity for many Newton residents to attain their first view of children in "today's" school.

This effort is in conjunction with National Education Week. The theme for Education Week is: "Better Schools Are Your Responsibility."

Schools throughout the city of Newton have extended a hearty welcome to all residents to visit their community school next week.

Mayor-Elect

HOWARD WHITMORE

Miss Ball First Woman to Win Aldermanic Post

Rep. Howard Whitmore Jr., was chosen as the next mayor of Newton by a smashing six to one landslide Tuesday as nearly 47 per cent of the registered voters cast their ballots in the city election.

The mayor's salary increase from $9000 to $12,000 a year was approved by less than a 1000-vote margin, and precedent was broken when Adelaide B. Ball was elected ward alderman from Ward 1, the first woman to be chosen in the history of Newton.

Although the campaign for the city's highest office was overshadowed by some of the aldermanic campaigns, none of the aldermen seeking re-election were defeated, and all were returned by comfortable margins.

A recount may be in prospect in Ward 3, where the race for ward alderman was decided by a scant 60 votes. Unless a recount is sought, Charles H. Cosgrove stands as the winner with 1174 votes over Charles H. Meeker of 20 Adella avenue, West Newton, who drew 1114 ballots.

The turnout of 20,810 voters came as a surprise to some observers. The last city election two years ago drew out only 40 per cent of those registered, while Tuesday the figure was close to 47 per cent.

In addition to the successful Ward 1 candidate, two other women also were seeking aldermanic posts. Neither came close to election.

Eight new faces will appear in the Board of Aldermen next year as the result of the election. They are John W. Whittemore of 43 Otis street, Newtonville, alderman at large from Ward 2; John P. Nixon of 40 Fountain street, West Newton, alderman-at-large from Ward 3; William P. Ripley of 83 Pleasant street, Newton Centre, alderman at large from Ward 6; Adelaide Ball of 35 Waban street, Newton, alderman from Ward 1; Stuart M. Spaulding of 136 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville; Charles H. Cosgrove of 47 Cherry street, West Newton, alderman from Ward 3; Harry H. Ham Jr. of 457 Wolcott street, Auburndale, alderman from Ward 4; and William M. Powers of 3 Vernon street, Newton, alderman from Ward 7.

With the exception of the contests for ward aldermen from Wards 1 and 3, all those elected romped to victory.

Only two newcomers were — ELECTION — (Continued on Page 10)

Mrs. Roosevelt to Speak at Beaver Day School

Miss Janet McCreery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. McCreery, of 43 Rosalie road, Newton Centre, is chairman of the Student Committee which is bringing Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to The Beaver Country Day School on Thursday to address a large conference celebrating United Nations Day.

Another member of the committee is Miss Lee Whiteley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Whiteley of 1564 Commonwealth avenue, West Newton.

Mr. John B. Learson will be in charge of a group of students representing the Warren Junior High School and Robert S. Harris will lead the High School boys and girls. Thirty-nine other independent, public and parochial high schools have been invited to this Fourth Annual All-School Forum.

"Unifying the Free Nations" is the theme of the conference arranged by Miss McCreery's committee in cooperation with Dan H. Fenn of the United Council on World Affairs. Plans call for an opening assembly at 10 a.m. with Christian Science Monitor Editor as the key-note. This will be followed by discussion groups and a large afternoon meeting addressed by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Miss McCreery will greet the delegates from the platform in the morning. Plans also call for an invocation given by the Rev. Charles R. Flanagan of St. Sebastian's Day School and a prayer by the Rev. Nathaniel M. Gupitill of the First Congregational Church in Newton.

Noisy Throng Cheers, Claps For Objections

Heartened by the support of Reps. Irene K. Thresher and Howard Whitmore, Jr., 400 persons jammed into Newton City Hall Monday night to lend noisy support to the pleas of 18 speakers against the proposed garbage-boiling plan at the city incinerator.

"Keep Newton the Garden City, not the Garbage City" was the theme of the protests, which took nearly an hour to be heard. Persons living in the vicinity of the incinerator attacked the boiling as a source of noxious odors, public nuisance from garbage hauling past their homes, danger to children and a drop in property values.

After hearing the objections, the Board of Aldermen voted in executive session to reach a final decision on the garbage proposal at its November 14 meeting.

The only speaker who represented the city at the public hearing was Willard S. Pratt, director of public works, who spent nearly a half-hour explaining the city's stand in the matter.

Mr. Pratt was interrupted throughout by persons unable to understand what he was saying, as the public address system, — HEARING — (Continued on Page 10)

"The monies raised in this campaign are the sole support of the tuberculosis control work of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association," emphasized Mrs. Pinkham.

Returns From Korea

Donald H. Nash, IC3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Nash of 200 Church street, Newton, was among the Massachusetts men aboard the U.S.S. Purdy, which arrived at the State Pier, Fall River last Tuesday.

Nash is a graduate of the Newton High School, the Massachusetts Radio School in Boston, and the Naval Technical School at Great Lakes, Ill. He is a Petty Officer Third Class Interior Communication Electrician, and is married and residing with his wife and young son at 40 Cypress street, Newton Center.

The Purdy has the distinction of being the only Atlantic based destroyer to have served two tours of duty in Korean waters and to have circumnavigated the globe twice, once from East to West and then from West to East, in less than two years. The first Korean duty was with their own destroyer Division 122, but the second was with destroyer Division 161 to which they were attached.

First Number Of "School Age" Issued

The first issue of the '53-'54 Newton School Age, quarterly publication of the Newton Schools off the press this week and was taken home by Newton's 14,000 school children.

It featured the story of parents getting into and teaching in one elementary school, plans for observing American Education Week, and a new department, "Facts, mostly about your schools" which tickled off interesting aspects of Newton schools from animals in the science classrooms to the Building Committee's study of low-cost school housing.

Quotations from recent speeches by Gov. Herter and former US Commissioner of Education to the Mass. Congress of PTA's, attesting the importance of PTA's and of parents asserting their interest in better schools, are only a part of the mention of PTA's every page of School Age. Page 4 is solidly PTA, listing the PTA Council's program, its important committees and their chairman, along with articles on the public school skating program, the open meeting at Pierce School, West Newton, Dec. 1, when Dr. Herold Hunt, formerly Supt. of Schools in Chicago is to speak. Parents will also find a helpful suggestion on buying books as Christmas presents for children.

School Age is the School Department's means of keeping Newton citizens informed about what the schools are trying to do. Articles are written under the editorial supervision of Walter M. Taylor, a teacher in the high school and the Junior College who is also president of the PTA Council in Natick. PTA material is worked up by Mrs. Meyer Ritvo of Newton, the PTA Council's representative on the Board of Editors. Others contributing to Vol. 9, No. 1 include John P. Cullen of Warren Jr. High, Charlotte Forgeron, principal of the Murray Road School in West Newton, Ruth M. Twiss and T. J. Cutting of the senior high school, Dorothy M. Stewart, Edythe Clark, and Elvajan Hall of the Division of Instruction, Edward M. Boutler of the Technical-Vocational School manages production.

Rev. Myron W. Fowell to Address Council of Church Women

The Rev. Myron W. Fowell, Chairman of the Committee on Legislation of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the Newton Council of Church Women. It will take place at 2 o'clock this Monday, in the First Baptist Church of Newton, in Newton Centre Square, with Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president, presiding. The program is open to the general public as well as to the delegates of the twenty-four member churches.

Dr. Fowell will speak on the theme of what our churches can do to help prevent juvenile delinquency. His topic is in connection with the state-wide approach to the juvenile delinquency problem which begins this month among the 1,500,000 constituents of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

Dr. Fowell has been instrumental in launching an educational campaign relative to the treatment and prevention of crime. He is the co-ordinator of the efforts of local churches in obtaining speakers, adopting projects, and in planning educational programs. In addition to his position on the state Council of Churches, he is a member of the Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Crime Commission.

The program preceding the speaker will feature the annual observance of World Community

Day. The theme this year is "What Do Ye More Than Others," and the project, "From Our Homes to Their Homes." The devotions, conducted by Mrs. George Brookhiser, Chairman of Christian International Relations, will emphasize the needs of refugees in all countries, and the offering will be sent to help their needs in Korea, Hong Kong, India, Pakistan, the Near East, Berlin, Trieste, and other parts of Europe. "Helps For Homes" offers to all church women an opportunity to be positive in good will, and from this meeting to Church World Service will go cartons containing warm, light-weight blankets and quilts, sturdy sheets and pillow cases, bright wash cloths and towels, and cheerful serviceable curtains, drapes, and table cloths.

The plea to share something serviceable has been sent to 19,000 communities in the United States by the General Department of United Church Women of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., which lists the following emergency needs among refugees:—

The Church in Berlin needs blankets in reception centers where refugees arrive at the rate of 3,000 per day.

Arab refugees have spent four winters sleeping in ragged tents. Homeless children in Korea sleep in railway stations; newspapers are a luxury, and are often used as covering. European refugees sleep in straw filled burlap bags; only the camp infirmary has sheets for the sick.

300,000 Chinese refugees are living in Hong Kong, where the population has increased from 800,000 to 2 1/2 million.

Famine conditions in India and Pakistan have forced people to leave their native villages to work for 14¢ per day, to live in lean-to shacks made of branches.

Greetings to the Newton Council of Church Women at the first of their four yearly meetings will be extended by Mrs. John W. Brush, president of the Woman's Union, and by the Rev. Russell H. Bishop, minister of the host church.

ARTHUR K. HEANEY

Heaney to Be Candidate For Representative

Arthur K. Heaney of Newton Highlands announces that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination to succeed Howard Whitmore as Representative to the General Court from the 5th Middlesex district, when Mr. Whitmore resigns from that office.

In making known his plans, Mr. Heaney said "I feel it is in the interest of the voters that they be given full opportunity to examine the records and qualifications of candidates for this important office. Too often the actual period of time involved in special elections tends to restrict such opportunity, therefore I am announcing my plans now."

"My decision to be a candidate is based upon a strong desire to be of service to the people of Newton, together with the expressed belief of many civic-minded citizens that I have the necessary qualifications for the job. Newton enjoys an enviable reputation as to the calibre of its representation on Beacon Hill, and one which I will, if elected, do my utmost to uphold."

Mr. Heaney is an experienced accountant and administrator and is Assistant Treasurer and Controller of the American Conditioning House, a wool testing and textile research laboratory. He is a member of Boston Chapter, National Association of Cost Accountants and Boston Wool Trade Association.

Among his local activities Mr. Heaney has served the people of Oak Hill for more than 10 years as Director, Secretary and finally President of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association. Among the many residents of the district who have already indicated their intention to support Mr. Heaney's candidacy are: Herman Adelson, Earl B. Bourne,

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Whitmore probably would not have run for Mayor, if he could have foreseen that he was to assume one of the most important roles on Beacon Hill, but it was typical of the former Harvard pitcher that once he had made his decision and announced his candidacy for Mayor, he did not turn back.

He is one of the outstanding men in the Republican party, and while his election as Mayor will move him from the Beacon Hill scene, it's extremely possible that the G.O.P. one day in the future will beckon him for a position on its State ticket.

For many Newton voters it's going to be one election after another. Next on the agenda will be the special election to choose a successor to former Representative Christian A. Herter, Jr., and after that another special election to replace Whitmore in the House of Representatives.

Meeting of Democratic State Committee Saturday, Will Launch 1954 Campaign

Now that the results of the 1953 municipal elections have been written into the record books, politicians in both parties will begin looking ahead to the 1954 State campaign and the battle for control of Beacon Hill.

The Democrats will launch their drive next Saturday to regain the Governorship, even though they may not know for some time who their standard-bearer will be, and for the next 12 months both Democratic and Republican leaders will be under the political fire of opposing guns.

When Saturday's Democratic State Committee conclave originally was scheduled, it was expected that Adlai E. Stevenson, a Princeton graduate, was coming here to see his alma mater and Harvard play their traditional football game at the Stadium.

The latest information, however, is that Adlai is not making the trip to attend the colorful gridiron contest and ex-Governor Paul A. Dever will substitute for him to give some spark and color to the Democratic proceedings.

To stimulate a measure of interest in the session, the word has been spread that Dever will announce his political plans on Saturday and will tell his political listeners what, if anything, he will run for a year from now.

That is probably strictly a come-on. It is highly unlikely that Mr. Dever will disclose any decisions this Saturday, or that he will do anything more than deliver a speech designed to promote Democratic enthusiasm and activity.

Next April is the time most political on-lookers believe Mr. Dever will tell just what he intends to do and that until then the Democratic voters will have to wait and wonder who the top candidates on their State ticket will be.

One important development which may come on Saturday is that the Democratic State Committee is likely to vote to hold a Democratic State Convention next June.

Mr. Dever and most of his lieutenants in the State Legislature fought against the restoration of the old convention system of endorsing candidates for places on the rival State tickets, and Dever vetoed a bill passed by the State Legislature to bring back the convention.

But after the success the Republicans encountered following their convention in June of last year, when they put together a State ticket that had both racial and geographical balance and representation, the Democrats have practically decided that they will try the same thing themselves.

There isn't much question but that ex-Governor Dever will be the one who will make the decision on whether there will or will not be a Democratic State Convention. And although Dever is on record as against the idea, he is not one to pass up a device which might help his political party.

So the probability is that the nod will be given to the Democratic State Committee delegates and that after a fight over the measure they will vote to conduct a State Convention of their own next June.

Another thing gradually becoming apparent is that State Treasurer Foster Furcolo will shift his political gunsights and run for some other office next autumn.

Exactly what he does probably will depend on Dever. Furcolo might be a candidate for Governor, U. S. Senator or Attorney General, and he's one candidate who probably would be aided by a State Convention since a convention nomination would help him get the necessary votes in Greater Boston to survive a primary.

Furcolo, incidentally, shapes up as a very able office-holder who is gradually gaining increased prestige and respect and is an extremely likeable and personable individual. Next year's campaign will throw its shadow over the State House and will provide a background for the battles that will be waged when the State Legislature is convened in January.

Every move made during the legislative session will be designed to produce a political advantage for one side or the other, and there probably will be few instances where politics will be forgotten or side-tracked.

Governor Herter has found that any step he takes is the subject of immediate criticism from Democratic politicians, and the attacks will increase rather than lessen in the months ahead.

There are some indications that the G.O.P. is about ready to start fighting back. It is understood that the State Racing Commission is going to order all the race tracks in Massachusetts to make public the lists of their stockholders, and such lists not only might make interesting reading but would be likely to cause a measure of embarrassment for both Democrats and Republicans.

One of the things top Democratic politicians are still hoping to do is to persuade Boston's Mayor John B. Hynes to seek the Governorship next year. Hynes has repeatedly discouraged all such talk, but he hasn't been able to convince party leaders that he means what he says.

Hynes not only has his hands full with Boston's municipal problems, but he is one office-holder who is not ambitious for political advancement. An attempt might well be made to draft him at the Democratic State Convention next June, but Hynes has a habit of standing by the decisions he makes, and this is not likely to be any exception.

What he would prefer to do is remain apart from the political warfare and try to work the problems involved in running New England's capital city. But there will be few occasions when most other public officials will forget that another State campaign is not far away.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

Arrested by Los Angeles police on a burglary charge, Louis Gueret related that he had been thinking one night of robbing a nearby automobile agency, "and when a mosquito woke me up about 3 o'clock in the morning, I decided to get the job done." Maybe they should throw out a dragnet for the mosquito.

Special Service Department: The menu in Johnny's Cafe in Omaha carried this notice: "We will serve your drink in a coffee cup if your boss or client is at the next table."

Charles Gower, manager of a Dallas movie house, left the theatre with a friend on the police force and rushed to the scene of a disturbance to watch the excitement. On his return he discovered that two armed men had held up his box office and made off with $300. The grass is always greener in somebody else's yard!

Mayor George Dempster of Knoxville, Tenn., instructed members of his police department not to curse when making arrests because "a man ought to reserve profanity for his friends and not just spread it around."

LETTERS

TRULY REPRESENTATIVE

Editor, Newton Graphic:
We, the water meter readers of the City of Newton, wish to convey to you our sincere thanks and appreciation for the fine civic and community spirit displayed by your paper in publishing my letter in its entirety.

What makes America great is the freedom of the press. Here we can express our hopes, thoughts, desires and aspirations. Without this freedom, our Bill of Rights within the Constitution would lose its greatest asset.

Our beloved city is fortunate in having such a truly representative weekly newspaper.

EDWARD F. DURKIN

COMMUNITY EFFORT

Editor, Newton Graphic:
The 1953 Newton Halloween parties were outstandingly successful. Once again, Newton citizens have demonstrated the value of cooperative community effort in planning and promoting this city-wide celebration. On my visits to various parties throughout the city, I could feel the tingle of pride and enthusiasm which filled the air. The general plan of entertainment and activity clearly indicated that there are always new ideas and new ways of promoting good wholesome fun. Parents and children were truly enjoying Halloween.

Citizens throughout the community gave their time, their ideas and their interest to effectively guarantee the success of the parties. The staff of the Recreation Department expresses its sincere appreciation to all who worked so hard for the success of these parties.

Newton Halloween is truly an example of cooperative community effort. It is part of our community life. It has been a pleasure to have so many active and loyal workers. It has been fun to work together in the interests of all the children of Newton.

Mayor Lockwood Lauds Devotees To Newton Hallowe'en Parties

In commenting on the notably successful Halloween celebrations held in Newton the past thirteen years, Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood expressed his unstinted admiration for the fine civic spirit and unselfish cooperation which has made them possible.

"I cannot," he said, "adequately voice the thoughts that lie deep in my heart. By virtue of my office as the administrative head of the City of Newton, my greatest source of pride has, I think, stemmed from the fact that I am the Mayor of a City which I think has no parallel for such warm-hearted community spirit as is evidenced by our Halloween parties. Such spirit is an invaluable asset to the City. It is what has helped make Newton a fine place in which to live, and a fine place in which to work, a fine place in which to bring up children—a city with an enviable reputation for all-in-oneness from coast to coast."

"Our Halloween parties were not conceived just in the light of entertainment for our school children. They were not conceived simply to keep children off the streets on a night that from time immemorial has been the occasion for pranks of varying degrees of seriousness. True, these controlled parties have been the means of lessening property damage in Newton. But they have done so not through restraint, but through teaching — for through them there has been instilled in boys' and girls' minds an underlying respect for private property, as well as other principles that are fundamental in training for good citizenship. What I want to point out is that the primary objectives of our Halloween parties have a broad and deep significance of which every child is repeatedly aware from the time he enters kindergarten until he graduates from senior high school. I am happy to say that, without question, the basic purposes of Newton's Halloween celebrations are being successfully achieved."

"For that reason — for the reason that their cooperation and efforts have an important bearing on Newton's future — I want to take this opportunity to speak my appreciation to all who have had a hand in the preparation and execution of this thirteenth annual observance of Halloween. I want to pay tribute, first of all, to the more than four hundred men and women who have given weeks of time to arranging programs for the two hundred and fifty separate neighborhood parties. They are parents, they are teachers, they are citizens who have enthusiastically thrown themselves into a task that was far from easy — and who ask no greater reward than the satisfaction of having done their job well. May I unequivocally say that they have."

"My appreciation as an official of the City goes, also, to the Newton Recreation Department which has each year sponsored the parties and has exercised all-over supervision; to the School Department, without whose active cooperation, these celebrations could not exist; I want, certainly, to express my gratitude to the Newton Chamber of Commerce which, each year, has assumed the burden of soliciting funds from manufacturers, merchants and private citizens, in order to help defray part of the moderate expenses of the parties; and I wish to thank, too, those who made such contributions. I am not unmindful, also, that a large share of the credit for the sustained interest in our annual celebrations belongs to the newspapers which have so willingly and generously given costly space to record the progress being made each week by the many party committees. In offering my sincere thanks to these publications I wish to add my conviction that their aid has been of incalculable benefit."

"All in all, Newton's Halloweens are an incomparable example of collective devotion to a common cause. They are a tribute not only to those who have been active in promoting them, but to our citizens as a whole who, by their good neighborliness, provide the benign and fertile soil without which such a glowing civic endeavor could not conceivably take root and flourish."

Many Reports Received On Thermal Insecticidal Fogging

Numerous explosions and fires originating in thermal insecticidal fogging operations in the home have been reported from all sections of the country. The process consists of spraying a solution containing an insecticide such as DDT, toxaphene, chlordane, etc., into a stream of hot air or steam or onto a hot surface. The heat, pressure and turbulence transforms the spray into a billowy aerosol which is then blown into the area to be treated. Aerosols are extremely fine suspensions of solid or liquid particles in air or gas, such as smoke, fog or mist. For effective dispersion of the insecticide, the particles must approximate in size those of fog which is between smoke and mist.

Most accidents have occurred because pilot lights were not extinguished or electrical switches were left connected to their power source. In one case an operator attempted to use a home-made formula in which he substituted naphtha in place of a high-flash point liquid.

Instructions furnished by the manufacturer of the fogging unit should be carefully observed and, in addition, the following precautionary measures are recommended:

1. Evacuate all personnel except the essential operators from the building being treated.
2. Only experienced, responsible personnel who are thoroughly familiar with operating instructions and attendant fire safeguards should be permitted to operate the fogging unit.
3. The local fire chief should be informed of the fogging operations with full details as to location, time and materials to be used.
4. The use of equipment and insecticide formulations listed by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., is recommended. No oil carrier should be used in thermal fog generators that has a flash point lower than kerosene; the carrier should have a flash point at least 40 degrees higher than the surrounding temperature of the area being fogged. As a maximum, use one gallon of insecticide for 50,000 cubic feet for indoor fogging.
5. In exterior operations involving areas beneath buildings, the same safety precautions as required for interior fogging should apply. Accidental entry of heavy concentrations of fog into basements through open windows or openings must not be overlooked.
6. All fires, open flames and similar sources of ignition should be eliminated from the space being fogged. Shut off main gas control valve and determine by visual inspection that all pilot lights, fires and any other open flames have been extinguished. Gas service should only be restored by an authorized company service man after the building has been made safe.
7. All electric power to the building should be disconnected by opening the main control switch and the telephone also disconnected, unless nonflammable fluid formulas are used with due regard for all other safety precautions outlined.

8. The fog should not be blasted directly against any combustible object or material. A distance of at least 10 feet should be provided between the nozzle for the hose outlet.

9. The temperature gauge should be read and checked at frequent intervals, and if the temperature rises above normal the equipment should be shut down at once. Excessive temperatures may cause "cracking" of the insecticide fluid into a highly flammable gas or vapor.

10. Buildings and areas must be thoroughly ventilated before permitting re-occupancy. As an added precaution at least 24 hours should be allowed before entering the building.

11. Warning placards should be posted in the vicinity of the building being fogged and all persons kept away from the area and no open flames allowed until the area is declared safe.

Such buildings that require this type of "cleaning" should be done only by companies that are equipped to do this work and that are known to do it safely.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen T. Fogwill of 47 Davis Avenue, West Newton, left last Friday for San Anselmo, Calif., to spend the winter there with their son Benjamin Fogwill.

TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

When December rolls around, it will mark a full quarter century for one of radio's oldest, coast to coast musical shows. We're speaking of the Voice of Firestone. The veteran program is an older on television, too, this being its 6th TV year.

There have been few major changes in the nature of the show since it first went on the air on Dec. 3, 1928. It then presented, and it has continued to offer, some of our finest singers from the operatic and concert stages, a mixed choral group and a symphonic orchestra. For the past 10 seasons, Howard Barrow has been conductor of the orchestra. Our best wishes for a Happy Silver Anniversary.

Julius LaRosa fans who will miss him on the Arthur Godfrey show will still have plenty of opportunity to see and hear him on TV . . . for the singer was immediately signed by Ed Sullivan for his "Toots of the Town" show, with Julius to appear as often as he wants.

Plaudits are still pouring in for Orson Welles' performance as King Lear on the Ford Foundation's TV "OmniBus". Too bad this show won't be re-run for those who couldn't see it . . . but there's no doubt now that Welles has carved a big role for himself in the TV drama picture. Accurate adjustment and tuning play a big part in your TV sets performance . . . When our experts install a brand new Syntonia TV set in your home, you can be sure of top performance.

13 in Protest Of Radio Pole On Waban Hill

An attempt by the Boston Post to erect a pole on lofty Waban Hill for a radio-telephone hook-up drew the fire of irate Chestnut Hill residents Monday night at a hearing before the Board of Aldermen.

Although a technical advisor for the telephone company testified there should be no objection to the pole, 13 property owners on the hill strongly disagreed.

Post representatives explained the system would link the newspaper's headquarters to reporters' cars, and was only a temporary measure until the Post completes construction of its new office building in Boston. They said there would be no television or radio interference from the transmission.

The spokesman for the protesters, George Burke of 107 Waban Hill road, Chestnut Hill, said the residents were "opposed to commercialization of the area" and said many living in that area had not been notified of the hearing.

Victor Barrow of 106 Waban Hill road told the aldermen that the hill "soon would be bristling with poles" if one firm was allowed to locate there. Several others also entered their objections to the pole location.

One of the speakers disclosed that Mt. Alvernia Academy, who is located prominently on the hill, also had not been officially notified of the hearing.

The Post's petition was held for further discussion by the Franchises and Licenses Committee.

Holy Name Choir of Our Ladys Church Plans Active Season

One of the most active organizations of its kind in Greater Boston is the Holy Name Choir of Our Lady's Help of Christians Parish, Newton. The first meeting of the choir was held in October, 1951, when some half dozen interested members of the Holy Name Society started weekly rehearsals, for the purpose of providing the musical portion of the regular monthly Holy Name Mass, celebrated on the second Sunday of each month. The rehearsals being under the direction of Miss Florence Herlihy, organist. The choir made its first public appearance in December of that year, and also sang at one of the Masses on Christmas Day.

Since that time the original group of six men has grown to 30, and the choir can now be heard regularly each Sunday at the 11:30 a.m. Mass. It also provides musical programs for the Novenas and other special services.

Among the group, none of whom are professional vocalists will be found salesmen, painters, carpenters, college professors, school teachers, traffic managers, etc.

In addition to selections prepared in modern notation the choir is extending its library to hymns arranged in Gregorian Chant, that form of giving praise to God which has come down through the centuries, and was, until recently, used exclusively by congregations of monastic orders in various parts of the world.

The members have been most regular in attendance, and a large number have availed themselves of the opportunity to attend the classes in Liturgical Music being conducted two Monday evenings a month at The Newton College of the Sacred Heart under the supervision of Rev. Edward Buecler of the Corpus Christi parish, Auburndale. It is expected that the entire membership will attend the next class which is to be held on Monday evening, November 9th at eight o'clock. These classes are open to members of all choirs in the archdiocese of Boston.

Whitmore Commends Those Who Aided Hallowe'en Effort in City

General chairman of the Newton Halloween celebrations, Howard Whitmore, Jr., lauded the efforts of the parents who had given unstintingly of their time to assure the parties success.

Annually, these Parties have become more successful, reflecting your careful and capable planning, selection of programs and enthusiastic direction of activities. The pleasures and benefits of this important civic and community event have been enjoyed by children and grown-ups alike. You and all the people of our city should feel justly proud of the contribution you have so generously made to such a worthwhile project.

To Commissioner C. Evan Johnson, to supervisor Nicholas Tedesco and to all workers in the Recreation Department which sponsors the Parties and especially to Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard, whose capable and tireless leadership for so many years has been an inspiration, we owe particular thanks for taking the lead in these annual gala affairs. Further, I wish to convey my gratitude to the Mayor and to the People in the other Municipal Departments without whose ready assistance we could not function so smoothly and safely. To the School Superintendent, Mr. Gores the principals, teachers and custodians, we extend appreciation. We are indebted to the clergy of all faiths for their active and helpful support. The Chamber of Commerce as usual, with Mr. Rupert C. Thompson in the lead role has cheerfully solicited over five thousand business organizations and citizens for small contributions which when added to the funds provided in the budget of the Recreation Department, supply the ever essential means to carry on the programs and provided the refreshments. Thanks, also to the Red Cross.

in the fields of English and history, according to Mr. Fred C. Alexander, chairman of the Board of Trustees. Formerly a teacher, she has served as president of the Wellesley Club of Quincy and has had a broad and varied experience in many phases of community activity. She is the mother of two sons.

The Homestead is starting off its fall season with visits from a number of special groups who are being given guided tours of the house. High school students participating in the two student exchanges scheduled for this year are receiving some of their instruction regarding the history of Newton at the Homestead.

Club and church groups wishing to meet at the Homestead for special programs on Newton or on historical subjects may make arrangements by calling the office, DE 2-3920.

Mr. Alexander points out further that furnishings of the period of 1809 or earlier, and smaller items of historical value including documents and pictures, will be gratefully accepted as gifts or loans. The special attention of people who have charge of the settling of estates in Newton is called to this matter.

Regular visiting hours will be continued from Tuesdays through Saturdays from three to five. Guides will be on duty to welcome visitors of all ages. New acquisitions are constantly being placed on display assuring that return visits will be rewarding.

the Parent Teacher Associations, and the various civic organizations whose spirited aid is indispensable.

I am most appreciative of the excellent newspaper publicity coverage provided through the combined efforts of Mr. Emil F. Haberstroh and our local newspapers. I am also indebted to Mrs. Meyer Ritvo for her special contribution of publicity through other channels.

The Dance at the Totem Pole was an inspiring spectacle. John Hobbs, President of the Newton High School Associates combined the efforts and talents of the Associates into an excellent promotional effort. Mr. Raymond Green, principal of the High School, faculty members and parents lent their guidance and support to this student managed program. The major credit however must go to Mr. Thomas L. Gill, owner of the Totem Pole Ballroom, who each year has made the Totem Pole available exclusively for the Halloween Dance for our Newton young men and women of High School age.

"Again, may I thank all of you for support. I hope you share with me a feeling of satisfaction in a job well done."

—GRAPHIC SPORTS—

Newton High School's surprising gridsters were out-rushed, outpassed, out first-downed, out-intercepted and out-played for a good part of Saturday afternoon but still managed to drop a tough Medford eleven, 12-0, for its sixth straight victory. . . . A rock-ribbed defense in the shadow of its own goalposts, plus two dazzling touchdown thrusts for 50 and 75 yards, respectively, in the first and final quarters, kept the Orange and Black victory skein intact.

Although the game was billed as the battle between the eagle-eyed passes of Newton quarterback Art DeStefano and the running of speedily Lou Edgerly, it was a supporting player who stole the show. Right halfback Lou Kahlenbeck dominated the game with his dauntless fielding of Medford punts, his savage defensive play and his spectacular dash of 75 yards to paydirt that sewed up the decision for Newton.

Kahlenbeck's fourth-period sprint was as pretty a run as anyone could hope to see in a schoolboy game. The Medford punter got off a high boot which didn't travel too far, and the ball was coming straight down when Lou maneuvered underneath. Ninety-nine out of a hundred players would have let the ball drop, as three Medford defenders were pounding down upon him only a few short yards away. . . . Just as the ball was about to fall, Lou reached forward for a shoe-string, end-of-the-fingers grab. The catch took the crowd's breath away in itself, but that was only the beginning. . . . Unleashing his tremendous stride, Lou was beyond the three tacklers before they could do more than wave at him. At midfield the patch ahead was clogged with defenders, but Kahlenbeck cut back neatly into a horde of orange and black jerseys. . . . One Medfordite dove at Kahlenbeck's flying feet at the 35, tripping him slightly. Lou regained his stride, however, and continued unmolested into the end zone. . . . Newton's first touchdown was a similar bolt-from-the-blue affair. After forcing Medford to punt in the opening minutes of the game, Newton took over on the midfield stripe. DeStefano—who rarely runs the ball—started to circle his left end. The Medford secondary, although alerted to the play, fell for Art's feint like a baby reaching for a bright lollipop. When he paused to throw downfield, three Newton receivers were in the clear surrounding the lone Medford safetyman. . . . DeStefano tossed a strike to end Billy Reilly on the 20, and Billy could have walked backward into the end zone had he wanted to.

These two plays were virtually the sum total of the Newton offense for the afternoon, as Medford had the ball for 55 plays, compared to Newton's 31. With the exception of that 50-yard pass play, the Orange and Black could gain only 22 yards passing and 53 yards rushing. . . . Too much credit cannot be given to the Newton line which beat back attack after attack to keep its season total of points against down to 28.

On the series of downs following the Newton's opening-period score, Ray Acheson—a tremendous defensive end despite his small stature—crashed into the Medford backfield to block an attempted punt, giving the Orange and Black possession on the Medford 12. . . . Newton ground yardage to the Medford one and appeared well on its way to a lop-sided victory. But DeStefano couldn't find the handle on the next snap from center and Medford took over. A surprise pass from punt formation caught Newton napping, and from that point on Medford dominated the game. . . . Late in the second period, Medford took to the air. Two passes gobbled up 43 yards to place the pigskin on the Newton 15. Time ran out, though, before another play was run off. . . . Then, as Newton tried to move with the second-half kickoff, a Medford backer latched on to an errant up-the-middle short pass and nearly broke into the open. DeStefano, who threw the misguided pass, had to make his first tackle of the season on his own 24 to save a tie score. . . . The Mustangs drove down to the Newton 11 for a first down, but a fourth-down play through the middle of the line was halted at the three. . . . Billy Hammill punted Newton out of trouble close to midfield, and although Medford surged back to the 17, the Mustangs never again seriously threatened.

Lou Edgerly, Medford's stellar halfback, failed to impress despite rave notices this season. He flashed to a pair of long runs on interceptions—one of which was called back on an offside penalty—but his total gain from scrimmage was only 11 yards for the afternoon. . . . The Newton line, especially the ends, kept Edgerly contained all afternoon and stopped the Medford backfield from breaking away—which was the Mustangs' main threat.

Press box observers termed the game one of the most poorly officiated ever seen. On Newton's touchdown pass, the lone Medford defender was cut down on a perfect block while the ball was still in the air, a clear-cut case of offensive interference. . . . And on Kahlenbeck's TD sprint, a clip was missed by the men in the striped shirts. Some rooters by the goal line claimed that Ereole Iafate had scored on the play before DeStefano's fumble at the Medford one, and several Medford officials also went unnoticed. . . . Newton's fine line play greatly heartened Newton rooters who are already looking forward to the Waltham clash November 14 as a meeting of undefeateds. The only injury suffered was by fullback Bob Lee, who aggravated a muscle pull en route to a touchdown. It was the first time in two games that he carried the ball. . . . This Saturday the Orange and Black travels to Quincy. Newton should win this one as well, but anything can happen when an unbeaten squad meets a good team which has everything to win and nothing to lose.

Our Lady's suffered its fourth loss in five games Sunday afternoon at Allison Park when once-beaten Matignon swept to a 28-7 victory. . . . Our Lady's averted a shutout in the last minute of play when reserve end Bob Bracken made a diving snatch in the end zone of Kevin Connolly's 13-yard toss. . . . St. Sebastian's met a similar fate at the hands of Immaculate Conception High of Revere by a 25-12 count.

SPECIAL ELECTION NOV. 17, 1953

ERNEST G. ANGEVINE, 95 Prince Street, West Newton

"Of all the men I served with on the Board, in my opinion none have served more earnestly, untiringly, and effectively than Don Gibbs. His willingness to run for the State Legislature should not be passed up by the voters of his district."

FRED C. ALEXANDER

"I served on the Finance Committee under Don Gibbs as Chairman. His open-mindedness, in approaching every problem, his sincere consideration for others, his successful business experience and his mature judgment were apparent in everything he did and will make him an outstanding member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives."

ERNEST G. ANGEVINE

"I served on the Board with Don Gibbs when he was Chairman of the Finance Committee and Off-Street Parking Committee. He is in my estimation, honest, experienced and willing to work, and should be elected."

JOSEPH B. DAVIS

"As a result of the intimate relationship served with Don Gibbs on the Board for years, I believe he has the qualifications which make him fitted to serve as a member of the House of Representatives, and that the citizens of Newton will do well in electing him to that office."

WARNER EUSTIS

"It was my pleasure to work along with Don Gibbs when we were members of the Board and to see the wisdom and thoroughness which Mr. Gibbs displayed in his work. I know that Don as our State Representative from this district will continue his able, honest and efficient work in our behalf."

MAXWELL P. GADDIS

"Don Gibbs has legislative and business experience plus sound, mature judgment. The residents of this District are entitled to and should have his kind of responsible characteristics to represent us. If the Republican voters can be informed on the facts and the issues at stake, I am sure they will all vote and cast their ballots for Don Gibbs."

WILLIAM R. MATTSO

"I am most happy to support the candidacy of Don Gibbs as Representative from this District. Newton would be most fortunate to be represented by a man of his integrity, ability and experience."

CARL F. SCHIPPER, JR.

Furthermore, he has a friendly spirit of co-operation and boundless courage. These are the traits which I believe will make him an outstanding Legislator."

Miss Avery to Lecture at Second Church Guild November 24th

The World Service Guild of the Second Church met recently at the home of the director, Mrs. Anton Fried in West Newton to discuss plans for the illustrated lecture to be presented by Miss Eunice Harriet Avery on Tuesday evening, November 24, under the sponsorship of the Guild. Miss Avery's subject will be "The World Meets in Africa." The problems—social, political, economic and spiritual—of an Africa choosing its future will be described by the well-known lecturer. That future is of intense concern to the world and its peace.

To gather pictures and material on Africa, Miss Avery travelled from Cape Town to Khartoum, and from the Indian Ocean to Dakar on the Atlantic. Government officials explained their hopes and fears. The Gold Coast, Nigeria, the Congo, Egyptian Sudan, Ethiopia and Liberia are headline news today and Miss Avery will bring these faraway places to her audience in terms of human beings and villages.

Her pictures include superb shots of the Mau Mau area around Fort Hall in Kenya, and Treetops in Nairobi where Princess Elizabeth learned that she had become a Queen.

The lecture under the auspices of the World Service Guild will be for the benefit of the "Talent Round-Up" of the Woman's Council. For this entire year, council members have worked at individual and group projects to raise the substantial funds required to carry on their work. Through the World Service Guild of the Council, this work extends to needy areas all over the world. Packages of food and clothing are sent to Korea, Greece, the Philippines, Italy, Norway, Africa and Germany.

The lecture will be in the Entertainment Hall of Second Church. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Fried, BI 4-7725, Mrs. Clifford James, LA 7-1027 and Mrs. Edward Barrows, LA 7-7149, or at the church office.

MR. AND MRS. MARTIN F. O'CONNOR

Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. O'Connor Celebrate Golden Wedding Day

The Golden Wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Martin F. O'Connor of 277 Homer street, Newton Centre, took place Saturday, October 24. Rather unusual was the presence of the original best man, Mr. Cornelius Lane of Wellesley Hills, and the maid of honor, Mrs. Thomas Foley of Newton.

The original bridal party left the home, in a limousine driven by the original cab company, to attend the 9:00 a.m. Anniversary Nuptial Mass at Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. Unusually too, as well as sentimental, is the fact that Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor were one of the first couples in Sacred Heart Parish to have been married at a Nuptial Mass.

The Anniversary Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Donald O'Connor, S. J., a nephew, and two grandsons, Brian and Paul O'Connor of Newton Centre, served as altar boys. Father O'Connor made a special trip from the Jesuit House in Connecticut for this event. Father Sullivan, Assistant Pastor, was on the altar, and at the end of mass joined with Fr. O'Connor in giving the special anniversary blessing. Another honor accorded the couple was in the chalice used by Fr. O'Connor. This chalice had belonged to Pope Pius XI and later Pius XII, and presented to Cardinal Spellman, former pastor of the Sacred Heart Church.

After the mass, the couple, cheered by the guests, and covered with traditional confetti thrown by a granddaughter, Miss Anne O'Connor of Newton Highlands, made their way back to the home where a reception was held with 75 guests present.

Mr. John O'Connor, on behalf of the family, presented the parents with gold wrist watches and gold bands. The children of the couple are: Mr. John O'Connor, Glen avenue, Newton Center, Dr. Frank O'Connor of Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Harry Stockman, Lexington street, Waltham. There are nine grandchildren.

Human Relations Group Voted 16-0 by Board of Aldermen

A human relations committee "to promote understanding and amicable relations between persons and groups in the city" was established by a 16-0 vote of the aldermen Monday night, although two of the aldermen expressed doubt as to how practical the group would prove.

The seven members of the committee will be appointed by the mayor with the approval of the Board of Aldermen. Those chosen should "provide representation of all major racial, religious and economic interests in the city." The committee will, among its activities, act as a "go-between" for private and public agencies which at present work independently of each other.

Alderman Leo M. Cannon, before joining in the unanimous approval of the new ordinance, said he was "reluctantly voting for it." He expressed doubt that the committee would be able to accomplish much.

Alderman Earle Wood also questioned what the committee might be able to accomplish, declaring he had "a definite number of reservations in mind." Mr. Wood termed the new committee "an experiment," which he hoped would not cost the city more than it is worth.

The committee is the outgrowth of more than eight months of deliberation. In February, a Jewish boy was badly beaten after leaving a dance in Newton Centre. Though some authorities tended to minimize the racial aspect of the attack, a wave of protest swept through the city and resulted in the formation of a human relations study group.

That group recommended the establishment of a permanent human relations committee as a definite part of the city government. The ordinance passed Monday is the result of the recommendations.

The ordinance, Article XXIV, Section 2142, follows: "The human relations committee shall consist of seven persons who shall be appointed by the mayor with the approval of the board of aldermen and who shall serve without compensation. Such persons shall be citizens of Newton and shall, so far as practicable, be so selected as to provide representation on the committee of all major racial, religious and economic interests in the city. Executive or administrative officers of city departments shall not be eligible to serve on the committee but may serve the same in an advisory capacity at the request of the committee. In the initial appointments of the members of said committee, two members shall be appointed to serve for a term of one year, two for a term of two years, and three for a term of three years until their successors are appointed. Thereafter the mayor shall annually appoint such number of members as there are terms expiring in such year to serve for a period of three years until their successors are appointed. Vacancies in the committee shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as original appointments for the period of the unexpired term. The committee shall choose annually from its members such officers as it shall deem desirable and may, to the extent of funds appropriated therefore, engage outside assistance.

Section 2143

"The purposes of the human relations committee shall be to promote understanding and amicable relations between persons and groups, juvenile and adult, in the city and to advise and assist other agencies, both public and private, concerned with such matters."

Just what the committee's functions would include was outlined at the request of Alderman Ernest G. Angevine in a report compiled by Rev. John Ogden Fisher of the West Newton Unitarian Church, with the aid of Superintendent of Schools Harold B. Gores, Rabbi Albert I. Gordon of Temple Emanuel and Prentiss L. Pemberton, who were all on the original committee.

According to their report, the group "will investigate any misunderstandings or hostilities which develop between persons or groups within the city, seek to clear up the situation before it comes to a point where police action is necessary."

The report continues, "When difficulties and misunderstandings arise, it is necessary to bring the disputants into conference at times. Often a conference with the committee will make court action unnecessary. Its program is preventative and curative, not punitive. At times it will be necessary to turn the whole program, with whatever evidence has been obtained, over to the police and the courts."

Mr. Fisher continued, "There is at present no co-ordination on a citywide basis between public and private agencies, nor is there any group or committee specifically charged with that responsibility. In some areas public and private agencies duplicate their efforts, while other areas are completely ignored. This committee will not set up a third competitive program, but will advise changes and adjustments which will make the efforts of existing agencies, both public and private, more effective."

State Ballot Law Commission Rejects Democratic Objection

An effort by the State Democratic Committee to have the name of John L. Sheehan of Newtonville barred from the ballot for the December 8 special election was rejected Tuesday by the State Ballot Law Commission.

However, Mr. Sheehan's appearance on the ballot as an independent candidate was not yet assured, as the case may be brought to the Supreme Court for a ruling.

The commission rejected the petition despite testimony of a handwriting expert hired by the State Democratic Party. The expert, Miss Elizabeth McCarthy of Boston, said she believed there was reason to invalidate 206 signatures on Mr. Sheehan's nominator papers.

Acting on a protest filed by a West Newton Democrat, the state Ballot Law Commission was scheduled to investigate this week the placing of the name of a Newtonville man as an independent candidate on the ballot for the special election for representative December 8.

The objection, which questioned the validity of a number of the signatures, was filed by James T. Flynn of 26 Stoneleigh road, West Newton. Mr. Flynn explained he was acting under the guidance of State Democratic Committee Chairman John C. Carr.

The Newton Board of Registrars certified 722 names on Mr. Sheehan's papers. Only 639 bona fide signatures are needed to have the candidate's name appear on the ballot as an independent.

A primary for the special election has been scheduled for November 18, with the final vote December 8. The election will fill the vacancy in the state legislature caused by the resignation of Christian A. Herter, Jr., who accepted a post in Washington with Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

Since Mr. Sheehan is running as an independent, his name will not appear on the primary ballot.

Community Club

Despite rainy weather, there was a good attendance at the Dessert, Bridge and Fashion Show, given to pay for a scholarship, by the Newton Community Club on October 29, at the Hunnewell Club.

After dessert at 1:30, the Style Show started, and continued for a large part of the afternoon. Newest on Wellesley's shop scene is the store opened at 28 Grove street. Stangren Pottery, occupying the space at the end of the Waban Block, next door to House of Sweets. Owned and managed by Mr. Stangren, the shop features hand crafted pottery lamps, sculpture and decorative ware made by Stangren himself, as well as Scandinavian glass in contemporary motifs and choice table linens. Ceramic supplies for the hobbyist and the serious worker in this fascinating medium are on sale, too, with clays, glazes, underglaze colors and tools offered at reasonable prices. Classes in pottery making and ceramics, are now being formed, with instruction to be given in the Stangren Pottery plant downstairs from the shop. Most of the ceramic ware on sale at the shop will be made by him right on the premises, while other pieces will be the work of famous potter-designers.

Stangren attended Bard College on an art scholarship and then enrolled at the Museum of Fine Arts ceramics school in Boston. After graduating from the Museum School he studied at Alfred University. His work has been exhibited at the Seligman Galleries in New York, at the De Cordova Museum in Lincoln, Mass., and in the Syracuse National Show.

tuned to a low register, "boomed" his voice. Except for these interruptions, the audience remained silent.

In contrast, the speakers opposing the garbage boiling were applauded and cheered enthusiastically. Their vocal support prompted Wendell R. Bauckman, president of the Board of Aldermen, to decline a request for a counting of hands in opposition, since the audience's frame of mind was so obvious.

the cooking was necessary due to a state law which requires only cooked garbage to be fed to pigs. Without the city's own facilities for cooking, Newton would be "at the mercy of contractors" when it came time to advertise for bids on the garbage collection after the present contract expires. Mr. Pratt declared, "We feel we have worked out the most plausible answer to this problem."

The 18 speakers which followed took exception to virtually all of Mr. Pratt's statements. They were introduced in rapid-fire order by Prof. W. Northrop Morse, 1110 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, who acted as moderator for the opposition.

Prof. Morse explained his speakers would cover three points, (1) that there is "absolutely no legal requirement for the city to boil garbage," (2) that thousands of the incinerators "neighbors" object to the garbage boiling plan, and (3) that alternate solutions are available.

Rep. Thresher stated it was "fantastic" to expect each of the 351 communities in Massachusetts to boil its own garbage. Terming the bill only a "temporary measure," she declared it might be repealed next year.

She said that before the bill was passed by the State legislature, she had been assured that the boiling was "an inexpensive process" which could be accomplished at the piggeries. Although she disagreed that the law forced Newton to boil its garbage, Mrs. Thresher said she was no "expert" and would abide by the decision of the city engineers.

"This bill does not require anyone to boil garbage except those who are feeding it to the pigs," Rep. Whitmore stated. He was informed by Department of Agriculture officials that "no other town or city in the Commonwealth is planning to boil its garbage."

He also took issue with Mr. Pratt that the boiling at the piggeries would be exorbitant, and set a $13,000 price tag on the most expensive boiling installation to date.

He claimed he understood other communities would be able to rent the boiling facilities at the incinerator, adding to the traffic and odor problems. Rep. Whitmore predicted that the need for boiling "may dissipate" in a few years, and therefore the construction was not needed.

Lorenz F. Muther, Jr. of 96 Erie avenue, executive secretary of the Newton Taxpayers' Association, said the problem was easily answered, "find a reputable piggy outside the city."

He explained he was speaking as a private citizen living near the incinerator, and not representing the Association.

"We don't want to take a chance with odors," he stated, pointing out that 20 years ago experts predicted there would be no ash problem from the incinerator. "But we are doubtful," Mr. Muther stated blandly, "on rainy days when the ashes come showering down."

Although it may cost the city more to repair the incinerator first and perhaps need to expand its facilities later, he argued that waiting was "a worthwhile chance" since the problem may not exist in another year.

"A proposed blight" was what James E. Blue of 1100 Boylston street, Newton Highlands, termed the garbage plan. Speaking as a representative of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Church, he called the plan "unwarranted, unnecessary and unjust at this time" to home owners living in that area.

J. Elwood Hart of 18 Hemlock road, Newton Upper Falls, said the people of the Elliot Hill area regard the incinerator's smokestack as "a cannon aimed at our homes, which could blow our property values to pieces."

"The place for cooking garbage is in the pig's back yard," declared J. Louis Marcy of 59 High street, Newton Upper Falls, who registered the protest of the Newton Upper Falls Improvement Association.

Others who spoke included H. Albert Pollock, 49 Elliot street; Harold Banks, 76 Margaret road; Mrs. James H. Zimmer, 24 Shady Hill road; representing the Newton Highlands Woman's Club; Mrs. Walter B. Fogg, 147 Plymouth road; Stanley Baker, Jr., 20 Margaret road; Roy M. Robinson, 78 Erie avenue; Leonard T. Jenney, 104 Carter road; Francis W. Marshall, 5 Elliot street; and C. Russell Mason, 1376 Walnut street, all of Newton Highlands.

Mr. Marshall, a lawyer, presented the board with an injunction he had prepared in case the garbage plan was approved. Prof. Morse read a letter from Rev. Frederiek Grootsema of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, strongly opposing the proposal.

Protest—

to halt the further development of land, then it is not a proper reason.

He predicted that an increase in welfare cases might occur if the building program were stalled by the zoning change, as many workers would lose their means of livelihood.

Arnold Hartmann of 90 Hartmann road, Oak Hill, who has been the backbone of Oak Hill construction for many years, described the minimum requirement of 25,000 square feet lots as uneasable. He said the upkeep of homes on such lots is beyond the reach of most residents.

He questioned the constitutional right of the aldermen to block construction in this manner, and said assessments on old houses should be reviewed if more tax revenue is needed.

Also speaking in opposition to the ordinance were builders Ellis Sutcliffe of 23 Buswell park, Newton, and Loutfi Gayzagian of 155 Waverley avenue, Newton. An attorney representing the Nardelli Company, which is developing land on Dudley road, Oak Hill, asked special exemption from the proposed change for his clients as the construction has been held up by the city's failure to complete a drainage project.

The Police Department was the first group in the entire Newton Campaign to reach 100%.

In commenting about the present state of the campaign, David Berkman, Newton Campaign Chairman, said: "Immediately after our Kick-Off Dinner on October 22, it started to rain and we had one solid week of bad weather. This was discouraging to solicitors because there is a general feeling that it is much more satisfactory in every way to make calls in fair weather. This has had its effect on the early results of the campaign. We are very much hoping for fair weather from here in and look with confidence for most satisfactory results."

"So if you are among those Newton people who have not already been called on, attribute that fact to the weather. Our solicitors from now on will be making their calls as fast as possible. And when the solicitor calls, please be as generous as you can because with increasing needs and increasing costs the whole campaign should raise $1,000,000 more than was subscribed a year ago."

This evening will be another report night to be followed by one next Monday. The campaign is scheduled to end in Newton on November 16.

named to the school committee, and both were unopposed. They were Francis P. Frazier of 127 Pearl street, Newton, representing Ward 1, and James B. Palmer of 230 Mt. Vernon street, West Newton, representing Ward Three.

The referendum vote which raised the mayor's salary $3000 a year scored its victory by running up large "yes" votes in Wards 5 and 6. Ward 1 voted a definite "no" by a 920 to 658 count, and Wards 3 and 4 also opposed the increase by slight pluralities. The "yes" votes, in addition to a wide margin in Wards 5 and 6, took Wards 2 and 7 by a handful of votes.

The final tally for mayor showed Rep. Whitmore with 17,377 votes to Walter Hodgdon's 2992. Mr. Hodgdon made his best showing in Ward 2, where he gathered 704 votes. In no precinct did he pose a serious threat to Rep. Whitmore's overwhelming vote.

The top-vote-getter in the aldermanic arena was Leo M. Cannon of 23 Jackson terrace, Newton, who is the present alderman-at-large from Ward 1. Mr. Cannon drew 15,283 votes, only 2000 under Rep. Whitmore's total. However, the alderman was unopposed for re-election.

Mr. Frazier, unopposed for the school committee, ran closely behind Mr. Cannon's vote total, drawing 14,214 ballots.

The honor of having the most voters go to the polls went to Ward 1, where 49 per cent cast their ballots. The lowest ratio was registered by Ward 6, in which only 36 per cent voted.

The makeup of the board of aldermen will now be as follows:

Ward 1: Cannon, Diman, Ball.

Ward 2: Mattson, Whitmore, Spaulding.

Ward 3: Davis, Nixon, Cosgrove.

Ward 4: Bigelow, Wood, Ham.

Ward 5: Bauckman, Terkelser, Jones.

Ward 6: Damon, Ripley, Sharf.

Ward 7: Anderson, Love, Powers.

The school committee will be composed of Francis P. Frazier, Genevieve R. Onoley, James B. Palmer, Guernsey Camp Jr., Henry W. Keyes, Haskell C. Freedman and Gordon B. Russell.

Trustees Hear Favorable Reports; Memorialize Robert A. Whidden

A resolution memorializing Robert Avery Whidden, for 20 years a trustee of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and former executive committee member, who died on October 16, 1953 was unanimously adopted at the regular trustees meeting held at the hospital Tuesday, October 27. Mr. Raymond Cabot, in presenting the resolution paid special tribute to Mr. Whidden's long and unselfish service to his hospital and to his community. It was further voted that a copy of the tribute be sent to Mr. Whidden's family.

Reporting to the trustees were: Miss Myrtice L. Fuller for the School of Nursing and Services; Mr. Henry Dunker, for the Investment Committee; Mr. Richard Chapman, treasurer; and Mrs. Paul T. Babson for the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association. Mr. George S. Burgess, speaking for the Board of Governors announced the following appointments recommended by the Executive Committee of the Medical Staff: the advance of Dr. Bartlett H. Stone from the Courtesy Obstetrician and the appointment of Dr. Samuel S. Handig to the Courtesy Staff in Orthopedic Surgery. The following doctors were appointed to the Courtesy Staff: Drs. Max J. Bulian, Donald Disick, Vincent J. Frascarelli, Edwin B. Goodall, David Kaufman, Arthur N. Kelly, Robert W. Kistner, Morton J. Olin, Thomas C. Peebles and George F. Reed. Dr. Philip Blinder was appointed as intern for one year beginning on or about October 5, 1953. It was also announced that Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, Executive Director of the Commission on Hospital Accreditation would be the principal speaker at the hospital's annual meeting which comes in February.

Dr. Richard I. Smith, of Wellesley, president of the Executive Committee of the Medical Staff gave the trustees an interesting explanation of the value of accreditation to the hospital, describing the steps that were taken in arriving at official approval for a hospital. Dr. Smith commented on the success being enjoyed by the hospital in its capacity to attract patients with capacity in attendance at each lecture. Dr. Smith reviewed the functions of the Tissue Committee which reviews and studies issues removed from patients during the course of operations. This serves as a check and safeguard against unnecessary surgery and helps to confirm pre-operative diagnoses. Through the function of the Tissue Committee it is possible to prevent deviations from accepted medical practices.

Mrs. Babson reported on the activities of the Auxiliary and its successes at the national convention in San Francisco. She mentioned that a membership drive would be conducted by the hospital later this fall.

Reporting as administrator, Dr. T. Stewart Hamilton noted marked increase in the number of newborn this year—an advance of 12 per cent over 1952. He also commented on the success enjoyed by the work simplification program which has been under the direction of Miss Gertrude Loud, Personnel Director of the Hospital. This program as attracted much favorable comment and is being widely imitated in other local hospitals. Dr. Hamilton also gave a capsule report on the American

News of the Day

The second assembly of the year at the Frank A. Day Junior High School was a play put on by the eighth grade Drama Group, coached by Mrs. Lorraine Holmes. All pupils enjoyed a rollicking mystery by J. C. McMullen entitled "The Ghost in the Green House." In the cast were Lucile Russo, Barbara Beal, Glorie Mason, Ann Colcock, Elizabeth Farina and Nancy Turner. Back stage Beverly Back worked on costumes, Cynthia Shrier on lights and sound effects, Marilyn Klein and Judy Sharpe on props. Frances Pellegrini was student coach, Barbara Dentino, announcer, Mary Proia, chairman for the day. This story of ghosts was chosen because it seemed to associate itself naturally with the Halloween scene.

The Day Varsity tied Weeks Junior High in a very well played battle, 7-7, in the third football game of the season. Day scored in the second period, Weeks in the third. Practice last week for the Weston Junior High School was sharply curtailed by the incessant though badly needed rains.

Four girls from Day, Linda Gould, Janet Roy, Elaine Moran and Pennie Mason journeyed to Framingham Teachers College a week ago to take part in a socio-drama at the Eastern Massachusetts Home Economics Association Workshop. This particular group helped to demonstrate the part of role playing as a technique in teaching of home and family living.

Ninth grade class officers Joseph Francione, Linda Gould, David Martowski and Bruce Egan have been meeting with Miss Vaznaia for the planning of some activities for the ninth grade.

Some of the items under immediate consideration are a Christmas party for seventh graders, Holiday Fair for parents and teachers, a football rally, Valentine's Day dance, and a ninth grade dinner and social hour.

In the semi-finals of seventh grade tag football teams, Room 22, four wins and no losses, and Room 19, three wins and one loss, remain grade leaders.

Weeks Jr. H. S. Notes

"NINTH GRADE PICTURES" "Watch the birdie! Smile pretty! Click . . . I can't wait to see how the pictures came out." "Well, you'll see them around November 15." "What are you talking about?" asked a curious eighth grader. "The ninth grade individual photographs, of course. Each student has had his picture taken by an expert photographer."

The day that you hear every one saying "I look awful," will be the day when you know that the ninth grade pictures have been sold.

by Willa Renne Meyerhoff.

The Weeks Halloween party has passed. Not many of our fellow students were out playing tricks, but the ones who went to the party certainly had a treat.

The movie shown was "The Man in the Iron Mask." There were many games played, among them darts, bean-bags, a horse racing game and a cracker eating contest. There was a Chamber of Horrors, which was really frightful. Last but surely not least, are the refreshments which were the traditional "witches brew," cider, cookies and ice-cream.

The party was a success thanks to the parents, teachers and pupils who participated.

Our talented music teacher, Miss Christine Nikitas has left Weeks. We were extremely sorry to see her leave, but we hope that she will be happy and successful in her new position as Music Supervisor in Needham.

It was a cold, bleak, rainy Friday when Weeks met Day at Albermarle Field. It was a game to be remembered, as the wet field and the drenching rain made the game quite difficult to play. (Not that football is an easy game). It was a good game for ducks, and at the finish the score was tied, 7-7.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Eisenhower Popularity Has Dropped, But No Reason to Believe That It Cannot Be Revived

President Eisenhower, a self-described novice in politics, must be pretty well confused and bewildered now as to what caused the Republican reverses in last week's election tests in New York, New Jersey and Virginia.

The suspicion is growing in many quarters that the President, despite his lack of a political background, might do much better to follow his own instincts than the advice of the hard-bitten professionals in his party.

One of the factors which many G.O.P. politicians seem to disregard is that President Eisenhower and Governor Herter here in Massachusetts both received the votes of many independents and Democrats in the 1952 election.

Eisenhower, who ran far ahead of his party, drew more Democratic support than did Herter, but the fact still remains that the latter could not have won on Republican votes alone because there simply aren't enough of them.

Over 600 Delegates to Attend

The Housing and Hospitality Committee for the Massachusetts-Rhode Island YMCA Older Boys' Conference being held in Newton on December 4, 5, and 6, has announced that approximately 250 beds have been obtained for delegates to date. The committee is chaired by Mrs. William A. Diman of 645 Centre street, Newton.

Mrs. Diman's Committee has accepted the responsibility of obtaining homes for the 600 high school delegates who will be guests of the host families for Friday and Saturday nights.

Three meetings of the Hospitality Committee have been held and progress to date is good. The next meeting is scheduled for next Monday. Hospitality Committee members working with Mrs. Diman are:

Miss Dorothy Weeks, Mrs. Francis Criscl, Mrs. Prentiss

Pemberton, Mrs. William Brewster, Mrs. Steven Currier, Mrs. Willard W. Rice, Mrs. Albert B. Terkelson, Mrs. John Lucier, Mrs. Homer Bean, Mrs. H. R. Fottler, Mrs. W. C. Auryansen, Mrs. Raymond Woolston, Mrs. Lester Dee, Mrs. Lottie Veinot, Mrs. L. J. Vassalot, Mrs. Norman Adair, Mrs. George Harvey, Mrs. John L. Morgenthau, Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Mrs. E. S. Brightman, Mrs. Charles MacDonald, Mrs. Edwin J. Cohen, Mrs. J. A. DiCarlo, Mrs. John Rogan, Mrs. John Curley, Mrs. John Roy, Mrs. Fred Carter, and Mrs. Robert Woods.

In attendance at the conference will be 600 high school age youth. It is expected that the 600 beds needed to house these delegates will be recruited by Nov. 20. The Newton Y.M.C.A., a member agency of the Community Chest, is supervising plans for meal arrangement.

Continue Newton Observance Of National Education Week

Newton's observance of National Education Week will continue today (Thursday) on the theme "The School Board in Action."

Open house during school hours will be held at the Countryside, Emerson, Franklin, Hyde, Lincoln-Elliott (8:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m.), Horace Mann, Mason (1:30 p.m.-3 p.m.), Memorial, Murray Road, Peirce, Underwood, Weeks Junior High and Williams Schools.

Parent-Teacher Association meetings, open to the public, are scheduled at the Angier, Carr and Stearns schools. At the Bowen School, grade meetings will be held with the parents in addition to open house from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Displays of books and visual arts are at the Hamilton School, and parents and teachers will meet during the afternoon at Warren Junior High School. Talent shows will be staged during music classes.

Night schools will hold open house for their adult education classes at Newton Technical Vocational High (7 p.m.-9 p.m.), Bigelow Junior High (8 p.m.-9:30 p.m.) and the Memorial School in Oak Hill Park.

Tomorrow, under the theme "Your Child's Teachers," open houses will be at Burr, Carr, Countryside, Emerson, Franklin, Horace Mann, Memorial, Murray Road, Peirce, Underwood, Weeks Junior High and Williams Schools.

The Ward School will have an assembly at 11 a.m. The Bowen School will hold grade meetings with parents, and the Hamilton School will have displays of books and visual aids. The Angier School has scheduled a book exhibit during school hours.

At the Warren Junior High School, parent and teacher meetings will be conducted during the afternoon. The talent shows will continue in music classes, and there will be student and teacher exhibits. The Day Junior High School will have an assembly program at 9 a.m.

National Education Week was observed in Newton this week by participation of the Adult Evening Program along with the elementary and high schools of the city.

Tonight (Thursday) at the High and Memorial (Oak Hill Park) schools adult classes will be open to visitors during their regular schedules. Many friends dropped in to watch their neighbors at work.

Adult Education in Newton has had a long and interesting history. It originated in 1871 with 58 enrolled. Since 1902 the growth has been from two courses offered for 142 students to a high of 44 courses for 2281 people in 1952.

This comparatively new branch of education has developed with our changing mode of living. Modern transportation enables people to attend evening classes; ever-changing processes and materials used in industry has stimulated the growth of trade courses; more leisure time has created a demand for handicraft and appreciative classes, and higher standards of living have increased the attendance in all general educational courses.

The next semester of the Evening Schools will run from January 18 to April 8, 1954. A booklet descriptive of this Adult Program may be obtained at the Technical-Vocational High School office. Registration for these classes may be made at any time prior to the first meeting of the groups.

LIGHT VOTE ANTICIPATED IN FOURTH MIDDLESEX REPRESENTATIVE CONTEST

Alderm'n Study 25% Increase In Water Rate

The first increase in Newton's water rates in more than a quarter-century has been recommended by Mayor Theodore Lockwood as a result of the doubling of charges to the city by the Metropolitan Water Commission and the need of increasing service to the south side of Newton.

The 25 percent increase sought by the mayor will go into effect on January 1 if approval is voted by the aldermen. In order to change the rates, the aldermen must change a city ordinance.

The cost per 100 cubic feet daily consumption under 1000 cubic feet will be increased from the current 18 cents to 22½ cents. For consumption in excess of 1000 cubic feet per day, the cost will jump from 12 to 15 cents per 100 cubic feet.

According to Water Commissioner Mark F. Croker, the increase is in line with action taken by other communities served by the Metropolitan Water Commission. In several communities, the jumps ranged from 20 to 50 percent of the former rate.

Mr. Croker estimated that the city would use 1,437,000,000 gallons of MDC water this year. When the complete changeover to the MDC system is completed, Newton will consume about 3,500,000,000 gallons a year.

A bond issue of $500,000 will be required to bolster the water distribution system in the southern portion of Newton, Mr. Croker pointed out. Starting in January, the MDC water rate will be raised from $40 a million gallons to $80.

The present rate was set in 1926, when it was reduced from 20 cents per hundred cubic feet to 18 cents. In the late 1920's, the rate went as high as 25 cents.

Boston Kiwanians Elect Waban Man

John D. Drummey of 560 Chestnut street, Waban, recently was elected president of the Boston Kiwanis Club. He is one of the youngest presidents in Kiwanis history.

Named in January as one of the "10 outstanding men in Greater Boston," he is executive director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

CANDIDATES FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE from Fourth Middlesex District who will participate in the "Candidates Meeting of the Air" sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Newton, which will be held on Sunday, November 15, on Station WCRB. Left to right: Lawrence E. Cooke, Francis M. Morris, Mrs. John C. McClintock, president of the Newton League; Donald L. Gibbs; Paul S. Rich; and William R. O'Connell.

Red Feather Fund Reaches 66.2% Mark

A total of $215,084 or 66.2 percent of Newton's $325,000 goal has been raised in the 1954 Red Feather Campaign, according to a statement from the Newton Community Chest office today. This amount includes subscriptions reported at the fourth Residential Report Meeting last Monday night.

Division reports to make up Newton's total are, as follows: Advance Gifts, Bartlett Harwood, chairman, $93,980; Residential, Henry J. Wilson, chairman, $71,095; Manufacturing, Frank Webster, chairman, $24,842; Men's Mercantile, Eugene A. Cronin, chairman, $8,914; — RED FEATHER — (Continued on Page 12)

SEEK ASS'T CITY CLERK TO IMPROVE ELECTIONS

Ward 3 Alderman Recount to Start Monday Afternoon

A recount will take place Monday afternoon at Newton City Hall for the post of Ward 3 Alderman from Ward 3, which at last week's election went to Charles H. Cosgrove by the narrow margin of 60 votes.

As predicted in last week's Graphic, the recount was requested Tuesday by Charles H. Meeker, who drew 1174 ballots to Mr. Cosgrove's 1174. The third candidate in the race, William J. Maloney, received 380 votes.

Say Taxpayers Plan Cheaper, More Efficient

Appointment of an assistant city clerk whose main duties would be to handle elections was suggested this week by the Newton Taxpayers' Association in its monthly publication "Newton Taxpayers' Topics."

The Association presented its plan as a substitute for the establishment of a separate election group, which has been placed before the Board of Aldermen. The taxpayers claimed their proposal would not only cost less but would not need legislative permission, as would the setting up of a separate election commission or revision of the registrars of voters.

Referring to a motion introduced by Alderman Leo M. Cannon seeking permission of the state legislature, the Association's directors stated they agreed "better election service than at present can be obtained by such a device, but (they) also believe that an alternative plan will not only render equally better service but do it at less cost."

Their suggestion was informally made in 1951, they wrote, and "events since then have confirmed our original views."

The directors pointed out that the election operation as a whole centers "substantially" around the city clerk. The clerk "pulls together the preliminary operations as well as coordinating most of the other operations."

"The growth of the city's population has increased the election duties of the city clerk's office as presently organized to a point where these duties seriously interfere with the smooth operation of the regular duties of the office," the directors stated.

"Thus the personnel is interrupted in their regular work by counter and telephone questions, is cramped for space and is generally impeded by the variety as well as the increased amount of work to be done."

They wrote that "most every one" agrees some change is needed, and the only difference of opinion is on how it can best be done.

Proponents of the plan brought forward by Alderman Cannon maintain that the separate group "would eliminate the four-way split in authority and place al-

Candidates to Be Chosen At Primary Tues.

Next Tuesday, Republican and Democrats of Wards 1, 2, 3 and 7 will be called upon to select their candidates to contest in the special election to be held Tuesday, December 8 to fill the vacancy in the House of Representatives caused by the recent resignation of Christian Herter, Jr.

Although this primary is of utmost importance, there is every likelihood that the vote cast will be light. In fact many observers believe that if the vote exceeds thirty percent of those eligible to vote in the primary, this will be considered a good showing but most believe that the total vote cast will be nearer twenty percent than thirty percent.

Three candidates will vie for the Republican nomination for this office. They are Alderman Paul S. Rich, former alderman Donald L. Gibbs and William R. O'Connell.

In the Democratic primary, two candidates will seek their party's endorsement. They are Lawrence E. Cooke and Francis M. "Chick" Morris.

Despite the apparent lack of interest to date, which some believe is due to the fact that an election for city offices has just been held, this primary contest is of extreme importance. For years Newton members of the legislature have been in the forefront and have contributed greatly to constructive legislation and many of them have held high and important offices.

In a Republican stronghold, such as Newton is, the greatest interest naturally centers in the contest between Gibbs, Rich and O'Connell for their party's endorsement. Both have been actively, if quietly, campaigning and both campaigns to date have been conducted on a house to

Appellate Bd. Upholds Local Assessors

The Newton Board of Assessors today announced that the Massachusetts Appellate Tax Board had upheld the Board's assessment of valuation in the case of an appeal involving the real estate located at 49 Newbrook Circle, Oak Hill.

The owners, because of their dissatisfaction with the assessment of $11,400 placed on their home, applied first to the Newton Board of Assessors for an abatement in 1951. The application was denied and an appeal was taken. Following the hearing of the case the above decision was given.

The Board of Assessors today in commenting on the decision pointed out that a misconception exists among many taxpayers that real estate is assessed at a percentage of its cost price.

The Appellate Tax Board in the Steinberg appeal pointed out that it is the duty of Assessors to determine what the fair market value of the property is, and assess accordingly. This is the practice used by the Newton Board of Assessors. The board also makes frequent surveys in order to meet to a degree the highly fluid real estate market.

The Board of Assessors comprising John D. Wright, chairman; Sydney B. Holden and Edward A. Fahey, principal assessors, was represented at the hearing by George J. Elbaum, assistant to the Newton City Solicitor, Matt B. Jones.

Mayor Lockwood Asks Support For 1953 Christmas Seal Sale

Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood this week made the first purchase of Christmas Seals of the 1953 Christmas Seal Sale from Mrs. Gordon S. Pinkham, general chairman of the 47th annual sale which opens officially next Monday.

This sale will raise the funds to support the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association's tuberculosis control work in Newton next year.

After he made the first contribution, Mayor Lockwood issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, Newton holds a fine reputation as a healthy city for family living;

"Whereas, tuberculosis brings tragedy to families and is a serious disease which kills more people each year than all other infectious diseases combined;

"Whereas, tuberculosis can attack anyone at any age regardless of his economic or social position;

"Whereas, it has been proven that effective control of tuberculosis is the result of the cooperative efforts of the local tuberculosis and health association as well as other voluntary agencies and official agencies, the medical profession and the general public;

"Whereas, the coming sale of Christmas Seals will provide the sole source of support for the next year's tuberculosis control work by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association,

"Therefore, I, Mayor of Newton, sincerely urge every Newton resident to buy and use as many Christmas Seals as he possibly can to insure the continuation of the fight against tuberculosis by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association."

Dr. Mullany was enthusiastic about the medical facilities in Boston. "Unsurpassed, anywhere in the world," he exclaimed. "And the hospitality, too," he added.

Some of the Massachusetts members of the cast of John Murray Anderson's "Almanac" were in the office this week.

"Whereas, the coming sale of Christmas Seals will provide the sole source of support for the next year's tuberculosis control work by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association,

"Therefore, I, Mayor of Newton, sincerely urge every Newton resident to buy and use as many Christmas Seals as he possibly can to insure the continuation of the fight against tuberculosis by the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association."

The Governor's Day

by Helen Hall Mahoney

We hope that you'll enjoy sharing with us a few more anecdotes from your Governor's Office.

One hundred and twenty-five young men and women from the Sixth Annual Massachusetts Congress (held at the Sheraton Plaza) came in to shake hands with Governor Herter recently. Among them was Warren Root from Barnardston. He was one of two boys who lived for a week on Boston Common, in a tent with six cows. It was during Dairy Week and they had to care for and milk the cows—except when the State senators and representatives milked them during a contest—which the senators won.

Kenneth Faulkner came all the way from Australia to attend the Congress... a "Grass Roots Ambassador" from the Young Farmers' Club which operates like our 4-H program.

was informed that he was the first governor of Massachusetts to visit that town in more than 50 years... and in Monson, Mr. Kelley D. Munsell, 92 years old, said that it was the first time he had ever seen a governor of our State.

In North Adams, Joseph N. Roach, who served in the State Legislature when Governor Herter was Speaker of the House, took from his pocket a mechanical pencil and said, "Do you recognize this, Chris? I've carried this and used it practically every day since 1941." The pencil was a souvenir which the Governor as Speaker had given at a dinner to the members of his Rules Committee. Imagine the number of pencils the ordinary person has lost in 12 years!

Williamstown, Governor Herter met several exchange students from Texas who told him that they were delighted with Massachusetts hospitality, and added: "Now we know where Texas hospitality originated."

A recent visitor to the office was Judy Kelly of Fall River, "Catholic Miss of America." An attractive girl with blue eyes, brown hair and upswung hairdo, Judy's a senior at Mt. St. Mary's Academy and a special student at New England Conservatory of Music. A singer, she conducts her own radio program from Station WALE, Fall River. "She wore her high heels especially to have her picture taken with you, Governor Herter," said her mother, Mrs. Daniel Kelly.

Grossman's Opens Annual Harvest Of Values Sale

Grossman's annual Harvest of Values sale, which got off to a flying start yesterday, was sparked by an employee's party and sales meeting held in the Masonic Temple in Quincy.

More than 500 Grossman employees and their wives, from Quincy and the 18 branch stores throughout New England, attended. Starting at 6:30 p.m. with a buffet supper the party continued through an evening of fast-paced entertainment. The affair was highlighted by WCOB's entire Hayloft Jamboree unit playing and entertaining the group.

John Grossman, vice-president of L. Grossman Sons, Inc. welcomed the group and extended to the department heads his best wishes for a successful Harvest of Values event. He also pointed out that, through the enormous buying power of the company's 18 branches, and the great effort expended by the firm during the past several months to procure quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices this year's sale offers some of the greatest values in the firm's history.

Reuben Grossman, chairman of the board of directors, revealed that New England homeowners desiring to repair or improve their properties, would realize gigantic savings by purchasing the needed materials during this sale. Even those home owners not planning immediate improvements would do

High School Reading Clinic In 7th Year

In the first two months of school, fifty-six pupils have had special help in the Reading Clinic, Department of English, Newton High School. Eight of these were sent to the Clinic by the High School Guidance Office, two by the Junior College, three by parents, sixteen at their own request, fourteen by teachers of English, and thirteen as a result of low scores in reading tests given last May. This has been the most active beginning of clinic attendance in the seven years that this service has been available.

Reading Clinic pupils include several members of the National Honor Society and a few from the groups selected for the classes in the School and College Study for Admission with Advanced Standing. These pupils came, in most instances, to increase speed in reading by use of the reading accelerators. With other pupils practice with these machines or the reading films is supplemented by vocabulary work and exercises in reading comprehension, both as essential to good reading as speed. Still other pupils need help in spelling and in study techniques. Some want general guidance in problems related to reading.

Teachers in the clinic also work with classes when they are asked to give assistance. Talks, with demonstrations, are employed to show better techniques and awaken interest in improved reading. At present, there is a waiting list for this particular school service.

Miss Edith M. Rideout, Chairman of the Reading Clinic in Newton High School, says,

"Schools and colleges are increasingly aware that reading is a continuous process which does not stop with mere word-calling. In these days of propaganda and of so many pictorial experiences pupils need to learn to read with more depth and judgment, and not to be mere passive readers."

Miss Rideout has followed the work done in other communities by attending New England and national conferences and by visiting various school and college clinics. She and the other English teachers who share in providing this special service keep informed by reading articles and books on the problems that arise and the techniques that have been successful. To help the clinic teachers in their work, the school has available the scores of aptitude and reading tests and the reports of the teachers in whose classes the pupil is enrolled, as well as the cumulative record of the pupil from his earliest years in our schools.

Lawrence R. Haughey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Haughey of 243 Plymouth road, Newton Highlands, has been accepted in the Aviation Cadet program of the Air Force aircraft observer training. A 1953 graduate of Newton High School, his first assignment will be for 12 weeks of training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Plan 'Work Shop' By Church Council At Trinity Tonight

The Newton Council of Churches will hold a "Work Shop" for delegates tonight (Thursday), at 8 o'clock in the Trinity Church Parish House, Newton Centre. This special meeting has been called by the president, Robert Mitchell, in order to answer two questions: "What is the Council of Churches?" and "What does it do?" The information will be given to the delegates through brief reports and a question period, and will enable them to answer questions regarding the Council in their own churches. In addition to the minister, five delegates from each of the 24 member churches will be the guests of the executive board.

The program will include a brief history of the Council; the introduction of the chairman of each department; reports from the Council chaplains to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, to the Boy Scouts, and to the Aged; and an overall statement of the Council's purpose and plans.

In its eighth year of service to the Protestant churches of Newton, the Council stands behind, but does not usurp the work of, the individual churches. Through its departments and committees of Religious Education, Church Women, United Canvass, Chaplaincy, Civic Affairs, Community Worship, and Public Relations, the Council promotes the work of Protestantism which can be done best in unity, and serves as a link between the Newton churches and the Massachusetts Council of Churches with its 1,500,000 statewide constituents.

Newton Residents Taking Prominent Convention Roles

Dr. Harold B. Gores, superintendent of Newton schools, gave the address of welcome yesterday (Wednesday) at a luncheon at the Hotel Statler of the American School Food Service Convention. Many Newtonites are playing a prominent part in the convention.

William F. Clark, director of business services for the Newton public schools, is on a panel committee discussing school lunchroom design. Eugene Gray, a Newton teacher, will be a featured speaker tonight (Thursday) on a panel "How Does Your Lunchroom Measure Up?"

Bill Cunningham of Newtonville, noted columnist and sports writer, is scheduled to speak tomorrow at another Statler luncheon meeting.

Miss Mary M. McGovern and Miss A. Eleanor Murphy, both supervisors in the school cafeterias, are serving as chairmen for the convention. Mrs. Quindara Dodge of Waban, an assistant professor at Simmons College, is a member of the program committee.

Newton school cafeterias will be represented by personnel from Newton High, Bigelow Junior High, Day Junior High, Warren Junior High, Weeks Junior High, Hyde Memorial, Oak Hill, Peirce and Countryside Schools.

Pfc. John R. Cugini, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Cugini of 90 Dalby street, Newton, took part recently in Exercise Mudlark, the annual Fall training maneuver of the U. S. Forces in Austria.

Home Nursing Training Still Needed

The Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, reports that Home Nursing training is still greatly needed in the Newton area. It is the aim of Nursing Services to train at least one person in every home. The Red Cross has had courses in Home Nursing for over 30 years. Professionally trained instructors conduct the six-lesson courses which are offered free of charge.

The course, designed for busy homemakers, does not take the place of professional nursing care, but does give instruction in the care of the patient until the doctor arrives and teaches how to carry out his orders intelligently during an illness, whether it be chronic or acute. This course will help you fulfill your everyday obligations to your family, which in turn will make for a better prepared community, should sickness strike or disaster come. For registration, call Lasell 7-6000.

Political Overtones

President Eisenhower is in the position where he can't possibly satisfy everyone who helped to place him in the White House.
That is reflected by the conflicting and contrasting explanations offered by G.O.P. politicians for the electoral reverses which the Republican party suffered in last week's elections.

Many G.O.P. leaders are bitter over the failure of the Eisenhower administration to throw out more Democrats job-holders in order to replace them with deserving Republicans, and the claim also is advanced that countless thousands of citizens have turned against Ike because they don't feel they are getting the change for which they voted.

Democratic theorists, on the other hand, feel that the President has made too many concessions to the right wing of his party, has gone too far in the direction of big business and has played partisan politics to too great extent.

The political pundits and analysts, who attempt to view the situation objectively and come up with a sound explanation, are having a difficult time explaining the public discontent and disappointment that seemingly exists with the Eisenhower regime.

President Eisenhower has not yet completed his 10th month in the White House. In that period the fighting was stopped in Korea, and though the truce there is an uneasy one, the fact also is that American boys no longer are dying.
The Truman budget was sharply slashed, and the federal payrolls have been reduced by thousands of persons.

Some farmers have experienced economic reverses. But prosperity generally is high, and there is little unemployment. Yet, the returns in last week's election tests could only be construed as reflecting a measure of disappointment with the Eisenhower administration.

About the only explanation that can be offered, aside from the fact that Eisenhower couldn't please all the people with divergent ideas who voted for him in 1952, is that the failure of Congress to do much of anything earlier this year and the obvious disposition to put off important measures until 1954 had a poor public reaction.

There has been more than a usual amount of political hypocrisy and "I Told You So's" from people who obviously had no idea at all of how the political winds were blowing.

The comments from Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell, who many members of his party would like to oust just as quickly as it is possible to do so, were amusing.

Mitchell interpreted the election results as indicating "a clear change in sentiment since last November."

Another thing the election results clearly points up is that Mitchell himself is no whiz-bang either as a Democratic leader or a political prophet because he refused to contribute campaign funds to the Democratic candidates in New Jersey and Wisconsin on the ground that they were waging "hopeless contests" which the Republicans were certain to win.

That about covers the assistance which the unenthusiastic and uninspiring Mr.
Mitchell extended to his party standard-bearers, and it is just a little unbecoming for him now to congratulate himself on his political good fortune, particularly since he obviously was more surprised by the Democratic successes than the Republicans were by their reverses.

One of the most important aspects of high-pressure politics is the art of timing.
Political observers realize that the barometer recording the popularity of a President of Governor rarely remains static, that it constantly varies up and down, and they know, too, that the important time for President Eisenhower's popularity to be high is next November, not now.

If the 1948 election had been held in June rather than November, Harry Truman would have been lucky to carry Rhode Island. But in the last few weeks of his campaign that fall, his popularity surged upwards, and the political picture changed.

The strategy of the Eisenhower administration obviously was planned so that 1953 would be largely a year of adjustment and 1954 a year of accomplishment in Congress.

If the President meets unexpected opposition next year from within his own party, then both he and the G.O.P. will be in trouble next November, but unless the Republican Congressmen are prepared to hand over the Congressional controls to the Democrats in 1953, they have little alternative but to work along with Ike in 1954.

The Democrats will be strong enough in the next session of Congress to sabotage the Eisenhower program, if they choose to do so, but the political onus and responsibility would be on them, and it might hurt them more than the Republicans.

The big potential danger for Ike is probably in the G.O.P. rather than in the Democratic party.

This reporter believes that President Eisenhower can maintain most of his popularity as long as he remains close to the people.

The voters knew he was a novice in politics when they elected him a little more than a year ago. They realized he was a military hero, not a politician.

If Eisenhower goes before the public periodically, explains to them what he is trying to do and the problems he is encountering and convinces them that he is doing the best he can under the circumstances, his popularity is likely to stand up.

The warning signals went up last week for the G.O.P., but they don't necessarily mean disaster—if the Republican politicians recognize and heed them.

Voting System Change Likely; Garbage Boiling Decision Mon.

A revision of Newton's voting system seems likely to come before the aldermen Monday night.
Alderman Leo M. Cannon of Ward 1 has framed a resolution seeking an Election Commission separate from the City Clerk's Department.

Mr. Cannon's motion was on the docket for action at the November 2 meeting, but he asked that it be tabled until the following session. He asked the delay to coincide with the scheduled election of Monte G. Bas-bas as City Clerk, thus shifting the departmental duties along with a personnel change.

It seems certain that Mr. Bas-bas will be elected. City Clerk Frank M. Grant has served the city well and faithfully for more years than most residents can remember, and for several years he has remained at his post although passing the retirement age.

Mr. Grant undoubtedly remembers when city elections were fairly simple despite the intricacies of the preferential voting system. As new homes sprang up throughout the city and the population steadily expanded, counting the votes became a longer and longer process.

All-night ballot counting sessions are routine for every election, yet other communities operating similar to Newton somehow manage to wind up their work at a more reasonable time.
Perhaps voting machines to replace the hand-marked ballots would be in order. But a complete switchover to the machines is an exceedingly expensive proposition.

Now Alderman Cannon has proposed an Election Commission to clear up the situation, while the Newton Taxpayers' Association has countered with its own plan, calling for an assistant city clerk whose primary duties will be to supervise elections.

It will take more than this writer's cracked crystal ball to tell which course, if either, the aldermen will follow. One thing proponents of both plans agree on is that something should be done before Newton splits its already-tight election bristles.

One of the more or less routine matters that come before the Board of Aldermen every meeting is that of pole locations sought by the Boston Edison Company and the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Ninety-nine percent of the time these requests are granted by the aldermen without question or debate, but once in a while Newton residents get a chance to sound off with a vengeance when a pole is placed too close to their property or to a driveway.

The Boston Post received an unpleasant surprise last week in a similar case. The Post evidently thought nothing would happen when they asked for a temporary pole for their radio-telephone transmitter on Waban Hill.

The hill neighborhood descended in a body at the public hearing and left little doubt as to their feelings about poles on their hill. The Post retreated abashed, astounded at the reaction.

It went to show what a neighborhood can accomplish when people act as a unit, instead of grumbling to themselves about a problem that community action can easily overcome.

A second matter which drew angry objections last week is the city's plan to boil garbage at the city incinerator.

More than 400 crowded into City Hall protesting garbage boiling, seizing the opportunity to make a large number of puns on "The Garbage City" and similar witticisms. Beneath the sometimes flippant remarks, however,

'Trick or Treat' By Mason Pupils Aids Jimmy Fund

Children of the Mason School in Newton Centre "tricked or treated" for the Jimmy Fund Halloween night under the direction of Miss Joan Ring, fourth grade teacher at the school.

The plan originated in Miss Ring's room, but the plan proved so popular that 50 other children representing grades 3, 4, 5 and 6 were allowed to participate.

Dressed in costume and armed with Jimmy Fund banks, the boys and girls collected $350.60.
Miss Ring's room in itself accounted for $113.42 of the total, and the others collected $237.18.
As a result of this project,
Miss Ring and her entire class were on Bob Emery's "Jack's and Jill's" show on WBZ-TV on Halloween day. Miss Ring explained the project, the children entertained, and Big Brother presented each child with a collecting bank.

N.L.F. Improvem't Ass'n Has Election

Henry Schneider was elected president of the Newton Lower Falls Improvement Association recently at the group's annual meeting in St. Mary's Parish Hall.

Other newly-elected members of the board of managers for the ensuing year are Charles McCarthy, vice-president; Roberta Bronfield, secretary; Robert Clinton, treasurer; Irving Schell, chairman of the civic committee;
Atherton Morse, chairman of the nominating committee; David Bowles, chairman of publicity; and Ralph Frederick, chairman of membership.

the speakers clearly showed their opposition.

After the heavy turnout at a hearing on the matter, it will be interesting to note how many will appear Monday night to see how the aldermen vote. If weight of public opinion is any criterion, the objectors should be happy with the result.

Progress Report of the New Business Committee of the Newton C. of C.

Three years ago this month when the New Business Committee was formed, the exodus of industry generally from Massachusetts was an alarming reality which was threatening the economy of not only large cities but also many smaller one-factory towns upon which so many local residents had depended for their livelihood for generations. Highly paid full-time industrial commissions were set up in several large distressed labor areas in a frantic attempt to offset this movement out of the state by encouraging other new industries to locate or expand their facilities locally.

The citizens of Newton, however, have once more demonstrated real achievement by their public spirited efforts on a purely voluntary level. As a result the Garden City has seen what is perhaps the most outstanding reversal of this exodus of industry but this trend was not accidental. Far-sighted planning by the Chamber of Commerce—a genuinely hospitable climate for business since the new state administration took office—the cordial and realistic attitude of our city government—a sensibly low tax rate and the efforts of the New Business Committee have all contributed to the successful expansion of what one newspaper called "Newton's Picture Book Industries" or what we have come to know as the "Blue Chip Industries" on our
"Miracle Mile."

On October 1, 1950, the Chamber of Commerce listed 52 manufacturers doing business in Newton, and now, only three years later, we have 85 with two more under construction and four additional ones which are expected to be complete next year for a grand total of 91. This is an increase of 75 percent.

Just nine of these plants, now up and operating and built in this period, have increased the assessed valuation of Newton by about one and one quarter million dollars with annual taxes to the city of $55,000. Three of these firms, paying taxes of about $15,000 a year based on the current rate, are doing business on land which was previously tax free railroad property.

The two plants which are under construction and four others under option will have estimated assessments of three million dollars, bringing us annual taxes of another $132,000. After talks with the builders we are confident that these last six plants will surely be completed by the end of next year. This means that a total of fifteen larger industries will have brought the city almost $200,000 a year added income on estimated assessments of over four and one quarter million dollars.

Here are the names in chronological order as they came to Newton, and let us particularly note the calibre of these fifteen well-known industrial giants who have located here since October, 1950:

Wilde & Stevens, manufacturers of rollers to the printing trade; Jenney Manufacturing Co., the oldest oil company in America; Minn. Mining and Mfg. Co., manufacturers of tape, abrasives and adhesives; S. S. Pierce Co.
(wholesale), Importers and grocers; United Fruit Company, world's largest importers of bananas; National Research Corp., pioneers in research and development; Sylvania Electric, Magnatrons and electronic tubes; W. J.
Connell Company, distributors of automotive equipment; Liberty Mutual Insurance Co., insurance records department.

Under Construction—General Motors Corp., truck and coach division; Wind Tunnel Instru-

TELE- VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Last week's severe storm, which developed with such unexpected precipitation and gale winds was not without its lighter side. Amongst other damage, the high winds brought down a number of Television antennas. To our surprise, instead of bemoaning their fate, a number of people who called us for repairs appeared to be almost pleased! They had not been able to decide whether or not to incur the expense of converting to UHF, but now the decision was ready-made: the re-installation would bring their antenna equipment right up to date.

If you too are having difficulty making up your mind on this matter, and if your antenna equipment is over two years old, give the matter a little thought before the next windy storm hits and you are left without adequate Television reception in the usual rush of work that follows such an occurrence. A call from you will promptly bring our expert antenna crew to your house, not only to convert to UHF reception, but to suggest and perform such preventative maintenance work as may be necessary to your present installation.

Another surprise for us is the number of people who have not tuned in to Liberace, Saturday nights at 10:30.
In our humble estimation, for pure piano virtuosity and plain enjoyment, this artist has no equal on the TV screen. To be sure, his speaking manner borders on the effeminate, but you soon overlook that when he begins to play. Stay in or up this Saturday night and see if you don't agree. I only wish you had a new Olympic H.F.T. receiver so that you could enjoy the full range of his performance.
Come in to the store anytime, bring your own records if you wish, and try for yourself the response of this exceptional machine. . . . It's now available either in a full combination instrument or in a very inexpensive table model radio-phonograph.

Singer Sewing Machine, warehouse and office; General Electric Company, warehouse and office;
Jordan Marsh Company, warehouse; Name not available (opt.), warehouse and office.

Surely this is an impressive list of quality concerns, and the Garden City can well be proud that these companies have located here. They have shown faith in our progressive government, our stable taxes, and our fine community in coming here.
Aside from the publicity we have given them, we have tried to make each one of these new industries feel welcome in many ways. We have frequently acted as liaison between local industry and various city departments, and we are constantly available to render assistance in solving mutual problems which fall within the scope of the Chamber of Commerce.

As evidence of this cooperative attitude toward prospective new industries, you will be pleased to hear what the president of a very large company wrote us in 1951 just prior to expanding his company's operations here:

"Quite frankly, I have been very much discouraged in my various talks in other locations and, as a matter of fact, I can say that it is only in Newton where we have seen a real business-like approach to the matter of industrial development within a normally residential area." And subsequently he wrote us again:

"... I appreciate very much the interest that you have shown in having (us) come to Newton and I say that we are also most happy to expand our activities in your community."

Here is another quotation from the managing director of a prominent new retailer:

"... I would like to go on record in writing to say that on behalf of myself and (my company) we are proud to be doing business in Newton."
We have just looked at the past. Now we should be alerted to our course in the future. With all this new business activity one would suppose that the gardens of our fair city were in jeopardy, but with only 1.7 percent of our eighteen square miles currently zoned for manufacturing, this is hardly the case. 96.7 percent of Newton is still zoned for residences;

nevertheless, without encroaching on our homes and gardens, we shortly will have to find more room to satisfy the persistent demand for additional commercial and manufacturing space.
There exists today known areas not suitable for homes which could be used for industrial purposes but which cannot be re-sited until they are rezoned.

Only three parcels of land are left unoptioned on Needham street and perhaps one or two others of any appreciable size throughout the city. If we are to continue our magnificent school and road building programs, maintain our other superior city services and still keep our taxes at their present low levels, it is vital that we rezone more land for industry.

The New Business Committee
may well consider this as their number one project for 1954 to be championed by the Chamber of Commerce for the welfare of all Newton.

John B. Rubenstein,
Chairman,
New Business Committee.

Letters to the Editor—

THANKS SUPPORTERS

Editor, Newton Graphic:

I would like to thank the people of Newton who expressed their vote of confidence in me and my work by re-electing me to the Newton School Committee Serving Newton in this capacity is stimulating, interesting, not always easy, but infinitely satisfying when one sees the result in the fine staff and school system of which we in Newton are so proud.

GENEVIEVE R. ONCLEY.

THANKS WARD 7 VOTERS

Editor, Graphic:

I wish to express my deep appreciation to the people of Ward 7, for their interest and support in the recent election.

On behalf of the Newton Civic Association I wish to express our appreciation of the support you have lent our new organization through the columns of your newspaper. We appreciate the accuracy with which you have treated our news releases and other coverage in your columns.
Communication with the public so that citizens may have their voices heard is essential for a civic group. Thank you for your

75TH ANNIVERSARY

Editor, Newton Graphic:

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children commemorates its 75th Anniversary this Friday, May 1.
I take this occasion to thank your readers for their warmheartedness and generosity in their support of the Society either through individual contributions or through the Community Chests to which we and they belong.

Their help in 1952 made it possible for our staff in 42 District and Branch offices, throughout the State, to work with over 10, 000 children in cases reported by the public.

Again, thank you all very much from M.S.P.C.C. for children.

Robert M. Mulford,
General Secretary.

Congratulates Miss Ball

I have personally extended my congratulations and sincere best wishes to Miss Adelaide B. Ball upon her election as Ward Alderman. At the same time I have offered her every assistance possible as she undertakes the duties and responsibilities of her office.

To the many supporters and workers on both sides I offer my congratulations for the manner in which both campaigns were conducted. It has been a hard fought contest and now that the mandate has been served by the voters let all of us forget the many weeks of hard work and turn our attention to the future with a feeling of cooperation towards one another.

To my many workers and supporters I thank you sincerely for a good job well done. It is most gratifying to know that even after a year's absence from Newton that I could still make a credible, showing in a contest against a very strong opponent.
I assure all of you that long after the sting of defeat is gone, the bonds of friendships that have been established remain.

I shall now turn my attention to serving our city by actively participating in several service organizations and contribute in any way possible to the general welfare of Newton.

Food For Thought

by Mary O'Malley, Nutrition Editor
New England Dairy and Food Council

The young mother's dream of a company meal: Her small children eat a good meal, while being calm and likeable among adults and other children.

In serving a festive dinner, the mother herself can best prepare the child's plate, because she knows the exact size of serving and how much salt and pepper will please the young palate. She serves only a level teaspoon of new foods the child hasn't tasted before; and lets the child start to eat right away because a young one is so bored by food which has become too cold.

If a member of the bib set has his ordinary meal rather than the grown-up's menu, it makes his dinner special to have a turkey sticker or another symbol stuck on the outside of his glass of milk.

The child's peace of mind among guests at the table, is helped if he has a comfortable chair and his feet rest on the floor or a foot rest. His knife, fork, and spoon should be easy to handle.

The little one will benefit from a small share in the preparations. When food is bought for the dinner, let him put away one item. In talking about dinner, beforehand, mention simple things the child can grasp rather than stressing the great size or quantity of food, or variety of the menu.

Children need special help in a company situation. They will behave well if they think it is fun to be smart enough to eat among adults, and if they know there is pleasure in the company of relatives and friends.

Coleman Appliance and Supply Co. Observes 7th Anniversary in Newton

Since 1887 thrifty New Englanders have made the Coleman store their headquarters for Home Products.

Seven years ago Coleman Supply Co. decided to branch out to Newton in order to better service their accounts in this area including Waltham, Framingham, Lexington and other areas within 25 miles of Newton. "Herb" Cohn was chosen to be branch manager as he was originally the appliance department manager at Boston prior to and after his term of service with the AAF, World War II. As the grandson of the late founder Max Coleman, he was brought up in this type of business. To supplement Mr. Cohn's knowledge of marketing and administration he completed a course at B. U. where he received a BS BA degree.

Last fall Mr. Cohn took over the Newton branch as an independent store and changed the name to Coleman Appliance & Supply, Inc. At present they handle a complete line of plumbing and heating equipment, hardware, paints, wallpaper, appli-

Given Award For Advertising

Competing with more than 2,500 super markets in the United States and Canada, the Star Market Company, of Newtonville and other Boston suburbs, has been honored with a citation for "distinguished service through advertising."

The honor came as a highlight of the annual mid-year top management meeting of super-market executives from all parts of the country.

The company's advertising was selected in a nationwide competition to receive honorable mention in the Fifth Annual McCall's Magazine-Super Market Institute Advertising Awards from among those submitted by super market companies, representing more than 2,500 stores in all parts of the nation.

In awarding the citation to

the local super market organization, William B. Carr, vice president, McCall's Magazine said: "The business of the food industry is the business of making more food available to all at a constantly lower cost. A vital tool in lowering food distribution costs is effective newspaper advertising, which helps the housewife in her vital job as the purchasing agent of her family. Among the many thousands of super market ads performing this task, yours has done the job with distinction."

The competition, the fifth of its kind, is held each year under the auspices of Super Market Institute, national organization of super markets in the United States, Canada, Mexico and Hawaii. It is designed to accord recognition to super markets, whose advertising in the newspapers of the nation, has become an increasingly powerful force for knowledge of nutrition and better family feeding.

Tough Sales Year Predicted for '54 In Wall St. Paper

With sales competition stiffening, business firms will have to increase their advertising budgets in 1954 to keep their place in the public eye, according to an article in the Wall Street Journal.

"You can bet that every stop on the advertising organ will be pulled next year," the advertising manager of the Sinclair Oil Corporation was quoted as saying in response to a nationwide survey undertaken by Wall Street Journal reporters. The survey revealed that of 92 companies quizzed, 59 plan to boost their advertising spending. Only 29 intend to keep to about the same budget, while a mere four companies contemplate cutting the budget. The vast majorities of companies canvassed reported that their ad outlays were already at a record peak.

An official of a meter, valve and power tool manufacturing firm explained the upward trend in this manner: "We're coming from lush times into a period where supply of manufactured goods exceeds demand and we've got to keep hitting on six cylinders to meet keener competition."

A California sales manager reported, "I just recently returned from a trip throughout the East and found that more and more advertisers are bracing themselves for a harder selling year."

The main reason cited for the increased advertising outlays is the stiffening sales battle. These manufacturers include a cross-section of industry, including such companies as Sears Roebuck, Shell Oil, Pan-American World Airways, U. S. Steel, Aluminum Company of America and the majority of motor car manufacturers.

Taking issue with firms which seek to save money during hard times by reducing their advertising, an Admiral Corporation executive declared, "We certainly don't agree with the people who are pulling in their horns. You don't maintain your position in the industry by cutting your budget."

The Wall Street Journal article clearly implied that the businessman who fails to step up his advertising during the coming year will find himself being eased out of a tight market.

Although several suits of formal wear have already been received, more large size tuxedos and dress suits are still needed to complete outfitting the Newton Police and Fire Departments Glee Club.
The 35 members of the singing organization also need silk hats. Anyone who wishes to donate formal attire to the Glee Club is requested to telephone Officer John J. Mullen at LA 5ell 7-0750 after 6 p.m.
The Glee Club, which has made numerous appearances in the past at benefits and before local groups, has an ambitious program planned for the 1953-54 season. This will be the fourth year of the group's concertizing.

In December, the group will sing at the Wellesley Christmas Festival at Wellesley High School. The same week, they will sing Christmas carols in Wellesley square under the sponsorship of the Wellesley Council, Knights of Columbus.
A series of combined glee club concerts and minstrel shows are planned for next year before various organizations. The men do not appear in uniform and need the formal clothing for their first season unsupported by municipal aid.

Fitts Photo Opens 5th Shop in Chain in Newton Corner

Featuring one of the largest stocks of any photographic store in Massachusetts, Fitts Photo Shops has opened the fifth store in its chain at 293 Washington street, Newton.
As the firm maintains a large warehouse in Framingham, Fitts can furnish practically any stock on short notice. Fitts Photo is also completely restocking the store, which formerly was the Newton Corner Photo Shop.
The store has been completely renovated, including a new outside front, rearrangement of display inside and painting from floor to ceiling.
The new manager is John Forsdick, a Newton resident, who was manager of the Fitts branch in Shoppers' World for four years prior to being transferred here.
A feature of all Fitts Photo Shops is the variety of budget plans available. Merchandise may be purchased for as little as $1 down and $1 a week. There are also regular charge accounts and layaway plans.
One-day processing is available if film or negatives are left by 3 p.m. The finished product will be ready at 3 p.m. the next day, after being processed in a central laboratory in Framingham. The store chain also boasts factory-trained repairmen for all camera needs.
Other Fitts shops are in Framingham, Fitchburg, Shoppers' World and Leominster.
Celebrating the opening of the Newton Corner store, a large number of gifts were presented to early visitors. Hazel Lawson of 20 Fuller road, Watertown, won a Bolex 35 mm. camera with case and flashgun, while Marjorie Whiting of 148 Highland street, Newtonville, received a Revue 8 mm. movie camera.

Unique 'Earn and Give' Drive Helps Hospital Aid Project

In all the sections of Newton and in the Wellesleys, members of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Association are hard at work this fall on their second annual "Earn and Give" project. This year the Aid has voted to finance the construction and furnishing of a Post-Operative Recovery Room for the Hospital, which will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000.
The Post-Operative Recovery Room will be equipped with every modern device to assure prompt recovery of the surgical patient under ideal conditions. The patient will return to his own room in much better condition, which, in turn, will materially aid the hospital by easing the nursing burden.
In Wellesley, Mrs. Paul T. Babson, president of the Aid, hand-painted many dozens of pearl buttons for children's dresses and sweaters. Others contributed from a large variety of sources.
In West Newton, Mrs. Louis Fowler gave vacation special singing lessons for her contribution. Mrs. Edward W. Pride's donation came from the sale of a "gay nineties" lamp, and Mrs. George H. Fernald gave a "Meet Your Neighbor" silver tea. Orders for blanket covers she made of cotton plisse have been taken by Mrs. William F. King. Mrs. Anton Fried is showing colored slides of her trip to the Near East last summer.
Among the most noteworthy projects was the beautiful Hope Rug hand-hooked by Mrs. M. W. Dennison of Newton. This rug was sold in Evanston, Illinois, through the Hospital Aid Shop of Evanston Hospital and the substantial proceeds given toward the Recovery Room. Also in Newton, Mrs. J. B. Jamieson made peach, blackberry and raspberry jams, and Mrs. Clarence C. Colby made men's cotton plaid bow ties. Mrs. Earl P. Stevenson knitted gloves. Mrs. Sterling Loveland is painting oval letter boxes. Another knitter was Miss Marguerite Flanders of Newton Centre.
Honors for the best community enterprise to date go to the Newton Highlands directors: Mrs. Martin P. Luthy, Mrs. Grosvenor D. Marcy, Mrs. Ward I. Cornell, Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy, Mrs. P. Edward Eden, Mrs. John Fox and Mrs. Fred G. Sandford, who were hostesses for a large dessert bridge in the workshop. The Garden Club of Newton Highlands, of which Mrs. Leonard T. Jenney is president, co-operated by donating small vases of flowers for prizes and by auctioning off the large floral arrangements they designed for decorations.
In Newtonville, Mrs. Harold Keller sold date books containing an original poem she had written, and also constructed an original crossword puzzle called "Patients' Painless Pastime" which is on sale in several Hospital Gift Shops. Mrs. H. P. Bankhart made and sold an afghan, and Mrs. Theodore Clark has been taking orders for homemade doughnuts.
In Waban, Mrs. Robert W. Moore Jr. is planning a series of reducing luncheons. The old New England virtues of thrift and self denial were practiced by many members, among whom were Mrs. F. E. Withee, Mrs. John Fox, Mrs. Bruce H. Gardner, Mrs. J. W. Gerrity, Mrs. L. Sumner Prunty, Mrs. Fred D. Bond, Miss Ethel L. Hall, Miss Fannie E. Hall, Mrs. Harold C. Hart, Mrs. W. Ames, Mrs. B. J. Owen, Mrs. Gardner H. Carpenter, Miss Bessie P. Tower, Miss Beatrice Tower, Miss E. H. Woodberry and Mrs. Warner V. Taylor.
Still others whose gifts have helped swell the fund are Miss Leonora N. Soule, Miss Bessie N. Soule, Mrs. W. Elliot Pratt, Mrs. Harold F. Niles, Miss Barbara Estabrook, Mrs. Walter M. Fife, Mrs. Orville W. Forte, Mrs. E. J. Quinn, Mrs. Ellsworth M. Tracy, Mrs. Robert G. Wiese, Mrs. Susan H. Wright, Mrs. Hubert L. Carter, Mrs. Frank L. Richardson, Mrs. Roger W. Babson, Mrs. Clark Beiden, Mrs. Elton G. Cushman, Mrs. Frederick J. Dunn, and Mrs. Weston B. Flint. Among those who earned their money by doing without help in cleaning or sewing or gardening were Mrs. Lyndell F. Carter, Mrs. James C. Munro, Mrs. E. Farnum Rockwood, Mrs. Arthur G. Carver, Mrs. E. P. Garland and Mrs. Chester F. Rich.
Mrs. George C. Prather is general chairman of the "Earn and Give" project. Village Chairmen are: Auburndale, Mrs. Susan H. Wright; Newton, Mrs. Donald L. Gibbs; Newton Centre, Mrs. Morris Courtiss; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Martin P. Luthy; Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Alvah Ring; Newtonville, Mrs. F. Hopewell Underhill; Oak Hill, Mrs. Donald B. Wheeler; Waban, Mrs. Gordon B. Gifford; Wellesley Hills, Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller; West Newton, Mrs. William F. King. The treasurer of the project is Mrs. Benjamin Deming, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Slayton and Mrs. Henry Sawdey. To be eligible for the prizes to be presented in January, the project must be completed and the description sent to the Aid office by November 15.

Donald L. Gibbs, Candidate for Representative, Cites Duties

Donald L. Gibbs spoke at a large rally at the home of Ernest G. Angevine, 95 Prince street, West Newton, Wednesday night. He said in part: What are some of the qualifications which the voters must seek in the man to fill the shoes of Chris Herter, Jr.? In the first place, he must be a completely dependable Republican. I am the only candidate who has been an active Republican worker all my voting life and am the only candidate who has been Chairman of my Ward Republican Committee and a member of and Chairman of the Republican City Committee. As such I have served the Republicans of the City for years. The Republican majority is so slight that the candidate must be wholeheartedly in agreement with the Governor's program for the rehabilitation of Massachusetts, including the reorganization of the District Court system.

Secondly, the candidate should have a background of business success. I am Vice-President of the Kendall Paper Company, Treasurer of Laminated Papers, Inc. and a Director of Bryant and Stratton School. My associates in the paper industry have honored me by electing me President and now Treasurer of the New England Paper Merchants Association, the largest regional trade association group in the paper distributing industry.

In the third place, a candidate must have experience in governmental affairs. I was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen for nine years, during which time I served on or was Chairman of every important committee. During my last two years, I was honored by being selected to serve as Chairman of the Finance Committee the Senior and most important committee of all. After the budget was adopted, the Board of Aldermen unanimously passed a Resolution thanking me for my efforts in examining and reporting the budget. I have been particularly pleased with the way the men with whom I was associated on the Newton Board of Aldermen have endorsed me and worked for my election. It is impossible to work long hours with a man on such a complicated matter as the Newton budget without forming an impression of his ability and character.

Lastly a candidate must have a willingness to work for civic activities and to do his part in the voluntary affairs of the City which are so important in making Newton such an outstanding community. I have worked up through the ranks in the Community Chest drives and have served as Special Gifts Chairman for Newton. As Chairman of the Newton Red Cross Drive in 1952, it was a wonderful experience to work with some 1200 other volunteers. I am President of Newton Players, Inc., connected with the Rebecca Pomeroy Home and have served on the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Salvation Army and other drives.

These are some of the requirements that are necessary for good representation at the State House and which a candidate should meet. Massachusetts looks to Newton for good representation."

Elections-

most the entire election function, from voter listing and preparation of ballots through the actual counting and on to protests and recounts, in the hands of one single group."

The separate authority "would be able to develop better controls, service, training of election personnel and general handling of elections." The Association stated that the plan supporters claim this would make the city clerk's office just what the name implies.

However, the Association wrote that the plan would result in "less inter-departmental efficiency and more friction at City Hall." Their plan, though, allows the assistant city clerk to use clerical personnel already experienced in election work.

"There are peaks and valleys in the work load of election departments," the Association directors continued. "To keep the authority in the clerk would offer greater opportunity to have the clerical force more adaptable to shifts in the load."

This would also allow the city to develop a trained "junior executive" in the assistant city clerk, although his primary duty would be for elections. The directors doubted whether the separate group plan would allow the person in charge "the same chance for broader training for future use to the city."

An assistant city clerk would have the incentive to "develop policies and programs for election personnel" and the "same close relationship" would exist between registrars and clerk as in the other plan, the directors argued.

"Therefore," concluded the Association, "because the Taxpayers' plan would obviously cost less, because it would avoid further compartmentalization of city departments, because it would make more efficient use of the clerical force under broader integrated supervision, because it provides for better executive training, because it puts the junior, without civil service, under the direct control of officials to whom elections are of real significance, because it retains an independent review board, and because it would provide better election service with respect to both the operations at City Hall and to the voters, your Association recommends the organizational changes outlined here rather than a petition for special legislation to create a separate operating department whether it be an Election Commission or expanded Registrars of Voters."

"We think it better to use our existing advantages and develop them further through reorganization rather than to add another branch to our expanding city government."

Evening Division

The Newton Community Club, Evening Division held a Progressive Dinner on Tuesday evening, Nov. 3rd.

Hostesses for the first course were Mrs. Francis Morris, Mrs. Kenneth Yukes, Mrs. Thomas Seeley, Mrs. Alvie Jorgensen and Mrs. Leo Murphy. Second courses were held at the homes of Mrs. Robert Burns, Miss Johanna Ristuccia, Mrs. George Haines, Mrs. Leon Huston, Mrs. Albert Leone and Mrs. Frederick Dauten. All guests gathered for a final course of coffee and apple pie and cheese at the home of Mrs. George Quigley.

Meeting in groups of seven or eight at each home and joining a different group at the next course enabled many members, who had not met previously, to become acquainted during the evening. A short business meeting was held after the final course and many expressed the hope that this might become an annual event since it proved to be so much enjoyed.

-GRAPHIC SPORTS-

The weather man, who pulled a pair of beautiful Saturdays out of his hat the last two Saturdays in October, opened the floodgates last weekend to wipe out practically the entire schoolboy schedule in eastern Massachusetts. . . . Newton was to have met Quincy at the latter's stadium that day, but the boggy morass was unplayable. Although the weather cleared in the afternoon, school officials acted wisely in calling off the contest at an early date. Certainly no game is worth the increased risk of injuries caused by slippery, gooey turf.

It now appears that the Newton-Quincy encounter may never be played, at least this fall. Orange and Black coaches rejected a suggestion to play Monday afternoon, as this would mean facing a rugged Waltham eleven only five days later. . . . There is still a possibility, however, that the game may be played November 21, the Saturday before the traditional Thanksgiving encounter with Brookline.

A little rain on Sunday might have made things a little easier for Our Lady's High School, which was buried 20-0 at St. Mary's High of Waltham. On the second play from scrimmage, the St. Mary's fullback exploded through the Newton line for 57 yards and a touchdown. . . . The same back, sophomore Jack Roberts, also went 61 yards on a similar play on the final play of the first half. A 56-yard pass play by St. Mary's was sandwiched between Roberts' two scampers. . . . Our Lady's best offensive came in the first period when a punting fumble was recovered on the Waltham 33. Three running plays brought the ball to a first down on the 18, but OL was unable to do anything after that. . . . The Newton squad's offense was practically nil Sunday, showing a rushing total of 35 yards in 28 rushes. One pass was completed for a one-yard loss, and a 15-yarder was ruled complete because of interference. The game was kept from being a rout by the officials, who called 12 penalties on St. Mary's. The penalties cost the Waltham team 114 yards in all. In contrast, Our Lady's was not penalized once that afternoon. . . . Our Lady's coach Jim Sullivan cracked, "It's a good thing the officials stopped them. Our defense couldn't."

Despite the weak showing this year of Our Lady's, the team has received more support from the student body than does many a high-flying squad. A casual onlooker witnessing the team's return to the Newton church would think the squad was continuing its once-fabulous unbeaten string, so enthusiastic are the receptions by the Our Lady's students. With spirit like this, it won't be long until Our Lady's is back at the top of the Catholic League's Division 2.

In an effort to make some prediction for the Newton-Brookline Turkey Day extravaganza, we journeyed to Brookline Monday afternoon to watch the Townies play host to Watertown High. Newton dumped the boys from the Arsenal 28-13 early in the season, and the game should give some indication of Brookline's strength. . . . Although most of last year's regulars were missing at the beginning of the season, Brookline was still supposed to have a powerful outfit. They looked anything but that as Watertown swept to victory by a 25-13 count. . . . The second half of the game, played at Brookline's chilly Town Field, was witnessed by the Newton High gridsters who arrived in the midst of half-time ceremonies. Their arrival gave Brookline rooters more to yell about than did the home team's efforts from then on. Perhaps Brookline was trying to make Newton over-optimistic about the Thanksgiving Day game. They certainly showed little to worry about. . . . However, that's what most observers thought last year, when potent Brookline stormed into the season's finale at Dickinson Stadium with an in-and-out Newton. Only a fanatic Orange-and-Black rooter could have guessed beforehand that Brookline would squeak out a mere 20-13 win. . . . It's been said before, but the truth remains: season's records go out the window when traditional enemies meet.

Brookline showed a fast and tricky offense, relying heavily on winged-T pitchouts, wide end sweeps and fakery by the backfield. No back is outstanding, at least none was on Monday, and the defense had some big holes, especially where passes were concerned. . . . Their up-the-middle smashes were good for slow but steady gains against a heavier Watertown, but there was little semblance of a passing attack. Newton should win, but as we said. . . . ?

The more immediate prospect ahead is the invasion Saturday afternoon by rough and rugged Waltham High. The Brookline game is supposedly the top battle of the local season, but Waltham is rivaling the Wealthy Towners for the traditional enemy. . . . Thanks to the rainout, both teams had no trouble maintaining their unbeaten records. Waltham has been tied twice, by Leominster and Arlington, while barely easing by another pair of opponents by point-after touch-down margins. . . . Waltham will carry a 12-pound per line-man advantage into the game, although its backfield is lighter than the Garden Cityans. The Watch City boys have played erratic ball so far, as witnessed by that 6-6 deadlock with little Class B Leominster and their earlier 26-6 trouncing of highly-rated Haverhill. . . . No matter what the outcome Saturday, it will be a game well worth watching, especially since two Newton victories in these remaining games will insure the Orange and Black of at least a tie for top in the Class A schoolboy ratings. . . . Let's go, Tigers!

Women's Mercantile, Mrs. Dorothy Reed, chairman, $8,813; Public Schools, Frank Zervas, chairman, $4,700; and Municipal, Chief Philip Purcell, chairman, $2,338.

The employees of Newton-Wellesley Hospital make up the largest unit that has so far reached 100 per cent of its goal. John A. Harrison, Administrative Resident at the Hospital, organized the campaign there and accepted a goal of $2,700. To date, total subscriptions are $2,787 and this compares with $2,484 a year ago. Ninety-two percent of the 438 employees at the hospital have subscribed through this unit and average subscriptions are $6.25. This is a splendid record. Everyone connected with Newton-Wellesley is to be congratulated.

Other units which have made or exceeded 100 per cent are: Newton Police Department, goal $525, raised $558; Newton Highlands Mercantile, goal $480, raised $480; Municipal Library Department, goal $240, raised $254; Newton Fire Department, goal $220, raised $236; and Automobile Section, Mercantile, goal $1,050, raised $1,171. Credit for this latter achievement goes largely to the Employees of the Moye-Chevrolet Company who this year have subscribed more than five times as much as a year ago.

David Berkman, Newton Campaign Chairman, has invited the captains in charge of the solicitation of the above units to attend as his guests the Report Luncheon at Boston Headquarters on Tuesday, November 17. He has extended a further invitation to every team captain in every division that reaches 100 per cent of his goal by Monday night to join him on this occasion. He hopes to have two or more tables filled with Newton 100 per centers.

In the 164 teams in Residential, there are a number of captains who are likely to qualify. Results of these teams have been tabulated only after the fourth Report Night when just a little over one-half of subscriptions had been reported. The record of one of Oak Hill's solicitors has received much favorable comment. He signed up to solicit for the first time this year and was assigned 12 cards in his neighborhood. Eight of the 12 prospects made subscriptions last year, totaling $28.50. This solicitor received subscriptions from all of his prospects, totaling $136. This is more than five times the amount received from the same prospects a year ago.

Monday, November 16, will be the final Bank Night for the Residential Division and all workers who have not already completed their solicitation will be active this week end. If by Monday, November 16, the reader has not been called on in the interest of the Red Feather Campaign, it will be very much appreciated if he will call the office of the Newton Community Chest, LA-sell 7-5120, and arrangements will be made to have a representative call. While the Newton Campaign closes next week, subscriptions will continue to be received and there will, without doubt, be some late solicitation. In many cases the solicitor calls to find no one at home and delays making a latter call until the end of the campaign.

Last year Newton failed to make its goal by $22,000. In the general campaign Metropolitan Boston failed by $950,000. This year, with approximately the same goal as a year ago, every effort is being made to make up the deficiency. It is Chairman Berkman's hope that Newton will raise its $325,000 goal and his aim is to reach the highest total possible. There is a great need for increased giving and every Newton citizen, whether called on or not, is urged to make a generous gift.

Santa to Arrive In Waltham In Special Helicopter Sunday at 2:15 p.m.

Santa's own special helicopter will set down at Reece Manufacturing Company on Prospect street in Waltham at 2:15 p. m. on Sunday, Nov. 15th. The parade which Santa is to honor with his genial presence will form at Reece Manufacturing Company, proceed across Main street and down Moody street to Grover Cronin of Waltham.

Escorting Santa in his biggest and best annual parade ever will be 30 thrilling marching units, comedians galore and 5 magnificent floats.

Sparkling the parade this year as a special and novel event will be four live reindeer brought by Santa from the North Pole. The reindeer will assume their customary positions at the head of Santa's sleigh.

Thousands of children and parents will throng to the sidewalks of Prospect, Main and Moody streets to welcome Santa to Waltham and to thrill to the many colorful bands, drill teams, and drum and bugle corps of local fame.

Thousands will laugh and cheer at the antics of nationally famous clown, Herb Taylor. Entertainment will be provided also by Happy Spitzer, and the Stubborn Mule. Listen to the uproar when Happy Roberts, the comedy cop, performs on his special miniature motorcycle! Watch the fun when the old-fashioned bicycles roll down Moody street! See the unusual old cars, including the 2-cylinder Metz made originally in Waltham years ago! Marvel at the famous Trampoline Act that will thrill young and old along the parade route!

The parade will feature also five beautifully decorated floats, specially designed for the celebration of Santa's arrival in Waltham. One of the floats will represent the traditional Nativity scene.

Still another special event will be the marching prize dogs, applauded in a previous Grover Cronin parade and brought back for the Santa Parade by popular demand.

Mayor Henry A. Turner, one of the honored guests of the Santa Parade, will officially welcome Santa to Waltham.

From the Parking Lot of the Grover Cronin store, Chief Frank Fleming of the Waltham Fire Department will assist Santa as he climbs to the top of the Grover Cronin chimney. Whereupon down the chimney Santa will go. He will spend the remainder of the day getting ready to greet youngsters of all ages in Santa land at Grover Cronin until Christmas.

WCRB Eliminates All Jazz and Disc Jockey Programs

This week WCRB eliminated all jazz and disc jockey programs from its daily broadcasts. The station now features programs of concert music, semi-classical selections, and music from the theatre. WCRB will thus be the only AM radio station in the Greater Boston area with programs devoted entirely to "good" music.

WCRB operates with 1000 watts power on a frequency of 1330 kilocycles (133 on most radio dials) and has been bringing concert music to an ever growing audience for the past two and one-half years on its daily "Afternoon at Symphony" broadcasts. This program, heard daily from 2:30 until sunset will continue under the supervision of Mr. Richard L. Kaye, WCRB's music director, as the featured concert music broadcast in the station's new schedule. "Afternoon at Symphony" is a unique program; its fundamental policy of fine music with a minimum of talk and limited commercials continues to meet with enthusiastic response from listeners in all walks of life.

WCRB continues to broadcast on a daylight schedule, from sunrise to sunset, but an application filed by the station with the Federal Communications Commission last June is expected to be acted upon by that group within a few weeks. If the action is favorable, WCRB will be able to broadcast during the night time hours and will be able to strengthen its program signal in the Boston area. The station plans to extend its good music policy into the evening hours if this permission is granted by the F. C. C. Among the planned evening programs would be a broadcast of "Evening in Symphony" similar to WCRB's present afternoon concert.

Permits Are Required by State Law for Burning in the Open

Permits Are Required For Burning In The Open

When the burning of any types of materials or substances are burnt in the open, that is, when the burning is NOT done in a confined area such as an incinerator, a "Permit to Burn" is required by State Law. These "Permits to Burn" in Newton may be obtained by any person of legal age at any of the Fire Stations or at Fire Headquarters. They are good only for the time stated or when issued. They can be revoked at any time by an order of the Chief of Department.

"Permits to Burn" will NOT be issued over the telephone at any time, they can only be secured by applying in person at the stated locations. Burning without a Permit can lead to a fine of One Hundred Dollars or imprisonment for not more than one month or both.

Leaves or any other substance should not be burned on any newly surfaced highways that have been done in the last two years. If there is any doubt as to the age of the pavement at your residence, if you are going to burn leaves, please check with the Highway Department first to make sure it is all right to use it for that purpose.

When you do burn, do it in a safe manner that will not cause trouble or inconvenience to your neighbors or cause traffic accidents. Never burn on windy days or in sections that are too close to buildings. Be sure that the fire is out before you leave it and remove the ashes from the street.

Be a good citizen and respect the rights of others, do it as you would like them to do it. Keep Newton SAFE.

Newton Fire Prevention Bureau Auto Parking and Fire Service

Automobile parking on city streets is becoming daily a greater menace to effective fire service than most any other factor common to city life.

This is particularly true in business and manufacturing districts and around apartment houses and theatres, in all of which sections there is congestion of people which may, at time of fire, require quick and extensive work to prevent serious loss of life. In fact it is the life hazard which is greatly affected by this street parking. Parking close to school buildings is a contributing factor to the loss of lives and property due to the fact the apparatus cannot be correctly placed for life saving operations, or lay lines in effectively.

The seriousness of parking is due to several causes:

1. Ladder and rescue work may be retarded because of the inability to get near the building.
2. Hydrants may be obstructed, at all hours some people insist in parking in front of them for lack of other parking space.
3. Visibility of fire alarm boxes is lessened.
4. Street width is so reduced that apparatus can not maneuver, this is especially true when there is snow on the ground and the streets are plowed.
5. Traffic congestion is increased so that fire apparatus can not get through.
6. Collision and injury to firemen on running boards is more apt to occur.
7. Large trucks, loaded with combustible material, constitute a serious exposure hazard to nearby buildings.

The present condition of street parking and general congestion is due in a large part to the fire hazard which existed in the automobile in the early days of its use, and the consequent trend toward restrictive legislation. This resulted in prohibition, in zoning regulations, of garages except in unrestricted zones, a limitation of distance to churches and schools, a restriction against storage in buildings of other occupancy, and a requirement for special construction, including the non-use of below-ground sections of buildings.

There have been such improvements in the design of automobiles, and reduction in amount of combustible material in their structure that there is little hazard in their storage, especially where improved construction is used in building and adequate protection and good maintenance is provided.

Correct parking of automobiles can do much to help reduce the congestion in business areas.

1. Park close to the curb.
2. Do not double park where it is not allowed.
3. Where there is only "live parking" be sure to stay in your auto.
4. Obey all of the traffic signs wherever they may be posted.
5. Extend the same courtesies to the other drivers that you would expect from them.

Fire safety requires the cooperation of everyone. Let us all do our part to make Newton a much safer city in which to live, work and play.

GEORGE WASHINGTON WEEKS

The Rev. Louis E. Ford, minister of the Myrtle Baptist Church, West Newton, officiated Monday afternoon, Nov. 9, at funeral services for George Washington Weeks, 82, sexton-emeritus of the First Unitarian Society in Newton, who died Friday, Nov. 6, at his home, 9 Curve street, West Newton, after a lingering illness. About seventy persons attended the service, held at his home by Mr. Weeks' specific request, instead of at the church of which he had been a member for half a century or the West Unitarian Church which he had served for fifty years as sexton until his retirement eight years ago. He had lived in Newton for seventy years.

A favorite hymn of Mr. Weeks, "Safe in the Rock," and favorite Scripture passages, including the first and twenty-third psalms, were used as part of the service. Recorded music was used as prelude to the simple services under the personal direction of Thomas J. Lyons, funeral director.

Deacon James Spikes, superintendent of the Myrtle Baptist Sunday School, read a tribute as part of the service, recalling Mr. Weeks' church membership for the last fifty years and his service as a deacon for forty years. A long cortege of mourners attended the final rites at Newton Cemetery, where the Rev. Mr. Ford conducted the committal service at the family plot. Born Sept. 29, 1871 at Fredericksburg, Virginia, son of the late Charles and Mary (Spow) Weeks, George W. Weeks came to West Newton as a boy of thirteen with his widowed mother and a brother and sister. He attended Newton schools. As a young man in his twenties, he became sexton of the First Unitarian Church in Newton in its former wooden structure on Washington street that later served as Players Hall, then at the new Gothic edifice, erected in 1905. He continued as sexton through the last war, returning to "his" church after an illness in October, 1944, until his final retirement in May, 1946. He had served faithfully as custodian of the church under three ministers, the late Dr. Julian C. Jaynes and Dr. Paul Phelan and Dr. Herbert Hitchen, now minister of the First Unitarian Church in Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Weeks is survived by his wife, Mrs. Blanche (Williams) Weeks; one son, George E. Weeks, New York City; and two daughters, both nurses, Miss Gladys E. Weeks, Lincoln Hospital, New York City; and Miss Dorothy E. Weeks, West Newton, of Newton-Wellesley Hospital. There are three grandchildren, Mrs. Irving Goldstein, Dorothy A. and Alan Weeks, all of New York; also a niece, Mrs. Ethel Bell Johnson, Washington, D. C.

Besides the family and fellow-members of the Myrtle Baptist Church congregation, the First Unitarian Society in Newton was represented at the funeral by Edward V. Whorf, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Kathryn M. Holgate, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Julian C. Jaynes, widow of the former minister; Mrs. Joseph C. Skinner, wife of the chairman of trustees; Margaret S. Ball, parish clerk; Mrs. A. Bela Szilard, wife of the church architect; William L. Tisdal, member of the board of trustees and Mrs. Tisdal, public relations chairman.

At the annual parish dinner-meeting of the West Newton Unitarian Church in May, 1946, the retiring sexton, George W. Weeks, was a guest of honor. The principal speaker was Sinclair Weeks, lifetime church member who had served as clerk of the former standing committee, and had been alderman and mayor of Newton as had his father before him.

The late John Wingate Weeks, also served both in Congress and the U. S. Senate and in the Cabinet as Secretary of War. (Sinclair Weeks served briefly as U. S. Senator from Massachusetts and is now in President Eisenhower's Cabinet as Secretary of Commerce.)

In a friendly speech praising George Weeks' long faithful service to the church, Sinclair Weeks recalled that "We Weeks" have been here a long time. You, George, and I came to the West Newton Church about the same time." Sinclair Weeks was born the same year that George started his duties as sexton. The older man and young boy of the same family name, but not related, became life-long friends. Older members of the parish, also friends, called on George Weeks at his home during his years of retirement.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Any Solution to MTA Problem Sure to Offend Some Groups . . . Gov. Dewey and Cong. Roosevelt Line Up for Battle in '54 . . .

It was typical of the caliber of service performed by the former MTA trustees, who were legislated out of office last March by Governor Herter, that eight days before they were ousted they placed an order for the purchase of $180,000 worth of new snow-fighters.

At the time they contracted to buy the costly snow-fighting equipment the Dever trustees must have had a pretty good idea that they were on their way out and that their days at the head of the transit system were numbered.

If they didn't, they were about the only people in Massachusetts who were in the dark on the matter, and it is reasonable to assume that they kept abreast of the progress of the bill Governor Herter sponsored to reorganize the board on which they were serving.

Thus, they must have known that they wouldn't be running the transit system, when the snowfighters were delivered, and that they were saddling their successors with a transaction they might not want to make.

$61,998 More Needed

80.9 Percent of Red Feather Fund Quota Given to Date

Newton's total subscriptions in the United Red Feather Campaign as reported at Tuesday's Boston luncheon at United Community Services Headquarters were $283,002. This includes all subscriptions received at Bank Headquarters on Monday night. Newton has now raised 80.9% of its goal.

As Newton's goal is $325,000, and additional $61,998 must be raised to reach the 100% objective of the Newton campaign organization and time is getting short, as the campaign is now in its last week.

The closing date in Newton originally scheduled for Nov. 16 has been extended to November 23. Residential captains and workers may make reports to tonight, Thursday, November 19, at the Newton Centre Savings Bank, 103 Union street, Newton Centre, which will be open between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. After tonight, residential reports may be made during bank hours to bank headquarters on Friday and until noon Monday. Reports may be made in other Divisions at regular headquarters daily during bank hours and after Monday noon, to the Chest office. The final night of the campaign will be marked with a dinner at the Hotel Statler, Tuesday, November 24. Newton residents and businesses who have not already been contacted by solicitors are urged to telephone their pledges to Newton Community Chest headquarters, LAseil 7-5120. The office will be open from 9 to 5 on Friday and Monday and from 7:30 to 10:00 Monday evening.

Newton Day was celebrated on Tuesday at the Metropolitan Boston Report Luncheon, when 40 representatives of the campaign organization and Red Feather agencies attended. David Berkman, Newton chairman, was a guest at the head table and 10 of Newton's group were team captains and leaders who have already reached 100% of their campaign goals. This latter group were guests of Mr. Berkman.

Among the units which have reached 100% of their goal are the following: Mercantile Women's, Auburndale, Mrs. Ulmont S. Jones, captain; Newton Highlands, Mrs. Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., captain; Newton-Wellesley Hospital employees, John A. Har-

Home for Little Wanderers Aided by W.N. Church School

Both Upper and Lower grades of the church school of the First Unitarian Society in Newton will again participate in the Thanksgiving Ingathering for the Home for Little Wanderers in Boston when they bring bags of food and clothing and envelopes containing money to the Family Sunday service next Sunday morning.

This marks the 89th Thanksgiving celebration, which includes chapel service and dinner, at the Home for Little Wanderers, 161 South Huntington avenue, Boston, made possible by the contributions of hundreds of churches in the Boston area for this non-sectarian work for underprivileged children.

The church school of the West Newton Unitarian Church has shared in this Thanksgiving Ingathering for some years past. This year, for the first time, the church school, assembled in the new children's chapel, heard first-hand about the Home for Little Wanderers when Mrs. Jessie Melvin, supervisor of foster home care, addressed pupils and teachers Sunday morning.

Children and families of the West Newton Unitarian church are asked to share their bounty with the Home for Little Wanderers by bringing canned staple foods, fruits, fruit juices, canned and powdered milk, and baby foods. Children's clothing and shoes in good condition are also acceptable, and money contributions from adults or children will be welcome, according to the letter to parents sent home with the church school children by Harry B. Taplin, assistant to the minister, and Frederick G. Fisher, Jr., chairman of religious education.

Children and adults are invited Sunday afternoon to the annual open house, held in connection with the Thanksgiving Ingathering, at the Home for Little Wanderers. About a thousand persons visited the home last year on this occasion from many metropolitan churches.

W.N. Unitarian Special Parish Meeting Mon.

Skinner, chairman of the board of trustees, and Miss Margaret S. Ball, clerk of the society.

The purposes of the meeting are twofold: to hear and act upon the recommendation of the board of trustees that a Chan-nig Church Memorial be established by taking the sum of $12,000 from the unrestricted capital fund known as the "Chan-nig Fund," using accumulated income so far as many be available and the balance from the principal, and transferring said sum to the Building Fund.

Sudden Death Changes Living Tribute to Memorial Service

A special program planned as a living tribute to an internationally recognized pioneer in the field of Clinical Pastoral Training became a memorial service yesterday (Wednesday) at 4 p.m., when Andover Newton Theological School, Newton, established the Guilds Chair of Psychology and Clinical Training.

The Rev. Dr. Austin P. Guiles, Andover Newton Theological professor who was to have been the keynote speaker and honored guest died unexpectedly last Friday night at the New England Baptist Hospital.

Representatives of some 350 colleges, seminaries, institutions, hospitals and associations interested in the field of psychology and clinical training participated in formal installation exercises at the First Church (Congregational), Newton Centre.

Dr. Guiles had been director of Clinical Pastoral Training at the school since 1931. He instituted the courses at the Seminary, oldest Baptist and Congregational schools in America, and some 75 per cent of the clergy now engaged in this field throughout the country were trained at Andover Newton.

The Rev. Dr. John M. Billinsky, of Newton, Protestant chaplain at Boston City Hospital and professor of clinical training at Andover Newton, was seminary president, stated in part: "A fund to endow this chair has been raised during the past year. Dr. Guiles had been a pioneering leader in this field and

Hold Garbage Boiling Plan For More Study

Newton's garbage boiling proposal, which was violently opposed by homeowners living near the city incinerator in Newton Highlands, was "held for further study" by the aldermen Monday night.

In addition to holding the matter, the board requested Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood "to have a study made by a firm of consulting engineers."

The storm of protest came after the mayor approved a plan by Director of Public Works Willard S. Pratt for a $300,000 expansion of the city incinerator to include facilities for cooking garbage with steam from the incinerator.

At a public hearing last month, angry residents overflowed seating arrangements at the aldermanic chambers in City Hall to object to the boiling plan.

Although his margin of victory was narrowed to 17 votes, Charles H. Cosgrove was confirmed as Ward Alderman from Ward 3 following a recount Tuesday of the West Newton ballots.

The recount was requested by Charles H. Meeker, who in the original tally drew 1114 votes to Mr. Cosgrove's 1174. The recount cost the winner 20 ballots, while Mr. Meeker picked up 23. The final count was 1137 for Mr. Meeker, 1154 for Mr. Cosgrove.

The third candidate for the ward aldermen's post, William J. Maloney, had 381 ballots, a drop of one from last week's figure. Four ballots classified as blanks were found to be legally marked for a candidate.

Increase in Water Rates Approved; Extra Boost Voted Large Consumers

Increasing Mayor Lockwood's proposed water rate boosts for large-scale users, the Newton Board of Aldermen at their Monday meeting also approved the 25 per cent increase for householders asked by the mayor.

The board approved a recommendation that rates for daily consumption under 1000 cubic feet be upped from 18 cents to 22½ cents per 100 cubic feet. A new rate of 16½ cents per 100 cubic feet for consumers using above the 1000 cubic foot figure was substituted for the mayor's recommended 15 cents. The previous rate was 12 cents.

The new prices for the large users drew the opposition of Aldermen Ernest G. Angevine and Winfield C. Anderson. Mr. Angevine advocated a single price for all users, claiming it was unfair to encourage large users of water and then place restrictions on home owners who wish to water their lawns during dry seasons.

The rate increases, the first change since 1926, were sought as a result of the doubling of the cost of water supplied to the city by the Metropolitan Water Commission.

This year the city is expected to consume 1,437,000,000 gallons of MDC water. When the change-over to the MDC system is completed, Newton will then consume about 3,500,000,000 gallons per year.

Starting in January — when the rate to Newton consumers will be increased — the MDC charge for water will go from $40 a million gallons to $80. The present rate was set in 1926, following a reduction from 20 cents per hundred cubic feet to 18 cents.

Basbas Is Named New City Clerk

As Frank M. Grant retired from service to the city of Newton after nearly 50 years, Monte G. Basbas of 52 Vaughan avenue, Newton Highlands, was elected city clerk by the Board of Aldermen Monday night.

The oath of office was administered by Mr. Grant immediately following the unanimous election. Mr. Grant, in stepping down from the post he has held since 1911, praised the aldermen for the cooperation he had received from them and expressed hope that the new clerk would receive the same assistance.

Alderman Ernest G. Angevine, who is vice-president of the board, nominated Mr. Basbas for promotion from assistant city clerk. He also presented a motion on behalf of the board thanking

About 25 P.C. Of Party Vote Cast Tuesday

Donald L. Gibbs, Republican, and Lawrence E. Cooke, Democrat, were the winners in the special primary contest held Tuesday and will thus contest, along with John L. Sheehan, Independent, at the special election to be held December 8 to fill the Representative vacancy from the Fourth Middlesex District caused by the recent resignation of Christian A. Herter, Jr.

In the Republican primary Tuesday, Gibbs won the contest by a substantial margin from Paul S. Rich by a vote of 2,527 to 1,665, while in the Democratic contest Cooke defeated Morris by a close vote of 458 to 406. O'Connell, the third man contesting for the Republican nomination received only 204 votes.

As was expected, the vote cast in this special primary was light and only a total of about 25 percent of those registered in the Republican and Democratic parties went to the polls and registered their choice in the two contests.

Curiously, in both the Republican and Democratic contests, each of the four candidate carried two wards each. Gibbs carried Ward 2 and Ward 3 by large pluralities, while Rich carried Wards 1 and 7 by a closer margin than did Gibbs in Wards 2 and 3. The plurality received by Gibbs in Wards 2 and 3 was more than sufficient to return

Word was received here today of plans of the Fair to be presented by St. Paul's of the Highlands. From all reports, it looks to be a "bigger and better" than ever. Many new and novel ideas are being presented, which is much in keeping with the tradition of Fairs presented by this church.

The opening will be tomorrow (Friday) noon, and will begin with the usual type of delicious luncheon that only churches seem able to offer. This will be followed by the formal opening of the fair for the sale of merchandise.

Saturday is planned as the big day, and will offer a host of opportunities for the purchasing of Christmas gifts and accessories as well as desirable items of general interest. Heading the early activities will be a grand array of children's games and amusements. Never before has so much been planned for the younger folks.

The climax will be a 99c Turkey Supper with all the fixin's, followed by a theatrical production in which an actual auction is conducted. This was written by Charles O. Farrar, a former Rector of St. Paul's Parish, and is now included in Baker's library of nationally accepted plays.

It is urged that everyone avail themselves of the hospitality offered and be the guests of the Parish, "Dutch Treat," of course.

Thanksgiving Service to Be Held Nov. 26

A special Thanksgiving service, open to the general public, is announced by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton for 10:45 a.m. on Thanksgiving Day. The service will be held in the church edifice at 391 Walnut street, Newtonville.

The latter portion of the service will be devoted to spontaneous expressions of gratitude by Christian Scientists for God's goodness as shown in spiritual growth, healings, and other blessings.

Selections on the subject of praise and thanksgiving to God will be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, in a specially prepared Lesson-Sermon entitled "Thanksgiving."

The service is open to the general public and local church members have invited everyone to attend.

Oak Hill Chemist Granted Patent On Fabric Process

Dr. Oscar P. Cohen of 66 Audubon drive, Oak Hill, Monsanto Chemical Company group leader in research, has been granted a United States patent covering compositions for treating and finishing textile fabrics.

Fabrics treated according to the method patented by Dr. Cohen achieve excellent dimensional stability and crease or crush resistance, while retaining the natural soft hand of the untreated textile material.

Dr. Cohen is a member of the research and development department of Monsanto's Merrimac Division here. Merrimac specializes in chemicals and plastics for textile treatment, manufacturing a wide range of products that contribute to the wrinkle resistance of cottons and dimensional stability of wool.

The Newton man has had three other patents granted in his name since joining Monsanto in 1946 as research textile chemist. He was named group leader in paper chemicals in 1952.

Dr. Cohen was graduated from Harvard University in 1938 with an A.B. degree in organic chemistry. From Clark University he received an M.A. degree in 1939 and a Ph.D. degree in 1941. ## Bernard D. Grossman Elected President of Temple Shalom

"I'm deeply conscious of the responsibility which you have entrusted to me for the coming year, and grateful for your choice of a fine group of officers and trustees to work with me," said Bernard D. Grossman, newly elected president of Temple Shalom of Newton at its Annual Congregational Meeting at the temple on Sunday evening, November 15th.

Mr. Grossman went on further to say: "This is an important transitional year in the history of Temple Shalom, and our accomplishments in this year will determine the progress of our Temple for many years to come. We are fortunate in having a firm foundation, which has been established by Rabbi Mandel and President Robert E. Segal, as the basis for our efforts."

"Each of us joined Temple Shalom, hoping to derive some spiritual satisfaction from the association. This cannot be accomplished without participation. With your active interest, I am certain that we can attain our objectives."

"It is my sincere wish that a spirit of team work will prevail in Temple Shalom, for in this way we will fulfill the dreams and aspirations we had when we founded the Congregation to make it a source of inspiration and joy to us and a vital force in our community."

The following officers and trustees were elected to serve for the coming year: Sidney J. Simons, first vice-president; Dr. Meyer Ritvo, second vice-president; Franklin N. Flaschner, secretary; Joseph S. Gilbert, financial secretary, and Mrs. Frank Cottler, corresponding secretary. The trustees are: Donald L. Daniels, Kenneth Huberman, Mrs. Kenneth Huberman, Burton M. Johnson, Dr. David E. Kopans, Harold L. Levin, Bertram H. Loewenberg, Daniel Marcus, Ralph E. Morrison, Harry M. Myers, Mrs. Lester B. Radlo, Howard Rubin, Robert E. Segal, Robert M. Segal, Dr. Samuel Stearns, Max Wasserman, Efram Weinreb, Shepard Yesley.

In the unavoidable absence of Mr. Robert E. Segal, retiring president, Mr. Donald L. Daniels presided. Mr. Franklin N. Flaschner, secretary of the congregation read Mr. Segal's message. Extending congratulations to the new officers and trustees, and to the congregants his message read in part, "I should like to say heartfelt thanks for the privilege of serving as your president since the Temple's incorporation. The Temple's achievement to date, the teamwork manifest, the durable friendships formed and the mutual trusts established all augur a superb future for Temple Shalom."

A gift to the temple, in honor of the services rendered by Mr. Segal, was made by the retiring Board of Trustees. Rabbi Irving A. Mandel, former rabbi of Temple Shalom, sent a message complimenting Robert E. Segal and extending good wishes to the new administration.

The congregation was given its first view of the preliminary plans of the permanent building which they hope to erect in the very near future. This building will include 12 classrooms, a kindergarten, auditoria and sanctuary.

A reception arranged by the Sisterhood followed the meeting. At the Sabbath Eve Service on Friday night, November 20, at 8:15 p.m. the newly elected officers will be installed by guest rabbi, Samuel Perlman. The theme of Rabbi Perlman's address will be, "The Flesh Pots of Our Day."

After the reception following the service, parents of Intermediate and Junior High children are invited by the P. T. A. to return to the chapel for an informative hour with the teaching staff, on religious school procedure.

ON COMEBACK TRAIL—With Newton trailing Waltham, 25-6, in the third quarter, Orange and Black fullback Dick Lucier returns a Waltham kickoff 12 yards to the Newton 28. Although Lucier was halted by a diving tackle, Waltham couldn't stop the passing combination of DeStefano to Kahlenbeck, which clicked for a 27-yard touchdown pass on the next play to spark Newton's fantastic rally. (Staff photo by Gordon R. Wilk)

In case anyone missed hearing—and you'd have to be holed up under eight feet of concrete not to—Newton's fighting Tigers outraced a fired-up Waltham eleven Saturday to rack up a 32-31 win. That's football, not basketball. The victory was Newton's sixth straight of the season, and only Brookline on Thanksgiving Day remains in the path of at least a triple tie for first place in Class A.

The game was undoubtedly the most exciting ever played at Dickinson Field and will probably rank among the classics in Massachusetts schoolboy sports history. . . . The 8,500 spectators were treated to a second-half offensive display that made Dick Merriwell look like a second-stringer. Hollywood couldn't have written a better script.

Newton's undefeated win streak seemed down the drain as Waltham dominated the first half with its crushing ground attack. Unheralded Tony Busceme, who was enjoying a mediocre season, ran like an All-American. Plowing through the Newton line, which was dwarfed by a quintet of Watch City mastodons, Tony paced the Watch City attack. He gained a total of 162 yards, mainly through and over Newton tacklers. . . . Waltham spurred to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter by virtue of an old-fashioned march through the line, with most of the plays carrying for five or six yards. Up to this point, the Waltham linemen were crashing in on quarterback Art DeStefano, forcing him to throw the ball hurriedly and without accuracy. The defensive backs, well aware of the Orange and Black passing potential, also covered Lou Kahlenbeck like a blanket. . . . But after the touchdown, the Waltham boys were completely "city slickered" for the tying score. Kahlenbeck started down the right sideline, then cut back toward the center for a pass, taking the Waltham backfield with him. Capt. Don Hoffman, back in the lineup after a siege of bronchitis, drifted out all alone to the right and DeStefano triggered a strike to him. So positive were the three Waltham boys nearest him that Kahlenbeck was the target, they were still moving away from Hoffman when the ball settled into his arms. . . . Then it was just a case of running for the end zone 30 yards away, and the ball game was tied up. The kick for the extra point was off to the right.

Then Waltham took charge—but good. Refusing to let up, the Red and White clad boys again plowed toward the Newton goal. Busceme finally did the honors by popping out into the open from the Newton 29 and outfoot-

ing everyone to paydirt. . . . Just before the half ended, a bad-pass from center sailed over punter Willard Hamill's head on fourth down, and Waltham took the ball on the Newton seven. Line smashes again resulted in a score just before time ran out. In fact, there was only time left for Waltham to kick off. Score: Waltham 19, Newton 6.

When Waltham opened the second half by rolling 76 yards in 16 plays for a 25-6 lead, Newton appeared definitely out of the running. But the Tigers never gave up. Once the blockers started giving DeStefano some time to throw, there was no stopping the Orange and Black. . . . From his own 28, DeStefano pitched a short one to Kahlenbeck cutting through the middle. Three men moved in on him, but the long-legged halfback outlegged them all to give a ray of hope to the cheering faithful. . . . When Newton forced a Waltham kick to the 18, DeStefano went to work again. Although interfered with and knocked off his feet, Hoffman made a spectacular rolling grab to place the ball on the Waltham 34-yard line. A pass and a run brought Newton to the 19. Hamill then slipped out unguarded to the left, and DeStefano lofted the ball over two defenders for another TD. . . . End Paul Fitzgerald booted the extra point and Newton trailed 25-20.

As the tension grew thicker and thicker by the second, safetyman Ken Flagg grabbed a fumble near midfield. Interference was called against Waltham on the two-yard marker when Kahlenbeck was nearly flattened on the receiving end of a 22-yard toss. . . . On third down, DeStefano inched his way over the goal line and Newton led, 26-25. The Garden City fans who had been trying to hold back the clock now called it to speed along before the visitors could grind out another score.

Despite being rocked on its heels by the Newton blitzkrieg, Waltham buckled down for another ground march, again led by Busceme. Scoring honors went to halfback Bob Landry, who bucked over for his fourth touchdown with less than two minutes remaining. It didn't seem important when the Newton line held on a rush for the point after, but that eventually gave Newton the winning margin. . . . DeStefano and Kahlenbeck had different ideas about whose game this would be. On the third play after the kickoff, Artie threw to Kahlenbeck. The halfback was hit almost immediately, but he wriggled his leg loose, straight-armed another defender and threaded his way 50 yards down the sidelines. Pandemonium reigned while both Kahlenbeck and the nearest pursuer spilled exhausted into the end zone. . . . Only seconds remained as Waltham returned to the offensive. The never-say-die visitors flashed downfield again. A pass nearly went for a touchdown, with the receiver dropped on the Newton seven. Then, as Waltham tried vainly to squeeze in another play, time ran out. . . . Whew!

The contrast between the two teams' attacks were clearly shown by the final figures. DeStefano completed 13 out of 23 flips for 311 yards, while Newton rushed 18 times for a net gain of only seven strides. . . . In contrast, Waltham rushed 70 times and picked up 316 yards. Five out of nine Waltham passes connected for 68 yards.

On other football fronts, St. Sebastian's Country Day School closed out its season with a 500 average by picking up two victories last week. On Armistice Day, they made up a postponed game by downing Cranwell Prep of Lenox 18-13. Saturday afternoon, the Arrows whipped Sanborn Seminary, 19-0, in Newton. . . . Mission High handed Our Lady's its fifth loss in six Catholic League Division 2 starts, 21-0, at Allison Park. Mission scored in each of the first three periods, while the best Our Lady's could do was to penetrate to the Mission 25-yard line.

Says Courtesy Is Rule No. 1 For Drivers

Stressing the great need for "courtesy" as Rule No. 1 for safe and happy driving, Rudolph F. King, Registrar of motor vehicles for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, spoke before the members of Newton Rotary Club at their meeting held Monday at 12:15 at the Brae Burn Country club.

How to drive and to walk safely must be one of our most important tasks, Registrar King stated. "We must learn how to live safely in a highly motorized world," Mr. King said.

Stating that Massachusetts in spite of its high density of population and its hundreds of thousands of licensed vehicles, has the relatively good traffic safety record of only 3.7 deaths per 100 million miles of highway travel, Mr. King paid tribute to the law enforcement agents of the Commonwealth and local communities in their programs of care and safety education. Mr. King specifically commended Newton city and school officials for their traffic safety and driver education programs.

Three new pieces of legislation affecting the Registry and all citizens of the Commonwealth, the licensing of drivers' schools, suspension of registration for failure to pay car excise tax, and the establishment of the new "point system for greater safety on our highways," were acclaimed as good pieces of legislative action by Mr. King.

Presiding at the meeting was Charles E. Hilliard, president of Newton Rotary club. John J. Cahill, a past president, introduced the speaker. Visiting Rotarians were introduced by Dwight Colburn, treasurer. Rev. William Scar asked the invocation and thanked the speaker.

Special guests at Monday's meeting were Sgt. William H. Dowling, assigned to traffic problems, and Officer Charles Feeley, assigned to school safety education, of the Newton Police Department and Edwin Wiest, head of driver education.

Political Overtones

The criticism by some politicians at the present trustees for accepting the snow-fighters is rather pointless since under the circumstances there wasn't anything else they could do.

If they had declined to honor the contract and had refused to accept the equipment, the company selling it undoubtedly could have brought suit and collect the $180,000 for breach of contract.

By now Governor Herter must have reached the sober realization that it's impossible to accomplish any solution of the MTA problem without offending some sizeable group of citizens.

When the present MTA trustees last summer advocated a five-cent fare increase which they estimated would wipe out most of the road's deficit, it drew a wave of objection, and it was blocked by the State Public Utilities Commission on the ground that it would only eliminate part of the deficit and not all of it.

An ear-splitting outcry went up when the MTA trustees came out last week with their drastic proposal for a zone system of fares, and it was protested loudly that the plan would impose a hardship on many working people and would deal a heavy blow to business in downtown Boston.

After it became apparent that the zone scheme would drive patrons away by the thousands, Governor Herter stepped in, called it off, suggested a much smaller rise in fares and with it an accompanying change in the law to exempt the MTA from the necessity for paying its own way which is hasn't done anyway for six years.

That provoked objections from officials in the 14 cities and towns served by the transit system that the suggested revision of the law would merely be a bit of bookkeeping hokus-pokus and that it would leave them with the unpleasant chore of raising enough taxes to subsidize the MTA to the extent of some $6,000,000 each year.

On the one hand, the Herter trustees have been assailed and condemned for trying to raise fares, and, on the other, the Governor has been criticized for stopping them from seeking a fare hike.

What the officials of the communities in the transit district would like, of course, is a plan that would avoid any fare increase and at the same time relieve them of the burden of paying an annual deficit.

The only way that could be done would be by the enactment of a new tax since it would be unconstitutional to siphon off any part of the gasoline tax to subsidize the MTA, and you may be very certain that any proposal for a sales or payroll tax would not be greeted by any din of applause and cheers.

Unhappily, somebody has to pay the cost of running the MTA, but nobody wants to do so. At least, there have been no volunteers to date.

New York political observers now are predicting a colorful and dramatic election battle next year between Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Congressman
Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.

They anticipate that Dewey will stand for reelection to a fourth term next November and that the son and namesake of the former President will move out to challenge him.

Dewey made one fight against another
Roosevelt—the late, great FDR—in the 1944 Presidential campaign—and lost. Some of the political seers are now surmising in print that the Roosevelt clan might make it two in a row a year hence.

Ass'n Considers Planning Group For Newton Corner

Whether a Newton Corner Planning Committee should be organized was discussed recently at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Newton Improvement Association in the Main Library, Newton.

The directors stated they felt a long-range planning committee was needed where membership did not change every year and in which representatives of all business and civic organizations could be included.

The committee would work in co-operation with the planning committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen. This was referred to the next meeting of the directors for consideration. Edward J. Pease, president of the Association, said he would be glad to receive suggestions or opinions on the matter from any resident of Newton Corner.

William Powers reported on the present situation on revision of Ward lines in Newton in order to affect more equal representation. No action was taken as it was felt the suggestions of the Board of Aldermen would improve the situation and should be approved.

The use of Edmonds Park by elementary school and science classes was discussed. John Mullen was appointed a committee to check this situation and report at the next meeting of the Directors.

Congressman Roosevelt hasn't yet demonstrated the wizardry that made his famous father one of the master-politicians of the ages, but he has a name that represents vote-getting magic, and he would be a dangerous candidate against any opponent.

Dewey has been an excellent Governor.
He has given New York State an extremely efficient and honest administration. But he has been in office a long time. He is now nearing the end of his 11th year at the State House in Albany, and in that time he has made many enemies, a sizeable portion of them in his own party.

It is believed in political circles that Dewey still has Presidential ambitions and that one reason he will seek reelection next year is to be in a position to bid for the right to carry the Republican standard a third time in the event that President Eisenhower stands firm on his intention to serve only one term.

Dewey has been one of our busiest politicians for more than a decade. He made an successful fight for the Presidential nomination in 1940 but was swept down by the surprising surge to the late Wendell Willkie.

He won election as Governor in 1942, carried the G.O.P. Presidential banner into battle against Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1944 and lost, was reelected to a second term as Governor in 1946, waged his second Presidential campaign in 1948 and lost to Harry Truman after victory was seemingly within his grasp, was reelected to a third term as Governor in 1950 and played a major part in achieving the nomination of Eisenhower last year.

The coldly efficient Dewey is not one to instill much warmth even among his own followers, and it could be that he will be hard pressed to fight off the challenge of a new Roosevelt next year.

The program adopted at the recent meeting of Democratic legislators in Worcester was a shining and sparkling example of political demagoguery and double-talk.

In one phase of their platform the Democratic lawmakers went on record in favor of a substantial pay raise for all State employees and an increase from $25 to $30 per week in unemployment benefits.

Another plank in their platform called for a substantial slash in State income taxes, and, of course, no increase was suggested in any kind of taxes.

It's really wonderful to be able to sit back and map out a program which would both pay out more money and take in less money. We presume the legislators would have the State printing plant turn out a few billion pesos, or rupees, maybe.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

For a while it was getting so that every Republican defeated for public office anywhere in the nation was attributing his downfall to a drop in President Eisenhower's popularity rather than his own political shortcomings. Now we're wondering what the G.O.P. victory in California means. Nobody out there has yet spoken up to say that Ike pulled through the winner.

Explaining in Baton Rouge why he had rowed 2000 miles down the Mississippi River
all the way from Minnesota in an open skiff, Matthew M. Bakula, 72, a jeweler, told reporters: "I wanted to show my family I was no sissy."

Tired of being waked up by thirsty travelers desiring to know where they could buy a drink in Oklahoma, which is legally dry, residents of Wheatland, Okla., have erected large signs giving directions on how to reach the nearest bootlegger. The first signs were torn down, but a group of residents announced that they would have them rebuilt on private property and post guards around them.

Four men removed $26 from the cash register of a filling station in Johannesburg, South Africa, while holding the attendant at bay with a live lobster.

Arrested in Flint, Mich., for forging checks totalling $558, John A. McLeod, 25, told police he was a college student majoring in criminal psychology and that he was trying to "get the feeling" of a criminal at work.

A corps of "motorized" priests and monks has been created in Bologna, Italy, to cover 46 parishes. Each group will have an automobile equipped with loudspeakers and motion picture apparatus.

Leonard Green, 50, was granted a divorce in Madison, Wis., after testifying that his wife not only had nagged him incessantly but that he had discovered her sprinkling glass on hamburgers "to feed some animals around here."

Mrs. Ivon Cooper, 32, walked into the hospital in Yakima, Wash., to tell doctors she "hadn't been feeling well" since she fell off the roof of her home three days before.
On examining her, they discovered she had a fractured skull, a broken ankle and two broken fingers.

Frank Wasson was appointed chairman of the Park and Playground Committee of the Association. He will select the rest of the members of this committee and they will be announced at the next meeting.

The following members were appointed to the Program Committee of the Association: Mrs.
Edward Becherer, Mr. Guy Baker,
Mr. John Snider, Miss Adelaide Ball and Mr. Harold Worcester, Chairman.

A motion was made that the
by-laws be changed so that voting citizens in Precinct 3 of Ward 1 would be eligible for membership in the Association.
The present by-laws include

'Shallowness and Sham'

Editor, Graphic:
Considering the fact that besides my worthy opponent in my bid for the school committee, I had against me three slate endorsing groups (presided by Vitti, Needham, and Robinson) that paid for the circulation of expensive slate materials at the polls,
I was very, very fortunate to have received the confidence of so many Newton citizens that voted in my behalf.

Furthermore, an unopposed member of the school committee (School Committeeman Haskell Freedman) spoke at every rally in behalf of my worthy opponent, who was at that time in Europe.
I feel that the reason for less and less candidates running in each municipal election in Newton is attributed to the fact that it is a known assumption that they do not stand a chance.

Therefore, I question the shallowness and sham of Newton municipal elections. Why have them? Instead, let the qualified slate endorsing organizations decide whom they want in public office—not the people.

In this bid for school committee, I spent 45 cents on postage, 15 cents on envelopes, and 25 cents for stationery. It was a good thing that I did not go overboard in spending. Luckily, I happened to know in advance the futility of uncontested Newton politics.

Food For Thought

by Mary O'Malley, Nutrition Editor
New England Dairy and Food Council

Youngsters Learn at Lunchtime
"Listen to what your children tell you about their lunchtime at school," says a well known, modern educator.

When a child eats with friends at school, this educator adds, he is learning for living. All his life he or she will be a delight to companions in knowing how to carry on pleasant conversation, while he enjoys a fine meal.

If you listen, children will tell you about their friends, fun, and food at school lunch. Share their enthusiasm. If you pack a lunch, put in a sweet treat, or an apple, for your youngster's friend. Encourage them to eat with numerous boys or girls, and to invite new acquaintances to their group.

With the older child, especially, you can reach his stomach through his heart. If you show you care about his social life of getting along with friends, he will be more apt to heed your suggestions for buying or bringing a nourishing lunch. You can make the pupil of any age realize that eating the right food is smart. A lunch that gives  $\frac{1}{2}$  to  $\frac{1}{3}$  the day's nourishment gives the bell-and-book crowd pep and fitness.

It is especially important for them to choose protein nourishment at lunch. It can be milk, meat, cheese, eggs, or fish—in a sandwich or a hot dish. It is very simple to have milk as a beverage at lunchtime, and it is the most nourishing drink that school folks can take at their noon day meal.

Demonstrate Fire Control Of Gases

Members of the Newton Fire Department, under the direction of Chief John E. Corcoran, put on an extensive demonstration of fire control of Liquefied Petroleum Gas on a vacant lot off Needham street on Tuesday, November 10th at 2 p.m. Engines 7 and 10 laid hose lines to cover the entire fire area and demonstrated the use of fog nozzles to extinguish this type of fire. The General Equipment Company and their representative Mr. Donald McKay, Agent for the Ansul Fire Extinguisher Company, demonstrated the use of the Ansul Fire Extinguisher on extinguishing this type of fire. The demonstration also included a spill fire of gasoline which was extinguished with the use of fog and heavy hose lines with the Alfco fog spray nozzle.

This demonstration was attended by Chiefs of all mutual aid departments and representatives of industrial companies including the Raytheon Mfg. Company.

Following the demonstration the Chiefs and a large class assembled at Engine 3 Station and heard a very important lecture on Liquefied Petroleum Gas and its qualities, and how fire fighting operations should be carried on in extinguishing fires at points where this particular gas is used. This lecture was given by Mr. Edwin H. Johnson, Division Service Manager of Portland, Maine, and it was accepted as being most instructive to the members of the fire department.

News and Notes of Club Activities

Warren Junior High School PTA First Meeting, November 30

Plans are being made now for the first P.T.A. meeting of Warren Junior High which will be held on Monday, November 30 at 8:15 in the school Assembly Hall. The program committee has been very fortunate in securing Myles Lane as the speaker of the evening, whose subject will be "What the Communist threat means to you as Parents".

Mr. Lane is particularly well qualified because of his experience as Assistant U. S. District Attorney of New York. During his term of office his major interest was detecting Communist activities and he was particularly successful in unearthing waterfront corruption in New York harbor. A large attendance is expected at this opening meeting because of the distinguished speaker and his very timely subject.

On Friday of last week a special assembly for seventh grade only was held. Charles Buck was master of ceremonies and the program consisted of a talent show staged by seventh grade members as follows:

Larry Yeo, Marshall Levine, clarinet duet; Judith Maltz, accordion solo; Helmut Seidenberg, harmonica solo; Carol Bean, vocal solo, accompanying herself on ukulele; Roger Kelley and Richard Hartnett, vocal solos; and Robert Craig, played banjo and sang.

St. John's Church, Gathers Over 300 Recipes for Cook Book

Get any three women together and they can publish a cook book. St. John's Church, Newtonville, is publishing one on November 20 to top them all. Over 300 recipes gathered from its members have been assembled under the sponsorship of the Church Service League. The cover of the book sets the note as Early American drawn like an old sampler. A gay-nineties bride frankly consults her cook book as things are boiling over on the pot belled stove.

The artist uses authentic material, but draws with a gay touch and decorative manner. To illustrate their cook book, St. John's Church secured the talents of Radolph Arnold Aufranc, a Virginia born artist now living in Newtonville. The artist, a graduate of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, has travelled in Europe on two fellowships of Fine Arts and has done graduate study at the Fogg Museum, Harvard University on a Carnegie Scholarship. She is former head of the Art Department at Mary Baldwin College. Best known for portraits and landscapes in oil, she has work in several permanent collections. Wife of the orthopedic surgeon, Dr. Otto E. Aufranc, she is the mother of two boys, Otto and Tucker. She has her studio in her home in Newtonville.

Here is a recipe which will give you a peek at the book. SUNDAY NIGHT CHICKEN

Newly Re-organized Lincoln-Eliot PTA Welcomed as New Member of Council

The Executive Board of the Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, made up of the presidents of the 25 PTAs in Newton and representatives of the Newton school system, met in the office of the Superintendent of Schools on Thursday evening, Nov. 12. Mrs. Eric Anderson, president of the newly re-organized Lincoln-Eliot PTA, was welcomed as a new member of the Council.

Included in the agenda was the announcement of the recent action of the Aldermen concerning the Mayor's appointment of a Human Relations Committee. Following discussion led by Melvin J. Dangel, president of the Council, a motion was made and carried that the Executive Secretary write to the chairman of the Mayor's Committee, when appointed, offering the support of the Newton PTA Council.

In order to further publicize the activities of the Council to all parents of Newton school children, the PTA presidents were urged to invite speakers from the Executive Committee to talk for a few minutes at their open meetings about the functions of the Council. Four such invitations have been received so far.

Mrs. Herbert Rubin, executive secretary, had this to say, "There are now 16 completely organized committees that are doing a wonderful job, and all have had or have planned their first meeting. The chairman report enthusiasm and great interest in the objectives of their committees." Distribution of the Mason-Rice calendar for the year by the president, Mrs. James R. Cobb, led to the suggestion by Mrs. Jacob Lasoff, second vice-president of the Memorial PTA, that an exchange of the publications of each PTA would be of benefit to all. This was referred to Mrs. Sylvester McGinn, chairman of the Public Relations Committee, who indicated that such an arrangement will be undertaken in the near future.

Awareness of the need for community interest in the schools was evidenced by lively comments following a resume of the recommendations made by the recorders of the June Conference and the guest speaker, Dr. Norton L. Beach, Executive Secretary of the Association of Public Schools. In order to create such interest the Underwood PTA held a joint meeting with the Improvement Association, the Weeks Junior High School student council encourages attendance of non-parents at their meetings, the Peirce PTA is planning a tour of the school with well informed parents serving as guides who can answer questions relating to the school system as well as the building itself. Many of the school buildings are used as community centers and the adult education classes held in the evenings have built good will for the schools.

Mrs. L. J. Oncley, newly re-elected member of the School Committee, who recently returned from England was well received when she reported on her impressions of the schools in England and Sweden.

Harold B. Gores, Superintendent

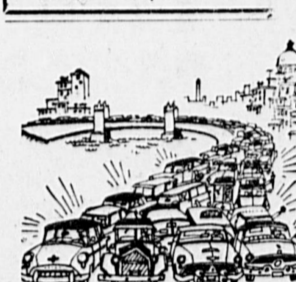

ent of Schools, commented on the success of the demonstration classes which were held. He also remarked that "the shifting swell in the school population will soon necessitate the further training of secondary school teachers."

The first program for the children of the Elementary schools, sponsored for the third year by the Children's Entertainment Committee of the PTA Council will be held at the Newton High School Auditorium on January 16.

The skating sessions at the Boston Skating Club, sponsored by the Skating Committee of the PTA Council for the fourth consecutive year will start the first week in December.

Dr. Herold C. Hunt, with outstanding experience in school and community relations, will be the guest speaker at a Council meeting on Tuesday evening, Dec. 1 at 8 p.m., at the Peirce School in West Newton. The general public is cordially invited to attend as well as the members of all PTAs and the Newton Teachers' Federation.

Club Federation Opens Trees For Worcester, Place Mat Drive

With 300 affiliated organizations participating, the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs today opened a statewide drive to raise money for restoring trees destroyed by the June tornado in the Worcester Disaster Area.

The campaign was launched at a "kick-off breakfast" in the Hampshire House, Boston, attended by approximately 200 club women from different parts of the state. The clubs will sell colorful place mats featuring historic Bay State scenes, and proceeds will be applied to the "Trees for Worcester Fund."

Keynote speakers were Lt. Gov. Sumner G. Whittier, who was accompanied by his wife, and Mrs. Ralph G. Swain of Brockton, State Federation president. Lt. Gov. Whittier also unveiled a new set of North Shore place mats, produced especially for this drive. It contains scenes from Gloucester, Salem, Marblehead and Ipswich. Other sets being sold include Historic Boston, Historic Lexington-Concord, and Longfellow's Wayside Inn.

Prominently displayed were original water-color paintings from which the place mat scenes were reproduced. Breakfast settings were laid out on the place mats themselves.

Lt. Gov. Whittier commended the clubs on their civic zeal, and described the Worcester tree project as "one of the most unselfish programs any group could hope to undertake."

Mrs. Swain called upon the club members to make certain the "Trees for Worcester" drive goes over the top.

"Although the stricken areas are rapidly recovering from the blow," said Mrs. Swain, "there still remains much to be accomplished before rehabilitation is complete. Most important among things yet to be done is the planting of new trees. Our Federation, acting in the spirit of its Americanism program, has voted to help provide those trees."

Fortnightly Club Marks Golden Anniversary In Newton Centre

The Fortnightly Club of Newton Centre celebrated its Golden Anniversary on Wednesday, when 75 members and guests met at the Brae Burn Country Club for luncheon and an appropriate program. Fifteen of those present were charter members who, with past presidents, were given special recognition.

The first regular meeting of the Club was held on Wednesday, November 18, 1903 and 10 meetings have followed each winter. Again, 50 years later, November 18 falls on a Wednesday.

There were 41 charter members in 1903, seven of whom are members to-day. There are now 60 active members, two honorary members, eight associate members, and a waiting list of 17.

A reception preceded the luncheon, with Mrs. William M. Breed, president, and other officers in the receiving line. Mrs. John F. Capron is the program chairman this year and Mrs.

Charles K. B. Nevin the chairman for hospitality.

The detailed program for this Golden Celebration was especially planned by Mrs. Robert E. Anderson, an honorary member, who was largely responsible for the successful founding of the Club in 1903. Following the luncheon, Mrs. Breed, as president, introduced Mrs. Anderson. She was assisted by other charter members, officers of to-day and the speaker for the first year, when "European Cities" was the subject of the meetings. It was recalled early incidents, both serious and humorous, and reviewed the half-century's activities briefly.

There were flowers and music, and photographs of past years were displayed. A variety of costumes were modeled by members, adding interesting local color and amusement to this anniversary program.

Lydia Partridge Whiting Chapter

"How Good Is Your School?"

"How good is YOUR school?" is the provocative question which will be the basis of a talk by Dr. Herold C. Hunt on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., Dec. 1, at the Peirce School in West Newton. Melvin J. Dangel, president of the Newton Council of Parent-Teacher Associations, invites the residents of Newton, as well as the members of the Newton Teachers' Federation and the Newton Council of PTAs, to hear Dr. Hunt, the Charles William Eliot Professor of Education at Harvard University.

Through his association with such diversified organizations as the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, the American Council on Education, Educational Organizations of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America, Dr. Hunt has a wealth of experience and information which qualifies him to speak of our Newton schools in comparison with others in similar communities.

Sorry politics and graft were dominating the Chicago schools when Dr. Hunt became the General Superintendent of Schools in 1947. For the next five years he waged a successful battle for Chicago's half million teachers and pupils, in spite of real and threatening opposition, and restored the schools to a position of service to the city.

Dr. Herold C. Hunt's talk on Dec. 1 will be stimulating to everyone in Newton who is concerned with the continuing effectiveness of our school system and city government.

The second Fall meeting of the Dartmouth Women's Club was conducted Wednesday, November 18th at the Hotel Vendome, Boston. Mrs. Allan L. Priddy of Brookline and Mrs. James C. Walker of Swampscott poured for the coffee hour. The business meeting at 2:00 p.m., was conducted by the President, Mrs. Wesley A. McSorley, Jr.

The program, "Portraits of the Romantic Composers in Music and Legend," was conducted by Jennette and Hope Anderson.

Newton Regional Chapter of the Colby Junior College Alumnae opened their first meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Helen Day at 66 St. Mary's st., Newton Lower Falls, at 8 p.m.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Ann Brown of the Middlesex City Extension Service who talked on Christmas Everywhere.

Northeastern University faculty wives club held its monthly meeting and tea Friday, November 13, at 2 in the Milton Lounge, 360 Huntington avenue, Boston. The speaker was Mrs. C. N. Touart, former assistant editor of Woman's Day, on "Planning Your Wardrobe."

Mrs. Saverio Zuffanti of Quincy, president of the Northeastern group, presided at a business meeting. Plans were made for the annual bridge under the direction of Mrs. George Lane of Brookline to be held at the University's Student Center, Saturday, December 5. Mrs. Stanley Robinson, Newton, is in charge of tickets. Proceeds will be used for the scholarship for girls.

Mrs. Louis Cooperstein of Newtonville, was hospitality chairman of the tea. On the committee are: Mrs. Kenneth Lucas, Reading; Mrs. Chester Baker, Newton Centre; Mrs. Edward Parsons, Watertown; Mrs. Everett Marston, So. Duxbury; Mrs. Charles Anderson, Somerville; Mrs. Samuel Givens, Watertown; Mrs. A. Bertrand Warren, Waltham; and Mrs. Daniel Roberts, Waltham.

HEAD TABLE GUESTS, OFFICIALS AND SPEAKERS at luncheon of the Home for Jewish Children held at the Hotel Statler and attended by 1700 women. Left to right: Mrs. Stanley Simon of Brookline, general chairman; Mrs. Edward A. Klemer of Brighton, president of the Home; Ben Fields of Newton, president of the Men's Council, and Mrs. M. George Tigar of Newton, former president and guest speaker.

Says Community Must Face the Growing Adolescent Girl Prob.

The Community must face the growing problems of what to do with adolescent girls without parental influence to guide them, Mrs. M. George Tigar of Newton, former president of the Home for Jewish Children, told more than 1700 women Monday.

Speaking before the 55th luncheon for the Home at the Hotel Statler, Mrs. Tigar, the guest speaker of the problem and how the Home was attempting to meet it.

"There is no doubt that the problem must be attacked along modern lines — that the adolescent girls be provided with a homelike atmosphere in a surrounding that will help their inner being as well as their physical make-up," she declared.

"To this end the Home is planning a new type of atmosphere — a cottage type of dwelling — to create a feeling of security for the children."

The affair attracted the largest group of women ever to attend luncheon at the Hotel Statler at one sitting.

Mrs. Stanley Simon of Brookline, general chairman, greeted the group and Mrs. Edward A. Klemer of Brighton, president of the Home, told about its accomplishments.

She told how the Home had a double purpose.

"The Home is now accepting children from the age of five to 18 years — children emotionally disturbed, from broken homes, orphans and displaced youngsters.

"But what is even more important we are combining modern psychological and psychiatric care as well as food, clothing, medical and dental needs.

"We are succeeding in a fair way in erasing the feeling of insecurity and indifference and eliminating the meaning of the Home as an 'Institution'. We are substituting, fairly successfully, the words 'Happy Household'."

A style show staged by Cyndel of Brookline was a huge success. It was received with great applause.

Among those at the head table were: Mrs. John Jacobs of Dorchester; Mrs. Maurice Himel of Roxbury; Miss Dora Margolis, director of the Jewish Family and children services; Mrs. Louis Krute of Chelsea; Mrs. Morris Schwartz of Dorchester; Mrs. Morris C. Lampke of Brookline; Ben Fields of Newton, president of the Men's Council; Mrs. Dorothy Diamond of Roxbury, who gave the invocation; Mrs. Harry Royal of Brookline; Mrs. Louis Wise of Waltham, chairman of the life membership group; Mrs. Frank C. Goldberg, honorary president of the Home; Mrs. William Kushner of Dorchester; and Mrs. Louis Roazen of Brookline.

Parking Meter Total $37,160 In First Year

More than the original cost of Newton's parking meters was received by the city in the form of parking fees during the first year of the meter system, City Treasurer Archie R. Whitman reported Friday.

Of the $37,160 taken from the meters, half was turned over to Magee-Hale Park-O-Meter Company of Oklahoma City as payment on the original cost of the parking devices. The company's charge to the city for the installation amounts to a total of $36,000.

Part of the receipts kept by the city were expended on maintenance of the meters and for work on other parking areas. Expenditures were: maintenance, $6800; off-street parking area on Putnam street, West Newton, $4700; fence at parking lot on Richardson street, Newton, $1200, and land-taking for the Pearl street parking area, $1000.

Small Portable Oil Heaters Must Be Given Proper Care

Small portable oil space heaters are responsible for more deaths due to fires in the home than most any other cause. They combine both an explosion and a fire hazard if they are not properly cared for and handled in the correct manner.

Good design and substantial construction are the first essentials for safety; these can best be obtained with a heater that has been examined and listed by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

For greater care and caution in the operation of oil space heaters, the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests the following precautions:

1. Thoroughly inspect and clean the heater before putting it into operation each season. If any parts show a heavy rust or there are any defective parts, or parts missing, do NOT use it.
2. Be sure that the heater is set level.
3. Keep it clean and free of dirt at all times.
4. Never place the heater near the curtains, table cloths or other hanging materials, or where they may be blown over the heater.
5. Never place the heater where it is apt to be knocked over. Many fires have resulted when heaters were placed in line of traffic in the home or were knocked over by children at play or by their dogs.
6. Never fill or carry a heater while it is lighted.
7. Don't operate the heater in a tightly closed room. See that a door or window is open slightly to assure a good oxygen supply; this is essential even in the coldest weather.
8. Don't leave the heater unattended after it is first lighted; for at least 15 minutes watch the flame and adjust it so that it produces no smoke because as the heater warms up its flame often increases.
9. When refilling the heater with oil, take it outside the building. Keep the fuel supply outside. Wipe up all spillage.

10. See that the latch holding the top part of a tip-over type heater to the lower part holds them securely together.
11. Be sure that gasoline is not used inadvertently instead of kerosene. Portable heater tragedies can occur from the following causes:

1. Rapid burning of soot accumulations which results in a "flash flame" resembling an explosion.
2. Ignition of hot kerosene vapors resulting from spillage when refilling a hot heater or from an overflow of fuel due to heater not being set level.
3. Upset of heater or spillage of fuel due to faulty latch.
4. Heater igniting nearby curtains or upholstery.
5. Asphyxiation caused by exhaustion of oxygen supply in a closed room; the heater also produces quantities of carbon monoxide, an odorless, toxic and highly flammable gas, when the oxygen supply in a room becomes depleted. To sum up, only heaters approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories should be used and with only the proper grade of oil, they should be cleaned regularly, filled outside, properly located in the room and a supply of fresh air.

If there is any doubt regarding the condition of the heater do NOT use it.

ing Mr. Grant for his "long and faithful service."

"When, as it does to all of us, the time comes to lay down our active duties, I hope we will all be able to do so with as high a reputation as has Frank M. Grant," the resolution began. Tracing Mr. Grant's service to the city from 1905, when he was named assistant city clerk, the aldermen lauded his achievements.

"Few people can look back over a life so filled with honors richly earned and civic duties capably fulfilled as he," continued the resolution.

Mr. Basbas' appointment is until Feb. 1, 1956. Married, he and his wife, Audrey, have two sons, Monte G. Jr., 11 months, and John T. five years.

The new city clerk was educated at Manchester (N. H.) Central High School and Kimball Union Academy in Meriden, N. H. He majored in government at Dartmouth College, receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree with a class of 1941. Mr. Basbas earned his law degree in 1945 from Boston University Law School.

Active in sports, he played football in high school, Kimball Union and Dartmouth, and lacrosse at Kimball Union and Dartmouth.

Mr. Basbas is an attorney-at-law and a member of both the state and federal bars in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. He belongs to the Boston, Massachusetts and American Bar Associations.

His clubs and organizations include Newton Kiwanis Club, Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce, Boston University and Dalhousie Lodge of Masons, Chi Phi Fraternity (Dartmouth Chapter), Phi Delta Phi International Legal Fraternity (B. U. Chapter), Newton Republic Club and City Hall Associates, of which he is president.

During World War II, Mr. Basbas was a P-38 pilot in the southern Pacific with the Fifth Air Force. He served as a flight leader for the 25th Photo Reconnaissance Squadron, which covered the Pacific from New Guinea to Japan.

Now a captain in the Air Force Reserve, he is entitled to wear seven battle stars, the Air Medal with a cluster (denoting a second award of the medal) and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Open House-

Ralph K. Shaw. Old fans from Spain, France, Persia, China and the United States were to be seen. The one of greatest historical interest belonged to Thomas Jefferson's Grandmother Randolph.

In addition there were scent bottles, and enamel and silver patch boxes loaned by Mrs. Edward J. Sawyer. A lovely figured silk gown brought in by Mrs. Roy A. Randall and worn by her grandmother about 1860 was displayed on a form.

Other articles of finery from an earlier day, including lace mitts, parasols, hats, capes and men's beavers, were brought out from the permanent collection belonging to the Homestead.

The current exhibitions may be seen during regular visiting hours from three to five, Tuesday through Saturdays, until December 12th.

The Jackson Homestead located at 527 Washington street, has become the property of the City of Newton as the result of a gift, as of December 21, 1949, by a ninth-generation descendant of Edward Jackson.

Situated on a highway which is rich in history, the beautiful and interesting Jackson Homestead has much to tell about the development of the city. When Edward Jackson, one of the early settlers, purchased the land, an Indian trail crossed the property. This trail later became known as Natick Road, and is now called Washington street. Over the years, Edward Jackson and his descendants have played an important part in the growth of Newton.

The first homestead on this property, a salt-box type of house, was built by Edward Jackson for his son Sebas, and sheltered the family from 1670 to 1809, when Timothy Jackson built a large and lovelier home. Much of the good building material from the old house was used in the construction of the present imposing dwelling.

In the laundry and sheds, two of the very old four-pane windows may be seen, as well as the original front door, and the hand-hewn beams with wooden pegs still in them. A special attraction is the 20-foot-deep well which is believed to have supplied the family with water from 1670 to the advent of the city water supply. In the main part of the house a feature of special interest is the brick oven with its original iron door. In the cellar are crossbeams which undoubtedly came from the former house, and the old well in which, according to family tradition, runaway slaves were hidden during the days of the "underground railroad."

The house and grounds are being restored as nearly as possible to the original condition and will be preserved as fine examples of the architecture and landscaping of the period. The Homestead is being used as an historical center, providing a reference library of books pertaining to Newton, as well as old maps, documents and pictures.

A program of educational and cultural activities is being developed which offers to both children and adults a unique opportunity to learn about and profit from Newton's heritage from the past.

The Homestead is under the management and care of a Board of Trustees, seven in number, appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the Board of Aldermen.

EVERYONE READS THESE WANT ADS — THAT'S WHY THEY'RE SO EFFECTIVE!

All Saints Day Observed by First Unitarian Society

All Saints' Day was marked at the First Unitarian Church in Newton both by remembrance of members who have died during the year and by a plea for the "golden age" group still living. The Rev. John Ogden Fisher took his text from the familiar hymn, "All Saints Who from Their Labors Rest."

Mr. Fisher emphasized the responsibility of the community to provide social facilities and hobby opportunities for the elderly in Newton and elsewhere to offset the loneliness of old age and to enrich the lives of these "golden age" citizens.

The names of late members of the First Unitarian Society in Newton were read as follows: Marion Drew Bassett, Grace E. Cole, Rev. Paul Harris Drake, Harvey E. Day, Ethel Fleu, Minnie M. Fowle, Mabel J. Hinkley, Henry W. Merrill, A. Stuart Pratt, Emma M. Sibley, Annie W. Whidden, Robert A. Whidden. Flowers on the altar for All Saints' Day were given in memory of Helen S. Hutchinson, wife of Maynard Hutchinson.

The new Welcoming Committee for November is headed by Mrs. Morton W. Haddock, assisted by Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach Jr., Miss Katherine Cutter and Mrs. Warren G. Hill.

H. Carlton Moore is head usher for the month, assisted by Albert R. Beisel Jr., Arnold Garrison and Gordon B. Guptill.

Rev. Ernest W. Kuebler, member of the West Newton Unitarian Church, who is director of education and administrative vice-president, American Unitarian Association, has been away on a speaking tour which included an engagement on Oct. 27 at the First Unitarian Church in Buffalo, of which Dr. Herbert Hitchen, formerly of West Newton, is minister.

Arnold Borofsky Youth Director At Temple Reyim

Temple Reyim of West Newton has engaged Arnold Borofsky, executive director of the Nantasket Youth Center for the past five years, to direct youth activities at the Temple this year.

His work for the past five years with Jewish youth has attracted widespread attention and has earned for him a citation from Temple Israel of Nantasket. At present he is serving as youth director for Temple Mishkan Tefila and is also teaching at Dedham High School.

Mr. Borofsky, an educator and social worker, was educated at Northeastern University of Connecticut and Boston University. He holds the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Education.

His Hebrew education was received at the Dorchester-Mattapan Hebrew School. His previous association with the Brookline Jewish Community Center was in the capacity of supervisor of all age groups and also as membership secretary.

Honor N. C. Man for Endowing Human Relations Post at B.U.

Theodore E. Berenson of 256 Ward street, Newton Centre, received a hand-lettered testimonial scroll recently from Boston University in recognition of the Boston Industrialist's endowment gift for the establishment of a professorship in human relations.

The presentation was made by B. U. president Howard C. Case, who praised Mr. Berenson as "an industrialist with vision, a community leader with courage, and a citizen with a heart."

The new professorship will carry the title "Theodore W. Berenson Chair of Human Relations." As president of the Edwin J. Dreyfus Properties Inc., Mr. Berenson directs extensive real estate operations both in New England and throughout the nation. His initial gift of $50,000 is destined to become a total endowment of $250,000 to insure continuous income for the post.

The complete text of the citation presented by Dr. Case follows:

"This testimonial scroll is presented to you, Theodore W. Berenson, in grateful appreciation for your generosity in establishing the Chair in Human Relations at Boston University. The Chair, bearing your name, will be occupied by the Director of the Human Relations Center. "Your beneficence will assure that scholarly attention will be directed to this important area of human relations in the life of the university. Through the Center's program of training and research, your gift will focus new intellectual and spiritual resources upon the solution of intergroup problems and the improvement of community life. "Boston University is proud to honor you, an industrialist with vision, a community leader with courage, and a citizen with a heart."

Appointed as the first occupant of the Berenson Chair was Prof. Kenneth D. Benne, who assumed his duties in September. He came to B. U. with an impressive record of accomplishment in the field of human relations.

Anti-Communist Work of Princess Cited by Women

Praising her battle against Communism in books and speeches, the National League of American Pen Women presented a citation Monday at a celebrity breakfast in Boston to Princess Ileana of Romania, who now makes her home in Newton.

The citation was given to Princess Ileana, who is known to her Newton neighbors as Mrs. Habsberg, by Mrs. Francis J. Flag, also of Newton, president of the National League of Pen Women. The breakfast marked the silver anniversary of the founding of the Boston branch of the group and the centennial of the Boston Public Library.

Princess Ileana's citation read, "To Ileana, princess of Romania, an arch-duchess of the Austrias, royal daughter of a royal monarch, who in her books and in her lectures has attacked Communism in every form as the arch-foe of religion and democracy."

The citation, as well as seven others presented at the breakfast, was hand-lettered by students in the art departments of Newton schools.

by Walter Chamblin, Jr.

Much more will be heard in the Brownell-Gov. Byrnes-Truman controversy over the promotion to high office of Communist-branded Harry Dexter White, but two points about which there is no controversy have not been emphasized.

First, it is no wonder that the present secretary, Mr. Humphrey, found the Treasury in a fiscal mess, as a major point in the Soviet cold war is to ruin the United States economically. Second, the much attacked and much abused Congressional committees investigating Communism are now shown better than ever to have been performing a much needed job.

Ever since Rep. Martin Dies (D-Texas) headed the House Un-American Activities Committee back in the late thirties every chairman of such a committee has been denounced and generally portrayed in most heated terms. The attack on Mr. Dies was so violent that he voluntarily retired to private life. (He is back in Congress now after a 10-year absence.) But despite attacks an abuse the Congressional committees have continued their work.

The White House recently disclosed that 1,456 government workers (hired by the Truman and Roosevelt administration) were fired or forced to resign between May 27 and Sept. 30 of this year for security reasons. If there had been no change in administration, you can answer for yourself this question: Would or would not these people still be on the government payroll working for Russia instead of the United States? And, in reaching your conclusion, don't forget that Mr. Truman tried to dismiss the Alger Hiss case as just a red herring.

Little has been said about the elevation of Senator Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) to the acting chairmanship of the Labor Subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Labor and Education. But the selection of Mr. Ives is, or should be, of interest to everyone who has a job, who owns a business, a farm or any other property. This is because Mr. Ives has some very definite views on how he would like to make over the American way of life.

Mr. Ives was an original director of the little known but active Industry Council Association, Inc., which was established in 1950. This council is promoting the creation of a National Production Council. This National Production Council would be composed of representatives from labor unions, the farmers, the consumers, management and the government. Thus, the owner of any business, farm or any enterprise would have but one vote in five in determining how he would operate his property.

In addition, to this National Council there would be councils in every basic industry, including agriculture, fishing, logging, retailing and the like. These councils would direct the economic life of everyone from a boot-black to the president of a company, as the scope of the Council planning would include:

1. Production planning (how much to be produced). Investment policy (where and how money would be invested) and the employment of any new technological changes (in other words whether new inventions would be used. For instance, if the Council liked a certain make of automobile, that's the automobile you'd drive even though a much improved model could be produced.)

2. The Council would determine your wages and the number of hours you and your employees would work and what holidays you would have. This sounds like Russia, but it is being seriously proposed. . . . Read on . . .

3. The Council would determine the price the farmer received for his crops . . . what crops he could plant . . . and the acreage to be planted.

4. The Council would handle all labor-management relations. 5. The Council would determine where new plants would be built . . . and what plants could operate . . . and would also have control of all natural resources.

Legislation looking to the eventual establishment of such a plan is pending in Congress. It is Senate Bill No. 1729, introduced by Senator Ives for himself and Senator Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) on April 22, 1953.

Proposal To Change Ward Lines Endorse

The Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Newton at its November Board Meeting endorsed the proposals for changing the Ward Lines as adopted by the Board of Aldermen on November 2. In a letter to the Board of Aldermen the League Board commended the members of the Ward Lines Committee for their work in preparing their report which was adopted by the full Board of Aldermen. The changes contained in the Report were endorsed as "measures which make for more equal representation on the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee."

The League Board stated its intention to inform the representative from Newton to the Massachusetts General Court of its position. It also stated that League representatives will be prepared to appear in support of the legislation when a public hearing is held at the State House.

Last year the Local Affairs Committee of the Newton League, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Richard C. Mintz, studied the ward lines problem and the various solutions which had been proposed up to that time. At the Unit Meetings in February 1953, this study was presented to the League membership for study and consideration in the hopes that if action was taken by the Board of Aldermen League members would be informed as to the background of the problem. In May, at the League Annual Meeting it was voted to adopt as part of the Current Agenda for 1953-1954 a study for action with reference to "Equalization of representation on the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee."

"It is with considerable pleasure that the League Board has voted to endorse this current legislation," stated Mrs. John C. McClintock, Newton League President. "We feel that this revision is needed to make Newton Government truly representative of its citizens and the Board of Aldermen has taken a major step in that direction."

POLITICAL OVERTONES

White Case Stopped Swing of Political Pendulum ... Seen as Dealing Major Blow to Democratic Party ...

There is no question but that the startling explosion of the Henry Dexter White case caused a sharp reversal of the swing of public sentiment which only a few weeks ago had seen the Republican political stock falling and Democratic prestige on the rise.

Whether this case, which rocked the people with a stunning impact, will have an effect upon the 1954 elections, still almost a year away, is a question on which political experts are divided.

One thing that is certain, however, is that it will provide a background that will make the coming session of Congress the most bitter held on Capitol Hill in a long time, and it may jeopardize President Eisenhower's legislative program.

Democratic politicians charge that Attorney General Brownell made public the top-secret records of the White case in order to halt the swing of the political pendulum as reflected in the New Jersey and Wisconsin elections.

Plans for Receiving Over 600 Youth Delegates Are Underway

George Salinger, Chairman of the Reception and Guides Committee for the 64th Annual Older Boys' Conference being held in Newton, December 4, 5, and 6, has announced that plans for receiving the 600 youth delegates are well underway.

A meeting was held on Monday, November 16, 1953, at the Newton Police Station and the various tasks relating to the conference were discussed by and assigned to various committee members. The committee will arrange for suitable conference parking, have signs placed at major vantage points to Newton, and in general make sure the delegates are welcomed to the city as well as helping them to better find their way to Newton. Mrs. Robert Brandt of the Newton Red Cross Motor Corps will be responsible for transporting the boys from the YMCA where they register to the host homes on Friday, to the home again

Friday evening and then provide transportation for the delegates after the dance on Saturday evening.

Members of the committee are: Mrs. Archibald G. Barron, Mrs. Robert Brandt of the Newton Red Cross Motor Corps, Mr. Dwight Colburn, Dr. Herbert G. Dunphy, Mr. Philip A. Enholm, Mr. Lawrence W. MacDonald, Mr. Warren W. Oliver, and Mr. Philip Purcell, Chief of Newton Police. Also aiding the committee are Sergeant Dowling of the Newton Police and Mr. George Buckley.

The Colonial Room of the Newton YMCA is the operating headquarters of the committee, and members will be present Friday to receive and aide the youth. The Older Boys' Conference is being jointly sponsored by the Newton YMCA and the Massachusetts - Rhode Island YMCA.

Italian Group Approves Ward Line Change Uniting Nonantum

The proposed changes in Newton's ward lines—especially with respect to Nonantum—were endorsed last Thursday night by the United Italo-American Organization of Newton at a meeting in Columbus Hall, Newton.

The new plan would place all of Nonantum in Ward 1. At present, the dividing line between Wards 1 and 2 runs along Chapel

Middle and Adams streets, dividing the Nonantum community in half. Under the new ward system, which must be approved by the state legislature, the Silver Lake area would be included in Ward 1.

Chairman. Carmen Vitti reported that out of 21 candidates endorsed by the Italo-American group, 15 were elected. This included the winning candidates for mayor, seven out of eight endorsed for alderman-at-large, all but one approved for school committee, but only two of six ward aldermen.

Mr. Vitti revealed that the establishment of a pay station for gas, electric and telephone bills in Nonantum is "90 per cent sure," probably at a drug store. Coming events listed for the organization were: December 1, Christmas party and election by St. Anthony Society at Columbus Hall; December 8, Christmas party by Newton Auxiliary, Italian-American World War II Veterans at the club house; Dec.

Work Continuing On Reconstruction Of Watertown St.

As work continues on another portion of the street, Watertown street was opened to passenger car traffic from West Newton Square to Chapel street, Newton, last week.

That section of the street was opened following reconstruction in concrete of the roadway from West Newton Square to near Eden avenue, West Newton. Concrete is being poured on the lower end of Watertown street between Chapel street and the Watertown line. The piece-by-piece reconstruction of the street, one of the most heavily traveled in Newton, is being done under the Chapter 90 agreement, which provides sharing of the cost by county, city and state.

Confirm Death of Auburndale GI Listed as Escaped by Reds

Confirming an unofficial account given by a repatriated war prisoner from Boston, the Army notified the family of an Auburndale soldier last Thursday that he had died in a North Korean prison camp from malnutrition in November, 1950.

The family of Master Sgt. Richard A. Haley of 22 Charles street, Auburndale, was informed by the Adjutant General that the sergeant's death had been reported by several prisoners of war who had been imprisoned with him at the time.

An unofficial version of Sgt. Haley's death had previously been given to his aunt, Mrs. Ann Foristall, and his brother, Leo, by a returned POW, Cpl. Stanley J. Kostegan of Boston. Cpl. Kostegan credited the sergeant with saving his life during a "death march" to the North Korean prison camp, and stated he thought the strain might have contributed to his final illness.

Although no word had been received from him, hope that the soldier was alive had been revived when the Communists listed him as having escaped from his imprisonment. Actually, however, he was dead when the Reds made the announcement.

A career soldier, Sgt. Haley joined the Army in 1937. He participated in the D-Day invasion of France and won the Bronze Star while serving in Germany. Following occupation duty in Europe, he went to the Far East in 1949.

The letter confirming his death follows:

"I am writing you concerning your brother, Master Sergeant Richard A. Haley, who became missing in action in Korea on 12 July 1950, and later reported by the Communists as having escaped while in their custody.

American prisoners of war who were released by the Communists have been interrogated to obtain information about other missing persons. This information is being compiled and associated with the records of the personnel concerned. These statements are analyzed carefully and evaluated in an effort to make a correct determination in each case.

14 Waban Residents Object To Gardening Firm Petition

Expressing fear that the establishment of a retail market would soon follow, 14 Waban residents opposed a request by the Boston Gardening Company to build a receiving room, at a hearing Thursday night in City Hall.

Two other requests for variances to the zoning laws sought in Newton and Newton Highlands, also drew the opposition of abutters. The hearing was conducted by the Claims and Rules committee of the aldermen. The Boston Gardening Company's petition would enable the firm to enclose a currently uncovered platform which is used for packaging and storing of food, explained former State Rep. Loomis Patrick, who represented the company. He stated that the company, located at 565 Chestnut street, Waban, would abide by any restrictions placed upon it by the aldermen.

Seven employees of the company also appeared in favor of granting the firm's petition.

The 14 residents who registered their opposition were led by former alderman Kenneth D. McCutcheon of 518 Chestnut street. He stated that Waban residents were afraid the company might open a retail outlet on the site.

Eighteen people were opposed to the request of Isadore Ludwin for permission to use a house at 115 Jewett street, Newton, as an apartment building. Mary A. Sheridan of 145 Jewett street, leader of the opposition, presented a petition signed by 43 residents.

Representing Mr. Ludwin was Elliot Rosenberg, who told the aldermen that the house was registered with the OPA in 1944 as a 5-family dwelling. The price paid recently by Mr. Ludwin for the house, Mr. Rosenberg explained, was based on the assumption he would be able to use it as an apartment dwelling.

The third petition opposed was that of Philip Ditch for a variance of front and rear lot line requirements for the construction of a house at the corner of Selwyn road and Park drive, Newton Highlands.

Petitions which were unopposed were those of Carmine Battaglini for the subdivision of land at the corner of Dearborn and Cleveland streets, West Newton, into two lots; Norma E. Cummings for permission to construct a porch and vestibule at 6 McCarty road, Oak Hill park; and Virginia Powers for changing the single family dwelling at 250 Austin street, Newtonville, into a two-family dwelling.

3 Fellowship Meals Planned At 'Y' Older Boys Conference

Charles E. Smith, chairman of the Luncheons and Banquet Committee for the Massachusetts - Rhode Island YMCA and 64th Annual Older Boys' Conference being held in Newton, has announced that his committee is making plans for the serving of three conference meals.

Two of the fellowship meals being held on Friday evening and Saturday noon will be served at the following places: Newton Methodist Church, 100 boys; Newtonville Methodist Church, 100 boys; Eliot Congregational Church, 200 boys; and Newton YMCA, 200 boys. The Saturday evening banquet will be held in the Newton High School gymnasium. This will be a catered banquet.

The committee will purchase all food for the fellowship meals and then distribute it to the place of serving. Newton Hi-Y members will transport the food. Committee members serving with Mr. Smith are Mrs. Grace McPhee, Mrs. Fred Hawkins, Mrs. Alex R. Miller, Mr. William Hopkins and Mr. John Danielson.

Other plans for the conference are now shaping up. To date, approximately 550 beds for youth delegates have been offered by Newton residents. The Newton Division of Instruction is making a welcome sign to place over the entrance to the YMCA. Plans for reception of the delegates are nearing completion. This Older Boys' Conference is the oldest continuing youth assembly anywhere in America.

Colby Thresher Wins H. V. Jones Memorial Trophy

The Howard V. Jones Memorial Trophy, given in the memory of a founder-member and former secretary of the Waban Baseball Associates was presented to B. Colby Thresher, 16, of 667 Chestnut street, son of Rep. Irene K. Thresher, at the Associates' annual fall meeting at the home of President Cyrus Y. Ferris.

Ira M. Conant, chairman of the Memorial Trophy Committee, made the presentation. This trophy is annually awarded to the Waban youth who best exemplifies the ideals of the late Howard V. Jones. Thresher coached the Newton South Little League champion Waban Braves and also managed the Waban Redskins, the Braves' farm team and winner of the South Minor League crown during the past season.

A new award, the Waban Chiefs Trophy, was presented to Robert Sade, 14, of 815 Chestnut street, for "outstanding qualities of ability, hard work and consistent attendance." The award was made to Sade, Chiefs' infielder and pitcher, by Donald Richardson and Thomas Lamb, Jr., manager and coach respectively of —TROPHY— (Continued on Page 10)

Address May Settle Rumors About Future

The Newton Republican City Committee and the Newton Republican Club are pleased to announce that Senator Leverett Saltonstall, United States Senator from Massachusetts, will be their guest of honor and will give a major address in Newton Friday, December 11, at 8:30 p.m. at the Normandie Room in Norumbega Park.

The Executive Boards of the Newton Republican City Committee and of the Newton Republican Club are completing final plans for this important event.

The public is invited to attend. The Massachusetts senator was reported ready to resign his seat by a Boston newspaper Monday, supposedly because of ill health following a chest operation October 27 at the New England Baptist Hospital.

However, the story brought immediate denials from Dr. Conrad Wesselhoef, who performed the operation, and from Sen. Saltonstall himself. The senator branded the report as "completely unfounded." ... I in —ADDRESS— (Continued on Page 10)

Says "Protestantism in Newton Must Have Channel to Express"

"If Protestantism in Newton is to remain a major factor in the central scene, it will have to have a channel through which to express itself; the channel is the Newton Council of Churches," stated Robert Mitchell, president, at the "Workshop" for the delegates of the twenty-four member churches held in Trinity Church parish house November 12.

The meeting, called by the Executive Board to acquaint the delegates with the activities and plans of the Council, included an explanation of its work, reports from chairmen of departments and committees, and a general question and suggestion period.

Prayer and scripture reading, given by the Rev. John Balcom, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Newton Highlands, opened the meeting. Mrs. Richard H. Lee presented a brief history of the Council, pointing out its affiliation with the State, National, and World Councils of Churches; its activities which could not be undertaken by individual churches, such as the Chaplains, the annual Easter Sunrise Service, the Daily Vacation Church School, the Teacher Training "Workshop," and the Every Member Church Canvass, and its liaison position between the churches and the other community organizations.

The Rev. Sidney Adams, Executive Secretary, gave a statement regarding the physical set-up of the Council and its practical aspects. The Council of Church —PROTESTANT— (Continued on Page 10)

Panel to Discuss Children's Health For Angier P.T.A.

By popular request, the Angier Parent-Teacher Association will present a panel discussion of child health by Waban doctors Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the Waban Neighborhood Club.

The P.T.A.'s program committee has chosen five specialists from the many physicians residing in Waban to make up the panel. They will discuss the prevention and cure of children's ailments.

The panel was chosen with the advice and cooperation of the P.T.A.'s health committee chairman, Dr. Robert P. McCombs, who will also be one of the panelists. President Edward C. Uehlein will interpret the layman's viewpoint and will act as moderator of the forum.

Win Assures A 3-Way Tie for Coveted Title

A first place 3-way tie for first place in schoolboy football's Class A division is at stake when Newton's undefeated and untied Tigers storm into Town Field in Brookline for the traditional 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day clash with the Wealthy Towners.

A victory for the Orange and Black would assure no less than a tie with Weymouth and Lowell for the Class A leadership, despite the fact that the other two schools would wind up their seasons with a slight point lead under the sports writers rating system.

However, the writers, foreseeing such a possibility earlier in the season, voted to split the championship among the unbeaten teams in Class A, instead of going by the point averages.

Brookline, which began the season with encouraging prospects, will be fighting for a .500 average for the year. To date, the Wealthy Towners have won three while losing four. Two of their defeats were suffered at the hands of teams beaten by Newton. Watertown was swamped by Newton, 28-13, and then the boys from across the river dropped Brookline, 25-13. Waltham, edged by the Orange and Black in their 32-31 hair-raiser, nosed out Brookline 7-6.

Off the season's records, Newton ranks a solid favorite to an —GAME— (Continued on Page 10)

Editor, Newton Graphic:
May I take this opportunity to express thru your paper my deep appreciation to the many people who have worked so tirelessly with me in my successful campaign for the Republican nomination for Representative from the fourth Middlesex District.
I appreciate the confidence that these workers, and the voters, have placed in me. I assure everyone that I will work diligently to merit your trust by giving the same capable, efficient representation to state affairs, that I have demonstrated locally through nine years of service on the Newton Board of Aldermen.
In the interest of the Republican party, we are entering the critical period of this special election, for it is of paramount importance to Governor Herter and his program, that a Republican represent this district. We strongly urge that you work with this knowledge in view, for we must continue a vigorous campaign until election day, Tuesday December 8.
It has been a pleasure to be a candidate in the special primary, November 17. It will be a pleasure to be a Republican Representative from Newton's fourth Middlesex district, after the Special election December 8.

Newton 'Treasure Houses'
Editor, Newton Graphic:
The column by Edith Arnold (on the city's libraries) is short and invigorating. It makes you stop and think and realize the truthfulness that a library is a great treasure. We all know what a "library" is, but how many of us would ever think of describing it as a "Treasure House," which in fact it is.
In going a step forward and without exaggeration, The Graphic too, column after column, is a "treasure."

God bless our Newton! It is so grand, so spacious, so wonderful, so judiciously named and portioned that to know it, to see it, is a treasure in itself.
And this space, in which tens of thousands live, East, West, North and South, is interestingly bound together in just a few pages of The Graphic. It seems we all know one another—this is a great treasure, too.
DAVID BADEN

EXTENDS THANKS
Editor, The Newton Graphic:
I wish to extend my sincere thanks to those voters in the Fourth Middlesex District who came out on Tuesday to nominate me as the Democratic candidate for State Representative in the Special Election on December 8.
I am most proud of this nomination. It is due to the enthusiasm and the hard work of many workers who helped in this stage of the campaign.
Now I am confident that every open-minded voter in this District will realize the advantages to Newton of two-party representation on Beacon Hill and on December 8 the Democratic party will have its first victory in this district.

Assign Corpus Christi Pastor To St. Joseph's

Rev. Thomas F. Murphy, pastor of Corpus Christi Church in Auburndale since 1945, assumed the pastorate of St. Joseph's of Belmont Tuesday, and Rev. John L. Johnson of St. Mary's of Holliston was assigned to take over the Auburndale parish.

Fr. Murphy, 61, a native of Watertown, was shifted to the Belmont church to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Francis V. Cummings. A graduate of Boston College, he was ordained in 1918 and spent more than 15 years as an assistant at Immaculate Conception Church in Malden.
He later served as curate at St. Joseph's of Roxbury and St. Joseph's of Wakefield. Fr. Murphy was appointed pastor of St. Mary of the Assumption in Nantasket in 1942, and was transferred to the Auburndale pastorate in 1945.

The new Corpus Christi pastor was born in South Boston, attended Boston College, and was ordained a priest in Rome in 1924. During World War II, he volunteered for duty as an Army chaplain. Previously he had served as an assistant at St. Monica's, South Boston; St. Francis DeSales, Charlestown; St. Margaret's, Brockton; and St. Joseph's, Belmont.

After the war he was an assistant at St. Andrew's of Forest Hills, and in 1948 became pastor of the Holliston Church.

Roland Hayes to Be Soloist at Glee Club Concert December 8

Tuesday, December 8, at 8:15 p.m. in the Newton High School Auditorium the Highland Glee Club will present its first home concert of the 1953-1954 season.

Roland Hayes, tenor, one of the great artists of our day will be presented as soloist that evening. For many years as a recitalist of first rank it has not been his custom to appear in concert performance with oratorio societies or choral groups, but he graciously and gladly consented to join his thrilling talents with the Highland club on this occasion, having high praise for the chorus from past auditions.

Mr. Hayes has had a career of great achievement in the creation and expression of song since his early years as the barefoot boy; of a slave-born mother. Some of those years spent in choir work in Newton have made him well known personally to many who have enjoyed his effortless and resonant mastery of tone and style.

Roland Hayes comes to Newton in the midst of an active season, having recently returned from a national tour to move on to a Town Hall concert in New York. Early next February he will entertain an international audience on a tour of European concert halls. It is an unusual opportunity in this city to hear an artist of exceptional resources.

The Glee Club also takes a personal pride and interest in Mr. Hayes' accompanist. Reginald Boardman served in that position also with the male chorus at one time in its forty-five years of continuous activity and a short time ago the club presented him as assisting solo artist at a local concert.

The program of the choristers, which is the 99th subscription performance as it passes along in its forty-sixth season, will be under the colorful direction of D. Ralph Maclean and will be accompanied by James Gray. A program of contrasted selections will be offered and will include some music in recognition of the Christmas season.

The Highland Glee Club concerts are open to the public.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club of Newton will hold a regular meeting at the Hunnewell Club at 10 o'clock, Wednesday, December 2. Hostesses for this meeting will be Mrs. Warner Eustis and Mrs. H. William Kugler.

The guest speaker for the occasion will be Mr. Henry Suld, who is in his fourth year at Andover-Newton Theological Seminary. Mr. Suld's original home was in Esthonia, whence he fled to Sweden before the advance of the Russians.

Letter Carriers on the March

The United States letter carriers, those dependable, persevering, hard-working public servants, deserve a vote of gratitude from the American people for their proposed errand of mercy on behalf of the hundreds of thousands of unfortunate victims of muscular dystrophy. Uncle Sam's men in blue-grey uniforms are preparing to go on a mission which takes them far beyond the call of duty.

After Thanksgiving, each of these public servants, 100,000 members of the National Association of Letter Carriers, supported by their national president, William C. Doherty, will take on the added burden of re-walking his route to pick up contributions to aid victims of muscular dystrophy, a fatal disease. These funds are vitally needed to find a treatment and cure to save the lives of those afflicted by this dread crippling and fatal malady. Victims of this mysterious killer are principally children.

Heading the "Letter Carriers March" is U. S. Postmaster General Arthur E. Sommerfield, who says of his men:

"A letter carrier on his daily rounds sees the joys and sorrows of those he serves. He sees the normal healthy child run and play. Then he is faced with the tragic sight of another child, wheelchairbound and dying by inches of muscular dystrophy.

"Some of our postal employees have children, relatives, and friends who are victims of this dread disease. Consequently, they know first hand the tragedy of this dread and mysterious affliction which is 100 percent fatal.

"To aid those stricken with muscular dystrophy, the letter carriers of the nation, who so faithfully serve the public by delivering the mail are gladly and voluntarily putting in extra time after hours to collect the funds we feel certain generous Americans will want to give to this worthy cause."

It is up to the American public to support the efforts of these fine men who are giving so unselfishly of their time to help the nation's ailing children. Give generously when your letter carrier calls. If you should miss your letter carrier, you may send your donation to M. D. A., care of your local Postmaster.

Political Overtones

They concede it to be a highly successful political maneuver which dealt a damaging blow to the Democratic party, but they assert that some of the tactics employed violate procedures and ethics which have been followed up to now.

The Democratic leaders weren't surprised that Brownell, a partisan Republican figure, resorted to any move at his disposal. The development which made the greatest impact upon both them and the people came when FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover lined up on the side of Attorney General Brownell and against ex-President Truman under whom he served for nearly eight years.

Hoover, they feel, not only assumed the role of witness for one side in a political controversy but departed from his own role against publicly disclosing his activities and documents connected with his work.

It was Hoover's testimony which turned the tide in the battle of words between former President Truman and Attorney General Brownell, and it was his statements, in effect directly challenging those of Mr. Truman, which more than anything else shaped public opinion.

You may not hear the last of this matter for months, and it is certain to have reverberations on the halls of Congress in 1954.

One thing it demonstrates is how swiftly the political tide can shift. Less than a month ago, the Republicans were jittery, the Democrats confident. Now the Democrats have been shaken, and the Republicans are jubilant. The political picture may undergo numerous changes before the people go to the polls for the 1954 election.

Friends of State Public Works Commissioner John A. Volpe report that he has definite political ambitions and that he would seek the Republican nomination for either Governor or Lieutenant Governor, if the opportunity presented itself in the future.

Community Service

A Community Thanksgiving service, under the auspices of the churches of Newtonville and West Newton, is scheduled for Central Congregational Church, 218 Walnut street, Newtonville, on Thanksgiving Day at 9:30 in the morning.

The preacher is to be the Rev. John W. Brush, D.D., of Andover Newton Theological School, whose topic is titled "Three Notes for Thanksgiving." Several of the ministers of the participating churches are sharing the leadership of worship. The offering will go to the Church World Service.

The cooperating churches are Central Congregational, the Church of the Open Word, the Methodist and St. John's Episcopal, in Newtonville; Lincoln Park Baptist, Myrtle Baptist, Mt. Zion Baptist, Second (Congregational), and Unitarian, in West Newton.

Commissioner Volpe, however, would have to show a much lesser disposition to ride roughshod over the opinions of anyone who disagrees with him before this observer would consider him temporarily fitted to hold any high public office.

The manner in which Volpe has brushed aside objections to destroying sections of Chinatown and the leather and garment districts to make way for the Boston Central Artery, has been little short of outrageous.

If Boston municipal officials can produce a reasonably satisfactory plan for running the artery through the Atlantic avenue-South Station area, avoiding the destruction of taxable property and the displacement of business, public sentiment probably will force State officials to adopt it.

But it shouldn't be necessary to wage a pitched battle in order to save an important section of Boston from being wrecked, and the possibility of running the artery over or under Atlantic avenue should have been thoroughly studied by the State long ago.

While many statements have been made that Commissioner Volpe is considering the artery project strictly from an engineering standpoint and is ignoring other factors of vital consequence to the city, the fact is that Volpe has had little road-building experience except that which he has acquired during the past six months.

Volpe was in the contracting business before he assumed his present post at the head of the State public works department, but as far as this writer has been able to ascertain he engaged mostly in construction work and not in highway building.

It would seem that anyone whose experience in road construction is as limited as that of Volpe would give great weight to the opinions of Boston's Mayor Hynes, Public Works Commissioner Hyland and various other groups which have waited upon him with suggestions and proposals.

So far there hasn't been much evidence that Volpe attached any substantial weight to anybody's opinions but his own. His attitude certainly hasn't been one that would commend him for election to any public office, much less that of Governor.

Despatches from Albany report that the opening salvoes already have been fired in the campaign to elect Congressman Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., as the next Governor of New York.

The election is still almost a year away, but the Democratic politicians are jubilant over the prospect of having another Roosevelt at the head of their State ticket and are moving into battle prematurely.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

When seven armed bandits entered his store in Johannesburg, South Africa, Grocer James Christopher immediately opened fire with a volley of two-pound cans of lemon drops. He put them to flight after scoring six direct hits.

Advertising his truck in the for-sale column of the Newport News, Va., Press, Jim Elliott described the vehicle in this fashion: "Perfect condition except rear end roars and grinds to deafening, nerve-wracking extent. Leaks grease, uses oil excessively, engine knocks, erratic steering, no stability on road, brakes grab, water leaks out. Will sell as is—no guarantee." Mr. Elliott certainly wasn't trying to fool anybody.

Chevrolet Dealer Bernard Hill of Wickenburg, Ariz., had his show room decorated with wallpaper showing old-model automobiles, was red-faced with embarrassment when he discovered after the job was done that the old cars were all Fords.

Describing the romance which culminated in his marriage to a 78-year-old woman, Paul Wilson, 84, of Hamilton, Ont., told reporters: "We met in the park just four weeks ago. I was sitting on a bench when I noticed a woman beside me. As I turned to look, she winked."

While Peter Schroder of Cape Town, South Africa, was playing hooky from school, he rescued a marooned kitten from a 60-foot pine tree. He was given a $1.50 reward by the kitten's owner, medal by the Animal Welfare Society and a painful thrashing by his headmaster on his return to school. Decried the headmaster: "Peter is a hero, but if he plays truant, he must also take his medicine."

Gathering up the $1263 he had taken on gunpoint from Los Angeles Grocery Clerk George Albert, the holdup man soothingly remarked: "It don't look like a lot, but you can report it as $10,000. If they catch me, I'll confess so that sum. Are you happy? I'll confess to that sum. Are you happy?"

Ever since we were young, we have wondered what the outcome would be of a battle between a lion and tiger. A fight to death between a circus lioness and a tiger occurred last week at Milan, Italy, and the lioness was torn to pieces by the tiger.

Japanese railroad engineers will let off a little steam today in their campaign for a raise in pay. At noon they will blow the whistles of 5,000 locomotives for a full minute.

A team of surgeons reported in Chicago last week that they had used a "frozen sleep" treatment which enables them to drain and slice open the hearts of human patients so they could see and repair defects inside. The freezing technique drops body temperatures 20 to 28 degrees.

... An Old-Fashioned Thanksgiving in 1848 ...

At the Jackson Homestead

As Told Long Ago by One of the Family

Dear children, I wish you could look back with me into the dear old Kitchen Thanksgiving week. Grandmother and "The Girls" hadn't a minute to spare then. "The Girls" were Aunt "Kee" (Lucretia), Aunt "Cutty" (Caroline), Aunt "Pell" (Ellen), and Aunt "Frank" (Frances).

"Aunt Mouse" was too young to be trusted with much, but she could pick raisins off the stems. How gladly we all would have had a hand in the wonderful doings. As it was, we could only open the doors a little way and peep through the cracks, and then shout back to the rest of the children, "O my! The pies are going into the oven!" and then every child of them would strain to look through the door.

I think Grandmother would have let the whole horde of us rush in, for we're never in Grandmother's way; but this "getting ready" was mighty business to "The Girls," and they could not have us under their feet. There was the meat to chop, and the apple to chop, the raisins to boil and then to chop; the citron to chop; and all to be mixed and seasoned. O, the good things that went into that seasoning!

Grandmother would taste, "A little more salt."

"Luck" would taste, "I think it ought to be sweeter."

Pell would dip a spoon in, and taste, and Frank would taste, and each would suggest something, but say,

"My! Isn't it good!"

O, if we children could only taste, too, but our good time was coming. Grandmother would see to that. When every pie was filled, then we might draw a finger all around the inside of the great red earthen pan and then lap our fingers with a gusto; and how the boy would gloat over his luck if he could scrape a "big lot" onto his finger; but this was after the pies were in the big brick oven. Then, and only then, could the girls breathe content.

Aunt Cutty would put a pie on the shovel and push that by the long handle away to the back of the oven; then another pie and another till there was no more room. As I remember, the great oven was expected to bake forty pies at a time. I know it seemed to us immense and mysterious.

The mince pies — forty in all — were made early in the week; the cranberry, whenever they could be. How beautiful they were, with no top crust, but the rich crimson color showing out between the diamonds and the scrolls that Duck made with delicate strips of crust. We children looked at those pies with wonder and admiration. Thorwaldson, with his moldings of clay, could not have commanded more adoration than we had for our Genius. By Wednesday night all the apple and squash pies must be done, for Thursday morning was hurrying time for the great dinner, which must be served by two.

That was a dreadfully late time for dinner but Mr. Gilbert must preach at West Newton and all his family take the sleigh after church. We little Gilbert girls were allowed to carry our dolls to meeting under our cloaks, and O! the trembling joy of walking up the long aisle to the minister's pew, and feeling if people only knew what we had under our coats! Of course, the dolls must go to Thanksgiving at Grandmother's.

Then Uncle Lewis Hall was in the choir of his church, and he and his family must have a long time to drive way up from East Cambridge. The dinner must be late. All men folks went to church; but of course the women en, i.e., those who were to have guests, could not go on any account.

The old pantry then was a good sight to see. Everything had been shoved aside to make room for pies and pies and pies. Every shelf — reachable — was covered with rows of them. We children would flock into the pantry, and gaze in admiration, and count them over and over — so many mince (they were the royal pies), so many cranberry, so many apple, and so many golden squash.

Thanksgiving morning, that dear old kitchen was a hall of plenty. Always through the winter a line across the room was hung with "crooked neck" squash, and their golden color made them a gorgeous decoration; but on Thanksgiving morning everything was color. There were tables of pies in array already for serving; the pudding Grandmother was making at another table with no sparing of good things; the girls were preparing the turkey and making ready the vegetables. Plenty everywhere!

Plenteousness was necessary to call forth the true Thanksgiving spirit, which on this day was full of thankfulness for the abundance with which God had blessed our dear land.

Frank might be beating the butter and sugar together for pudding sauce to complete the glory of Grandmother's masterpiece. It could not be beaten too much. Mouse could chop the heart and gizzards for giblet gravy, and I think Bill would even assist at that, though he was not too much a man to join us "children" in most things — i.e., in our plays. He must have been quite seventeen on this Thanksgiving day of which I am especially reminded.

Cranberries had been stewed the day before but there was bread to be cut, tables to set, pickles — Grandmother's special stuffed mangoes — oyster sauce for the boiled turkey — so many things and so much to do. Every grown person was hurrying to and fro, and gradually order was evolved, and O, with what beautiful results. Of course, I was not an eye witness to all this, but keen reporters were on hand.

O, the ecstatic glow when our sleigh whirled into the yard. The horse himself knew it was a festive time and pranced gaily up to the door, sleighbells tinkling, and then what a greeting! All the household rushed to the door and shouted welcome. That we did for each new arrival. Uncle Tim and his family had long been on hand. They only had to come from over the way, but now the Fullers were coming with Uncle Henry's handsome horse. His horses were always fine creatures.

Aunt Sarah had been to Elliot Church, so she made an early appearance at the Homestead, and the Halls earlier than you would have thought possible from so far away; but such a sleigh-load of lively people might make any horse do his best. Soon all had arrived, and then what merry laughing and talking there was from that time on. I think the old walls must still be holding some of the merriment for they still inspire "Good Times."

Then came the procession to the dining room and no royal progress ever commanded more rapturous attention than we children with open eyes gave the incoming troop.

Uncle Ed triumphantly bore the huge turkey aloft. That was the roast one. I think Bill brought the boiled one. Another came bearing the steaming chicken pie.

The girls, one after another, carried potatoes, squash, turnip, cranberry sauce, giblet gravy and oyster sauce. Celery was already ornamenting the table. Truly those groaned with abundance. It was easy to be thankful.

There was one long table in the old sitting room made festive enough, one would think, by windows filled with blooming plants through which the sunbeams were playing, and there were, besides, two square tables, the one in the front corner for the "Young Folks" and the other by the secretary, surrounded by the little things whose mothers had made them as pretty as possible. Indeed, we granddaughters all had new gowns that gave us an undertone of proud happiness with all the gaiety.

The "Old Folks" — i.e., Grandfather in the center, and Grandmother viza-viz, with their children and their children's consorts round about the board — were at the long table. On this particular Thanksgiving day the newly-engaged couples — "Key" and Henry B. Williams and Aunt Mary and Charles Curtis — were not expected to do any serving, but to be served with honor. How ancient they at the long table seemed to us "Young Folks," yet they joked just as much as we did, and every joke brought a merry shout. What was wanting in wit was made up in laughter, but, indeed, the wit was no mean affair. It could not be where Uncle Tim was! And Bill and others had often spiced speech. They were bright people about that table, and Grandfather looked proudly around on his family. Forty-two of us were gathered in that room.

Ah! After the reverent grace, you should have seen our grand-sire when he stood up to carve the mighty turkey. He sharpened his knife anew; and then went to work with a will. He was a masterly carver. He cut off the wings; he slashed off the drumsticks, and divided the joints; carved slices from the breast, and slit off the wishbone; parted the neck (that was always Uncle Tim's choice), easily separated the side bones with their delicate dark meat; spooned out the stuffing; "broke the back;" and then in no time delivered light or dark meat, drumsticks, or wings on the plates ranged around, passing each in turn to Grandmother, saying "There, Mother," and she heaped upon it all the vegetables and cranberry sauce, while married daughters lent their aid in helping to graves.

Uncle Tim sat at one end of the table and helped from the huge chicken pie and some son-in-law carved the boiled turkey. "Everyone ate all he could, and then would say, 'I must have a little of that boiled turkey. It looks too tempting to leave.'"

"Well, I can't go through Thanksgiving without testing Mother's chicken pie."

"My! Mother, but this beats any yet!"

There was much laughing when little Mary Gilbert passed her plate the third time for squash and would eat nothing else. Her dinner was finished; older people were not so wise.

At length, all declared that they could really eat no more, for Grandmother's smoking pudding had been brought in on a lordly dish, amid unbounded applause; and, of course, everyone had taken a piece of that, and so to speak, smacked his lips over it, and then the girls brought in four kinds of pie and flanked the plum pudding with the tempting things; so that one said, "Well, Mother, I'm full, but just give me a sliver of that mince pie, and you might add a mouthful of that squash." And others followed suit.

The little ones were soon through and playing in the entry. Aunt Frank, looking so pretty, had seen to their wants. Next, the young folks left in haste to play "Old Bear" on the stairs, and at last the elders could do no more. Some adjourned for a run to help digestion; Grandfather and the older men to tell stories around the parlor fire. "The Married Girls" cleared the table and washed the dishes, while the unmarried ate the long-delayed dinner. It had been a hard working day for them. Grandmother rested.

Great was the shouting in the halls. Full liberty reigned on that day, and no child was hushed.

"Old Bear" was our special Thanksgiving game. The old bear would hide in the back up stairs entry, or in one of the four small chambers — all pitch dark and we children, gathered in Grandmother's room would creep down the stairs warily into the darkness of the backhall. I remember how I thrilled over the bravery of Steve and Will Gilbert as they heroically pressed forward to meet the enemy, while trembling, stood on one foot, the rear ready to run the moment we heard a growl and caught the first one he could, while the escaping ones fled to the light. The one who was caught became the bear in the next raid. I was always glad to be the bear, for it was better to be alone in the dark than to be sprung on and startled. The "Rag Closet" (now the Box Closet) was a favorite hiding place for the bear. These were the days when the tire peddler's cart came around a regular times, and rags — sold by the pound — were exchanged for bright tin-ware. Then the rags in the household were carefully saved, and assorted into white and colored. Just before the time for the coming of the peddler there would be a high pile of rags in the closet, and we would bury ourselves in those rags; and so, finely hidden from view, could wait for our best chance to pounce on the victim.

One Thanksgiving Day, late in the afternoon, I was

Miss Bergstrom and Mr. Harris Marry at Double Ring Ceremony

At Marsh Chapel, Boston University, Nov. 14, Miss Evelyn Mae Bergstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Philip Bergstrom of Millbury, became the bride of Mr. Roger Williams Harris, son of Mrs. Gorham W. pink, and both wore white orchids.

Thanksgiving

the afternoon, we were all summoned to the parlor. Grandfather and Grandmother occupied seats of honor, while others sat anywhere, or stood in the doorway. I wondered when I saw my mother and Aunt Sarah sitting side by side, near the fireplace, for Mother was blushing, and Aunt Sarah was holding a written sheet of paper in her hand. Nearby, and no one was allowed to sit in it, stood Grandfather's great grandfather's chair. It was usually placed by the wall.

Aunt Sarah read aloud "The Old Armchair," which "you all know now, but it was a surprise to me. I looked at Mother with astonishment and pride, and said to myself.

"She is a poet! Wonderful!" Truly, I think Grandfather was as proud for shortly afterwards he had the poem printed and gave it around to his friends and relatives.

The next year, the scene was almost repeated for then Mother had written "The Daguerrotype" and that was read.

I think this reading quieted us all for soon we said goodbye and drove away to our homes, sighing to think we must wait a whole year before such a glorious day would come again.

Arriving at home we could eat no supper, for, truth to tell, we had hied to the storeroom from time to time just for "a taste" of those "splendid pies" not that we were hungry, but we could not neglect such a wonderful privilege as we were allowed on this day of days. We might delve right into the midst of the finest pie there and just think — we need not eat the crust, if we did not want to; though why it could be a privilege not to eat that delicious flaky crust, none could tell.

I have neglected to say that Grandmother made a hundred pies, that she might have where to give liberally to all — the poor and lonely — as a token of fellowship and love. The day before, the children were sent forth as almoners, in all directions, to carry the baskets heaped with good things.

One year, Grandfather loaded his sleigh with a full Thanksgiving dinner and drove to the Poor House. There he dined with the inmates and by merry jests and genial conversation brightened their day; then came back home to enjoy his home festival with his children.

That was before the days of the great immigration and there were but seventeen inmates at the Poor House. They were of feeble mind or "Wanting" as the expression went, and victims of intemperance.

Since great benevolent societies are of recent birth, that benevolence was unpracticed and unknown to our forefathers — or so the present generation is apt to think; but in those days every man knew his neighbor, and no one was allowed to suffer want.

In later years, Grandfather had a tree with presents on it for the grandchildren on Thanksgiving afternoon, and placed it between the nursery door and the fireplace.

MISS SALLIE D. GILBERT

Those of you who read this tale of Thanksgiving "long ago" — whether you be "Old Folks," "Young Folks," or "little things" — please remember that the Old Homestead still stands to welcome you, as of old, through its front door. Its walls are still rich with memories of the laughter, the heroism, and the kindness that graced it for centuries.

Will you not visit us and see the great kitchen fireplace, and the old brick oven where Grandmother baked her mince pies — forty at a time — the dining room where forty-two sat at a sitting; the spacious halls where the children merrily played "Old Bear"; the parlor where the family poems were read; and the yard into which the horses pranced with their sleigh loads of Thanksgiving joy.

We will welcome you there!

USV Regional Convention Held On Weekend, Temple Emanuel

Temple Emanuel of Newton was host to the annual Regional United Synagogue Youth Convention last Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The theme of the Convention was "Hebrew As a Second Language for American Jewish Youth."

Youth delegates representing Conservative Synagogues in the New England area attended the three-day conclave which began with an opening program Friday, at 6:00 p.m., in the Temple Community Hall, followed by Sabbath Services in the Temple proper. Guest speaker at the regular Sabbath Eve Service was Rabbi M. David Weiss of Congregation Kehillath Israel, Brookline whose sermon subject was, "Our Common Bond."

In addition to the Friday Eve program, Sabbath Morning Services were also held, as well as Panel discussions, song and dance workshops and a Saturday night Social. Three workshops and a Regional Plenary Business Session took place Sunday morning. The closing banquet was held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

Convention Chairman was Miss Nancy Nelson of Temple Emanuel, Newton. The following members of the Committee were in charge of details: Programing, Sheila Wagner, Temple Beth Hillel, Dorchester; Publicity, Matthew Gilfix, Temple Kehillath Israel, Brookline; Food, Judith Armet and Dena Evans, Temple Emanuel, Newton; Housing, Joan Anne Rotman, Temple Emanuel, Newton; Convention Newspaper, Sheila Falke, Temple Beth Hillel, Dorchester; Registration, Eleanor Levinson, Temple Kehillath Israel.

The Regional President of New England United Synagogue Youth was Elliot Somers. Advisors to the group were Rabbi M. David Weiss, Assistant Rabbi of Congregation Kehillath Israel, and Mr. Sigmund J. Hellmann, Director of Youth Activities of Temple Emanuel. They were assisted for the weekend by Yochanan Muffs of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America; Mrs. David Weiss; Dr. Martin Goldstein and Cantor Cabriel Hochberg.

the Waban Chiefs, a Newton International League club.

Elected president of the Associates for 1954 was G. Kendrick Bringham, 89 Larchmont avenue, manager of the Waban Braves for the past two seasons. A. Peter Williams was elected vice-president and secretary, and Philip VerPlanck was re-elected treasurer.

Named directors were Donald Richardson, Thomas Lamb, Jr., Norman M. Dow, Harvey Struthers, R. Victor Stout, Vincent M. Wilson and George M. Wile.

Game-

nex its first "un-un" season since 1921. But, as has been proven again and again, nothing is certain in these late-season, traditional pressure games. The Thanksgiving encounters always bring out the best both teams have to offer.

That you cannot judge by past performances was clearly shown last year when a talented Brookline squad was supposed to name its own score at Dickinson Stadium. The Orange and Black neglected to read the visitors' press clippings, though, and forced Brookline to the limit before succumbing 20-14.

This year, all the pressure will be on Newton. Brookline is in the familiar "everything to win and nothing to lose" position, where a win will make its season a success but a loss will be no disgrace. A speedy, clever club, Brookline could give the Tigers a barrel of trouble.

Newton's chances for victory depend upon many things. Three regulars—two of them vital cogs in the Orange and Black gridiron machine—were injured in the spectacular Waltham game.

Halfback Lou Kahlenbeck, whose fantastic running shared the spotlight with Art DeStefano's stellar passing, suffered a severe muscle pull in his right arm and last week carried his arm in a sling as a precautionary measure. Defensive end Ray Achson, one of the best in the state at rushing passers and blocking kicks, wrenched his knee when blocked late in the Waltham game.

The third serious injury was to end Billy Reilly, who suddenly blossomed into a top-notch pass receiver against Waltham. Reilly suffered a broken bone in his right hand when he fell while trying for a long pass.

Erocle Iafate, Newton's hardest-running back, has been subbed for the past few games, while fullback Bobby Lee has been hampered by a severe muscle pull. Iafate should be able to play, but whether Lee can get any mileage from his game leg will remain to be seen.

Ever since the Watertown game, Newton has been relying mainly on an overhead offense, the best play being DeStefano to Kahlenbeck anywhere on the field. With Kahlenbeck in good shape and a dry day, the Orange and Black should score against Brookline, which showed a porous pass defense against Watertown.

Should it rain, however, the Orange and Black would be in tough shape. With Iafate and Lee unable to make the rushing-offense click, Brookline would be in a good spot to pull one of the upsets of the year.

Death-

"Such statements have been received from several men who stated that your brother was captured by the opposing forces on 11 July 1950 at Chochiwon, Korea, and was taken to a prison camp in North Korea. Later he became ill and died during the month of November 1950 as the result of malnutrition. Since the exact date of his death varies, 30 November 1950, the latest date he could have been alive, has been recorded as the date of his death.

"I sincerely regret that this message must carry so much sorrow into your home and I hope that in time you may find sustaining comfort in knowing that he served his country honorably. My deepest sympathy is extended to you in your bereavement.

"Sincerely yours,

Apparent End Of Polio Year

The polio season in Newton has apparently ended, Dr. Ernest M. Morris, director of public health, reveals in his weekly resume of local infantile paralysis cases.

Dr. Morris, in his final resume of the year, stated that no new cases occurred within the city limits last month. The total number for the year, he said, was 19, of which only seven were of the paralytic type.

"The downward trend continues," declared Dr. Morris, referring to the statewide polio trend. "Cases should soon decrease almost to the vanishing point. This adds justification for suggesting the resumption of tonsillectomies and immunizations."

The number of cases reported throughout the state up to November 6 was listed as 518. There were 510 cases last year to the same date.

Fifteen new cases were reported in Massachusetts for the first week in November, compared to eight during the same week in 1952.

Dr. Morris stated that an abrupt drop in the number of cases has been registered throughout the country. States listing the most cases during the final week in October were California, 142; New York, 94; Ohio, 79; and Michigan, 64. The national total for the first 10 months was 32,186, which is almost 20,000 less than the number in 1952.

Women were represented by Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, president, who described its purposes and its three major meetings, World Community Day, World Day of Prayer, and May Fellowship Day, which are observed annually throughout 20,000 communities.

Henry Webster, chairman of the Department of Religious Education, gave a review of the Vacation Church School and the Workshop for Sunday School Teachers, and listed several prospective courses for Protestant laymen and laywomen. The report of Chester Borden, chairman of the United Canvass, pointed out that the fund-raising campaign in Newton, one of the first projects of the Council, has been adopted nationally. Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, chairman of the Public Relations Committee, stated the purpose of the committee as that of relating the public to the power of the Christian religion at all times through press, radio, films, television, and people. The concern of the committee on Civic Affairs, headed by Dr. Thaddeus Krush, will be with trends in Newton, and with the relationship between Protestants, Catholics, and Jews in the community. The International Relations Committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Warren Ault, will undertake an educational program relating the work of the churches to world affairs.

Mr. Edson Fitch, treasurer, gave a statement regarding the collection of funds from the individual churches, and the projects which this income supports. The chaplains to the Fire Department, the Rev. Edge Dixon; to the Homes for the Aged, Mr. Henry Suld; to the Scouts, Mr. Robert Sargent; and to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the Rev. Edgar Helms, were presented and gave brief statements about their work.

Inclosing the meeting, Mr. Mitchell stressed the need of acquainting churches with the record of achievements of the Council, and the obligation of the delegates to carry the information into their individual churches. The benediction was given by the Rev. Hamilton Gifford, minister of the Newtonville Methodist Church.

NEWTON NEEDS A DEMOCRAT COOKE FOR REPRESENTATIVE

Ask Yourself:

Why the "QUICKIE" SPECIAL ELECTION called in violation of the election laws and stopped only by court action of the Democratic candidate Laurence E. Cooke?

Why the TOLL ROAD PLAN to bisect Newton. The unanimous opposition of the City and its Republican representatives has been unable to secure a satisfactory alternative?

Why Newton's North side cannot get an M.D.C. SWIMMING POOL?

The Republican Party is counting on your apathy to send its hand picked candidate to Beacon Hill. I urge you to come out and cast a vote on Tuesday, December 8 for responsible two-party representation for this District.

As your State Representative I guarantee to capably represent all of you on the many matters directly concerning your pocketbooks and your community.
